Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-2107: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on May 31, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on May 31, 1977 which was filed by the Amalgamated Clothing and Textiles Workers' Union on behalf of workers and former workers producing men's sleepwear and ladies' robes at the Uniontown, Pa. plant of the Michael Berkowitz Co., Inc. located on Barton Mill Road in Uniontown, Pa.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 17, 1977 (42 FR 30939). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Michael Berkowitz Co., Inc., the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) that a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) that sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) that articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) that such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Without regard to whether the other criteria have been met, the investigation has revealed that criterion one has not been met.

The Michael Berkowitz Co., Inc. plant located on Barton Mill Road in Uniontown, Pa. produces men's sleepwear and ladies' robes and is integrated with the Uniontown, Pa. plant of Berkowitz located on Route 119.

Average employment at the Barton Mill Road and Route 119 plants increased 8.1 percent in 1976 compared to 1975 and increased 8.5 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared ot the first quarter of 1976. Employment increased in each quarter of 1976 compared to like quarters of 1975. Average weekly hours per worker remained constant from 1974 through 1976.

There is no indication that current workers are threatened with any involuntary separations from employment at the Uniontown, Pa. plant of the Michael Berkowitz Co., Inc. located on Barton Mill Road.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that a significant number or proportion of the workers at the Uniontown, Pennsylvania plant of the Michael Berkowitz Co., Inc. located on Barton Mill Road have not become totally or partially separated as required for certification under Section 222 of the Trade Act of the 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 31st day of August 1977.

Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-2110: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on May 31, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on May 31, 1977 which was filed by the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers' Union on behalf of workers and former workers producing ladies' breakfast coats at the Confluence, Pennsylvania plant of Michael Berkowitz Company, Inc.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 17, 1977 (42 FR 30939). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of the Michael Berkowitz Co., Inc., its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation has revealed that all of the above criteria have been met.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Employment of production workers at the Confluence, Pennsylvania plant declined 6.7 percent in 1975 compared to 1974 and increased 1.2 percent in 1976 compared to 1975. Employment declined 5.7 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976. No layoffs occurred in 1976. Layoffs and partial separations started after January 1, 1977.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Production at the Confluence, Pennsylvania plant declined 14.7 percent from 1974 to 1975 and then increased 38.5 percent from 1975 to 1976. Production declined 60.4 percent in the first half of 1977 compared to the first half of 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

U.S. imports of women's, misses' and children's robes and dressing gowns, including sets with pajamas or nightgowns, declined from 265 thousand dozen in 1972 to 134 thousand dozen in 1973. U.S. imports increased to 151 thousand dozen in 1974. U.S. imports declined to 113 thousand dozen in 1975 before increasing to 189 thousand dozen in 1976. U.S. imports increased from 41 thousand dozen in the first quarter of 1976 to 60 thousand dozen in the first quarter of 1977.

The ratio of imports to domestic pro-dren's robes and dressing gowns, including sets with pajamas or nightgowns, declined from 6.0 percent in 1972 to 3.0 percent in 1973. The ratio of imports to domestic production increased to 3.4 percent in 1974, declined to 2.6 percent in 1975, and then increased to 4.5 percent in 1976.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

The customer who purchases all of the robes produced at the Confluence, Pennsylvania plant of the Michael Berkowitz Company, Inc., increased its purchases of imported ladies' robes while decreasing purchases from Berkowitz. This customer increased its purchases of imported ladies' robes because of lower prices.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increased imports like or directly competitive with ladies' robes produced at the Confluence, Pennsylvania plant of the Michael Berkowitz Company, Inc. have contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers at that plant. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All hourly and salaried workers at the Confluence, Pennsylvania plant of the Michael Berkowitz Company, Inc. who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after January 1, 1977 are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 8th day of September 1977.

MR. KURTIN

Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1782: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 10, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on March 1, 1977 which was filed by three workers on behalf of workers and former workers engaged in shrimp fishing aboard the trawler Mr. Kutin in Aransas Pass, Texas.

The Notice of Investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 23, 1977 (42 FR 16200). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of the trawler Mr. Kurtin, its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Without regard to whether any of the other criteria have been met, criterion (4) has not been met.

The Department's investigation has revealed that Mr. Kurtin's major customer purchases all the shrimp that Mr. Kurtin is able to supply. This customer only purchases imported shrimp when Mr. Kurtin and other domestic suppliers are unable to meet its requirements. Several factors tended to depress levels of shrimp production in 1976 and consequently the quantities made available to Mr. Kurtin's customer. These factors included adverse weather conditions, a lack of shrimp available in known fishing grounds in the first quarter of 1977 and the imposition by the Mexican government of a 200 mile fishing restriction which prevented domestic shrimpers from fishing within Mexican coastal waters.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that imports of articles like or directly competitive with the shrimp caught and landed by the trawler Mr. Kurtin of Arkansas Pass, Texas have not contributed importantly to the total or partial separations of workers of that company as required for a certification under Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 31st day of August 1977.

Director, Office of Management, Administration and Planning.

Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-2040: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on May 2, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on May 2, 1977 which was filed by the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers' Union on behalf of workers and former workers producing large sized men's slacks and jeans, and men's uniform slacks.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 13, 1977 (42 FR 24346). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of the Prairie Manufacturing Company, its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Without regard to whether the other criteria have been met, the investigation revealed that the fourth criterion has not been met.

The Department's investigation revealed that most of the customers who purchase Prairie Manufacturing Company's products do not purchase imports similar to those produced at the firm. Those that do purchase imports similar to these products have either maintained or increased their purchases from Prairie Manufacturing Company.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with the men's slacks, jeans and uniforms produced at the Prairie Manufacturing Company did not contribute importantly to the total or partial separations of the workers producing such articles at that firm.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 31st day of August 1977.

ROSE COAT, INC.

Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-177: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 7, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on March 4, 1977 which was field by the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union on behalf of workers and former workers producing ladies' coats at Rose Coat Incorporated, Neptune, New Jersey. The investigation revealed that Rose Coat is associated by common management with two other firms producing ladies' coats, J. Kasliner Company, Incorporated, Neptune, New Jersey, and Lewis Sportswear, Incorporated (TA-W-1767), Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 25, 1977 (42 FR 16200). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from information and publications provided by officials of Rose Coat Incorporated, customers of the manufacturer for whom the three firms performed contract work, the U.S. Deparement of Commerce, U.S. International Trade Commission, National Cotton Council of America, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm, or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation reveals that all four criteria have been met.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Workers are transferable between Rose Coat and the two firms with which it is associated. Average total employment at the three companies decreased 28.1 percent from 1974 to 1975, and increased 23.8 percent from 1975 to 1976. Employment in the first quarter of 1977 decreased 39.0 percent from the same period in 1976.

All workers were laid off when Rose Coat shut down on April 16, 1977.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Production as measured in sales figures is distributed among Rose Coat and the two companies associated with the subject firm according to centrally made management decisions. Total three-company sales in terms of units decreased 34.0 percent from 1974 to 1975, and increased 27.6 percent from 1975 to 1976. Unit sales in the first quarter of 1977 decreased 34.6 percent from the same period in 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of women's, misses' and children's coats and jackets fluctuated from 1972 to 1976. Imports increased 2.1 percent from 1,769,000 dozen garments in 1972 to 1,807,000 garments in 1973, decreased 18.2 percent to 1,478,000 garments in 1974, increased 2.6 percent to 1,517,000 garments in 1975, and increased 48.5 percent to 2,252,000 garments in 1976. The ratio of imports to U.S. Production increased from 35.4 percent in 1975 to 72.2 percent in 1976.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

Evidence developed during the Department's investigation revealed that customers, of the firms' sole manufacturer, decreased purchases of ladies' coats from that manufacturer and increased purchases of ladies' coats from 1975 to 1976. The consensus of customers surveyed was that imports have constituted an increasing share of the ladies' coats market as a whole in recent years. The loss of sales by the manfacturer caused decreases in sales and employment at Rose Coat and the two companies with which it shares management since the manfacturer decreased total orders for ladies' coats.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with ladies' coats produced at Rose Coat, Incorporated, Neptune, New Jersey contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers of that company. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All employees of Rose Coat, Incorporated, Neptune, New Jersey who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after November 27, 1976 are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 8th day of September 1977.

SCRANTON GARMENT MFG., INC.

Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1921: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 29, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on March 28, 1977 which was filed by the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers' Union on behalf of workers and former workers producing men's sportscoats and ladies' blazers at the Scranton, Pennsylvania plant of Scranton Garment Mfg., Inc.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 12, 1977, (42 FR 19182). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Scranton Garment Mfg., Inc., its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Without regard to whether the other criteria have been met, the investigation revealed that the fourth criterion has not been met.

Scranton Garment Mfg., Inc., located in Scranton, Pennsylvania was a contractor that produced ladies' blazers and men's sportcoats. During 1976, only ladies' blazers were produced. All production and employment ceased on November 10, 1976 when the firm closed.

The Department's investigation revealed that customers contracting with Scranton Garment Mfg., Inc. did not purchase from foreign contractors; nor did they purchase imported apparel. These customers reduced purchases from Scranton Garment and switched to other domestic contractors because of price considerations.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with ladies' blazers produced at the Scranton, Pennsylvania plant of Scranton Garment Mfg., Inc. did not contribute importantly to the total or partial separation of workers at that plant.

STELMAR MANUFACTURING CO.

Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1834: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 21, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on March 18, 1977 which was filed by the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union on behalf of workers and former workers producing women's blouses at Stelmar Manufacturing Company, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania.

The Notice of Investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 5, 1977 (42 FR 18158). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Stelmar Manufacturing Company, its customers, the U.S. International Trade Commission, U.S. Department of Commerce, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Without regard to whether any of the other criteria have been met, criterion (2) has not been met.

Production at Stelmar Manufacturing Co. is on a contract basis, therefore sales equal production. Production, in quantity, of women's blouses increased 22 percent from 1974 to 1975, increased 10 percent from 1975 to 1976 and then increased 35 percent for the first quarter of 1977 as compared to the same quarter in 1976.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that sales or production, or both, have not decreased absolutely, as required in Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974. The petition is, therefore denied.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 8th day of September 1977.

Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1778: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 8, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on March 7, 1977 which was filed by three workers on behalf of workers and former workers producing coils at the Bedford, Ind. plant of South Haven Coil, Inc.

The Notice of Investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 22, 1977 (42 FR 15477). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of South Haven Coil, Inc., and its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the International Trade Commission, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm, or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation has revealed that all of the above criteria have been met.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

The average number of workers engaged in the production of coils at the Bedford, Indiana plant increased 100 percent in the first three quarters of 1976 as compared to the like 1975 period before declining 11.1 percent in the October 1976 through June 1977 period as compared to the October 1975 through June 1976 period.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECLINED ABSOLUTELY

Plant sales of coils increased 67.1 percent in value in the first three quarters of 1976 as compared to the like 1975 period before declining 28.2 percent in the October 1976 through June 1977 period as compared to the October 1975 through June 1976 period.

Company sales of coils increased 47.9 percent in the first three quarters of 1976 as compared to the like 1975 period before declining 23.2 percent in the October 1976 through June 1977 period as compared to the October 1975 through June 1976 period.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of certain electronic inductors, a category which includes the coils produced by South Haven Coil, increased each year from $18.2 million in 1972 to $20.8 million in 1975 and continued to increase 36.5 percent to $28.4 million in 1976. Imports increased from $5.4 million in the first quarter of 1976 to $8.4 million in the first quarter of 1977.

The ratio of imports to domestic production declined each year from 8.1 percent in 1972 to 6.2 percent in 1974, increased to 7.1 percent in 1975 and continued to increase to 9.3 percent in 1976. The ratio of imports to domestic production increased from 7.4 percent in the first quarter of 1976 to 11.1 percent in the first quarter of 1977.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

The Department's investigation revealed that some customers had reduced purchases of coils from South Haven Coil, Inc., and had increased purchases of imported coils.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increased imports of articles like or directly competitive with the coils produced at the Bedford, Indiana plant of South Haven Coil, Inc., have contributed importantly to the absolute decline in sales or production and the total or partial separations of workers at the plant.

In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All workers engaged in employment related to the production of coils at the Bedford, Ind. plant of South Haven Coil, Inc., who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after September 26, 1976 are eligible to apply for trade adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 8th day of September 1977.

TENSOR CORP.

Determinations Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1917: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 28, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on March 23, 1977 which was filed on behalf of workers and former workers producing metal tennis racquets and high intensity lamps at Tensor Corp., Brooklyn, N.Y.

The Notice of Investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 12, 1977 (42 FR 19178). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from information and publications provided by officials of Tensor Corp., its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm, or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation revealed that with respect to tennis racquets, all of the above criteria have been met. Without regard to whether any of the other criteria have been met, criterion (4) has not been met with respect to high intensity lamps.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

The average number of tennis racquet production workers at the Brooklyn plant decreased 18 percent from 1974 to 1975 and 22 percent from 1975 to 1976. Monthly employment declined steadily from March 1976 through February 1977, when the remaining employees in the department were separated.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Dollar sales by Tensor of tennis racquets and tennis accessories decreased 40 percent from 1974 to 1975, 33 percent from 1975 to 1976, and 57 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the like period in 1976. Plant production of metal tennis racquets declined in quantity by 23 percent from 1974 to 1975 and by 42 percent from 1975 to 1976. Production of tennis racquets ceased at the Brooklyn plant in June 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of strung and unstrung tennis racquets increased annually from $10,421 thousand in 1972 to $32,068 thousand in 1974, declined to $31,890 thousand in 1975, and then increased to $32,687 thousand in 1976. The ratio of imports to domestic tennis racquet production declined from 37.7 percent in 1974 to 27.7 percent in 1975 and remained unchanged in 1976.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

The Department's customer survey for tennis racquets revealed that customers either had replaced Tensor's metal racquets with less expensive imports or had been forced out of the low-end tennis racquet market due to import competition.

Tensor's tennis racquet sales, production and employment declined annually from 1974 through 1976. Due to price competition with imports, Tensor decided to cease production of metal tennis racquets at its Brooklyn plant in June 1976 and to rely on imports of less expensive metal racquets for future sales commitments.

In March 1977 the U.S. Department of Commerce found that increased imports of tennis racquets had contributed importantly to sales, production, and employment declines at Tensor and thus certified Tensor Corporation as eligible to apply for firm adjustment assistance under the provisions of the Trade Act of 1974.

The Department's customer survey for high intensity lamps revealed that customers either did not purchase any imported desk lamps or did not switch their lamp purchases from Tensor to imports.

Furthermore, dollar sales of high intensity lamps and bulbs by Tensor rose yearly from 1974 through 1976 and remained level in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976. Unit production of lamps at the Brooklyn plant increased yearly from 1974 through 1976, and employment of lamp production workers rose from 1975 to 1976.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with metal tennis racquets produced by Tensor Corp. contributed importantly to the total or partial separations of workers producing tennis racquets at Tensor's Brooklyn, N.Y. plant. In accordance with the provisions of the Trade Act of 1974, I make the following certification:

All workers engaged in employment related to the production of metal tennis racquets at Tensor Corp., Brooklyn, N.Y. who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after March 21, 1976, are eligible to apply for worker adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

I further conclude that imports of articles like or directly competitive with high intensity desk lamps produced by Tensor Corporation did not contribute importantly to the total or partial separations of workers producing lamps at Tensor's Brooklyn, N.Y. plant as required for certification under Section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 8th day of September 1977.

Director, Office of Foreign Economic Research.

TRACOR ADAMS; TRACOR, INC.

Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1803: Investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 15, 1977, in response to a worker petition received on February 16, 1977, which was filed by the Allied Industrial Workers of America on behalf of workers and former workers producing circuit boards, coils, and components for color televisions at the Bangor, Mich., plant of Tracor Adams.

The Notice of Investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 5, 1977 (42 FR 18155). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Tracor Adams, its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analyst, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm, or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation has revealed that all four of the above criteria have been met.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Employment of production workers at Tracor Adams decreased 17.9 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976 and decreased in each month, September through December 1976 compared to the previous month.

All production workers are used interchangeably.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Total sales equals production as all work is by order.

Sales declined 14.7 percent in the fourth quarter of 1976 compared to the fourth quarter of 1975 and declined 9.8 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of printed circuit boards increased each year from 1972 to 1976. Imported printed circuit boards were valued at $8 million in 1972, $11 million in 1973, and $15.1 million in 1974. After increasing to $21 million in 1975, imports of printed circuit boards increased 2.9 percent in 1976 to $21.6 million. Imports increased 11.9 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976 from $4.2 million to $4.7 million.

The import to production ratio increased from 1.3 percent in 1972, to 1.5 percent in 1973, and 1.6 percent in 1974. After increasing to 3.4 percent in 1975, it declined to 3 percent in 1976. The ratio increased from 2.5 percent in the first quarter of 1976 to 2.7 percent in the first quarter of 1977.

The value of imported inductors increased from $36.2 million in 1972 to $55.3 million in 1973 and $68 million in 1974. After decreasing to $66.7 million in 1975 and to $54 million in 1976, imports increased 28.2 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the same period in 1976, from $17.7 million to $22.7 million.

The import to production ratio increased from 10.8 percent in 1972 to 12.4 percent in 1973 and 12.7 percent in 1974. After increasing to 15.2 percent in 1975, it declined to 11.9 percent in 1976. The ratio increased from 15.2 percent in the first quarter of 1976 to 19.2 percent in 1977.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

Tracor Adams' largest customer, who purchased a majority of Tracor Adams' 1976 sales, indicated that it increased its purchases of imported convergence boards and coils (inductors) and decreased purchases of these products from Tracor Adams.
ceased its

Tracor Adams itself imported and increased its purchases of imported convergence boards and coils in 1976 compared to 1975.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increased imports like or directly competitive with convergence boards and inductors produced at the Bangor, Mich., plant of Tracor Adams, Inc., contributed importantly to the total or partial separations of the workers of that plant. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All workers at the Bangor, Mich., plant of Tracor Adams, Inc., engaged in the production of convergence boards and inductors who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after September 12, 1976, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 31st day of August 1977.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORP.

Determinations Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1438: Investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on December 15, 1976, in response to a worker petition received on December 15, 1976, which was filed by the United States Steelworkers of America on behalf of workers and former workers producing tubular steel products at the Gary Tube Works of U.S. Steel Corp., Gary, Ind., and all workers producing carbon steel plate, structural steel shapes and bar-size light shapes at the Gary Works of U.S. Steel Corp., Gary, Ind.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 28, 1977 (42 FR 900). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of U.S. Steel Corp., its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm, or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation has revealed that all four of the above criteria have been met for workers engaged in employment related to the production of tubular steel products, carbon steel plate, and structural steel shapes.

The investigation has further revealed that without regard to whether any of the other criteria have been met, criterion (3) has not been met for bar-size light shapes.

TUBULAR STEEL PRODUCTS

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Employment of workers engaged in the production of tubular steel products increased 28 percent from 1974 to 1975. Employment declined 17.2 percent from 1975 to 1976.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Sales in quantity increased 7.3 percent from 1974 to 1975. Sales declined 24.7 percent in the first 11 months of 1976 compared to the first 11 months of 1975.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of carbon steel pipe and tubing declined from 1,768.1 thousand short tons in 1972 to 1,574.6 thousand short tons in 1973. Imports increased to 1,781.5 thousand short tons in 1974, declined to 1,542.5 thousand short tons in 1975 and increased to 1,820.7 thousand short tons in 1976.

The ratio of imports to domestic shipments declined from 28.6 percent in 1972 to 20.3 percent in 1973. The ratio increased to 21.5 percent in 1974, increased further to 22.8 percent in 1975 and increased again to 35.8 percent in 1976.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

A survey of customers who purchase tubular steel products from the Gary Tube Works indicated that some customers have been reducing purchases from U.S. Steel and increasing purchases of imported tubulars. The lower prices of the imports was the reason most frequently cited for switching.

CARBON STEEL PLATE

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Employment of workers engaged in the production of carbon steel plate declined 1.7 percent from 1974 to 1975 and further declined 26.9 percent from 1975 to 1976.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Sales in quantity declined 20.8 percent from 1974 to 1975 and further declined 20.8 percent from 1975 to 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of carbon steel plate declined from 1,651 thousand short tons in 1972 to 1,322 thousand short tons in 1973. Imports increased to 1,699 thousand short tons in 1974, decreased to 1,353 thousand short tons in 1975 and increased to 1,555.4 thousand short tons in 1976.

The ratio of imports to domestic shipments declined from 26.3 percent in 1972 to 16.4 percent in 1973. The ratio increased to 18.8 percent in 1974, increased further to 19.4 percent in 1975 and increased again to 27.7 percent in 1976.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

A survey of customers who purchased carbon steel plate from the Gary Works indicated that some customers have been reducing purchases of plate from U.S. Steel and increasing purchases of imported plate. The lower prices of imports was the reason given for switching.

STRUCTURAL STEEL SHAPES

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Employment of workers engaged in the production of structural steel shapes declined 34.5 percent from 1974 to 1975 and further declined 22.2 percent from 1975 to 1976.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Sales in quantity declined 47.3 percent from 1974 to 1975 and further declined 17.9 percent from 1975 to 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of carbon steel structural shapes decreased from 1,614 thousand short tons in 1972 to 1,250.7 thousand short tons in 1973. Imports declined to 1,142.7 thousand short tons in 1974, declined further to 804.9 thousand short tons in 1975 then increased to 1,351.4 thousand short tons in 1976.

The ratio of imports to domestic shipments decreased from 34.1 percent in 1972 to 21.3 percent in 1973. The ratio further declined to 19.7 percent in 1974 and declined again to 19.5 percent in 1975. In 1976, the ratio increased to 40 percent.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

A survey of customers who purchase structural steel shapes from the Gary Works indicated that some customers have reduced purchases from U.S. Steel and increased purchases of imported structurals due to the lower prices of the imports. In addition, some steel service centers which did not purchase imports said they had reduced purchases from U.S. Steel because they were losing business to other service centers which sold primarily lower priced imports.

BAR-SIZE LIGHT SHAPES

Imports of carbon steel bar-size light shapes declined from 562.7 thousand short tons in 1972 to 457.4 thousand short tons in 1973. Imports increased to 521.5 thousand short tons in 1974, declined to 167.2 thousand short tons in 1975 and declined again to 164.3 thousand tons in 1976.

The ratio of imports to domestic shipments declined from 75.1 percent in 1972 to 44.2 percent in 1973. The ratio increased to 53.1 percent in 1974, declined to 22.7 percent in 1975 and declined further to 19.5 percent in 1976.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with tubular steel products produced by the Gary Tube Works of U.S. Steel Corp., Gary, Ind., and carbon steel plate and structural steel shapes produced by the Gary Works of U.S. Steel Corp., Gary, Ind., contributed importantly to the total or partial separations of the workers of those plants. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All workers engaged in employment related to the production of tubular steel products at the Gary Tube Works of U.S. Steel Corp., Gary, Ind., and all workers engaged in the production of carbon steel plate or carbon steel structural shapes at the Gary Works of U.S. Steel Corp., Gary, Ind., who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after November 15, 1975, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

It is further concluded that imports of articles like or directly competitive with bar-size light shapes produced by the Gary Works have not increased, either absolutely or relative to U.S. production, as required for certification under section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974. Therefore, workers engaged in employment related to the production of bar-size light shapes at the Gary Works of U.S. Steel Corp., Gary, Ind., are denied eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 12th day of September 1977.

[TA-W-1868]

WALK-OVER/JOHN E. LUCEY DIVISION OF GEORGE E. KEITH CO.

Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1868: Investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 22, 1977, in response to a worker petition received on March 21, 1977, which was filed on behalf of workers and former workers producing men's dress and casual footwear at the Bridgewater, Mass., plant of the Walk-Over/John E. Lucey Division of the George E. Keith Co.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 5, 1977 (42 FR 18156). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of the Walk-Over/John E. Lucey Division of the George E. Keith Co., its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either, actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation revealed that all four of the above criteria have been met.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Average hourly employment at the Walk-Over/John E. Lucey Division increased 4.3 percent in 1976 over 1975 and then decreased 2 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976.

Average weekly hours per worker increased 15.6 percent in 1976 over 1975 and then decreased 16.2 percent in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976.

V 42 I 182 SEP 20 77 UMI

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Sales increased 4.6 percent in quantity in 1976 over 1975 and then decreased 13.3 percent in quantity in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976.

Production increased 20 percent in quantity in 1976 over 1975 and then decreased 14.3 percent in quantity in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of men's dress and casual footwear increased from 53.5 million pairs in 1972 to 56.4 million pairs in 1973, decreased to 44.3 million pairs in 1974 and increased to 47.5 million pairs in 1975. Imports rose to 58.7 million pairs in 1976, an increase of 23.6 percent from 1975. In the first quarter of 1977 imports of men's dress and casual footwear equalled 15.7 million pairs, 3.3 percent above the 15.2 million pairs imported during the comparable time period in 1976.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

Some customers of the Walk-Over/John E. Lucey Division increased purchases of imported men's shoes relative to purchases from the subject firm from 1975 to 1976 and in the first quarter of 1977 compared to the first quarter of 1976.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with men's dress and casual footwear produced by the Walk-Over/John E. Lucey Division of the George E. Keith Co. contributed importantly to the total or partial separations of the workers at that subdivision of the firm. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All hourly and salaried workers at the Bridgewater, Massachusetts plant of the Walk-Over/John E. Lucey Division of the George E. Keith Co. who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after January 23, 1977, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2 of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 8th day of September 1977.

ZURN INDUSTRIES, INC., CAST METALS DIVISION, MECHANICAL DRIVES DIVISION

Negative Determination Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with Section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1623: investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in Section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on February 7, 1977 in response to a worker petition received on January 31, 1977 which was filed by the United Steelworkers of America on behalf of workers and former workers at the Cast Metals Division of Zurn Industries, Inc., Erie, Pa. The investigation was expanded to include the Mechanical Drives Division of Zurn Industries also located in Erie, Pa.

The Notice of Investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 4, 1977 (42 FR 12499). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from officials of Zurn Industries, its customers, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, industry analysts and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of Secton 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in the workers' firm, or an appropriate subdivision thereof, have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally, or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

Without regard to whether any other criteria have been met, criterion (4) has not been met with respect to workers producing gray iron castings at the Cast Metals Division and workers producing power transmission equipment at the Mechanical Drives Division.

GRAY IRON CASTINGS

The Cast Metals Division produces gray iron castings for external sales and for internal transfer to Zurn's Hydromechanics Division, which is also located in the Erie plant. The Department contacted Zurn's largest customers of gray iron castings. These companies indicated that they purchased no imported castings in 1976.

Production declines at the Cast Metals Division were caused by a reduction in transfers to the Hydromechanics Division. This division fabricates casting into plumbing fittings used in commercial and industrial establishments. Reduced capital spending for nonresidential construction caused a decline in demand for Zurn's plumbing fittings.

POWER TRANSMISSION EQUIPMENT

The Department contacted the Mechanical Drives Division's largest customers. None of the customers purchased imports. All stated that they knew of no import competition in this area. Customers cited reduced spending for new capital equipment, especially in the steel industry, as having caused decreased demand for the type of machinery of which Zurn's power transmission is a component.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports of articles like or directly competitive with gray iron castings and power transmission equipment produced at the Cast Metals Division and the Mechanical Drives Divisions of Zurn Industries, Inc., Erie, Pennsylvania, did not contribute importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers at these Divisions of that plant.

Certification Regarding Eligibility To Apply for Worker Adjustment Assistance

In accordance with section 223 of the Trade Act of 1974 the Department of Labor herein presents the results of TA-W-1765: Investigation regarding certification of eligibility to apply for worker adjustment assistance as prescribed in section 222 of the Act.

The investigation was initiated on March 7, 1977, in response to a worker petition received on March 4, 1977, which was filed by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union on behalf of workers and former workers producing ladies' coats at J. Kasliner Co., Inc., Neptune, N.J. The investigation revealed that J. Kasliner Co. is associated by common management with two other firms producing ladies' coats, Lewis Sportswear, Inc. (TA-W-1767), Atlantic Highlands, N.J., and Rose Coat Inc. (TA-W-1772), Neptune, N.J.

The notice of investigation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 25, 1977 (42 FR 16200). No public hearing was requested and none was held.

The information upon which the determination was made was obtained principally from information and publications provided by officials of J. Kasliner Co., Inc., customers of the manufacturer for whom the three firms performed contract work, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the U.S. International Trade Commission, National Cotton Council of America, industry analysts, and Department files.

In order to make an affirmative determination and issue a certification of eligibility to apply for adjustment assistance, each of the group eligibility requirements of section 222 of the Trade Act of 1974 must be met:

(1) That a significant number or proportion of the workers in such workers' firm, or an appropriate subdivision of the firm have become totally or partially separated, or are threatened to become totally or partially separated;

(2) That sales or production, or both, of such firm or subdivision have decreased absolutely;

(3) That articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the firm or subdivision are being imported in increased quantities, either actual or relative to domestic production; and

(4) That such increased imports have contributed importantly to the separations, or threat thereof, and to the decrease in sales or production. The term "contributed importantly" means a cause which is important but not necessarily more important than any other cause.

The investigation reveals that all four criteria have been met.

SIGNIFICANT TOTAL OR PARTIAL SEPARATIONS

Workers are transferable between J. Kasliner Co. and the two firms with which it is associated. Average total employment at the three companies decreased 28.1 percent from 1974 to 1975, and increased 23.8 percent from 1975 to 1976. Employment in the first quarter of 1977 decreased 39 percent from the same period in 1976.

All workers were laid off when J. Kasliner shut down on April 16, 1977.

SALES OR PRODUCTION, OR BOTH, HAVE DECREASED ABSOLUTELY

Production as measured in sales figures is distributed among J. Kasliner Co. and the two companies associated with the subject firm according to centrally made management decisions. Total three-company sales in terms of units decreased 34 percent from 1974 to 1975, and increased 27.6 percent from 1975 to 1976. Unit sales in the first quarter of 1977 decreased 34.6 percent from the same period in 1976.

INCREASED IMPORTS

Imports of women's, misses', and children's coats and jackets fluctuated from 1972 to 1976. Imports increased 2.1 percent from 1,769,000 dozen garments in 1972 to 1,807,000 garments in 1973, decreased 18.2 percent to 1,478,000 garments in 1974, increased 2.6 percent to 1,517,000 garments in 1975, and increased 48.5 percent to 2,252,000 garments in 1976. The ratio of imports to U.S. production increased from 35.4 percent in 1975 to 52.2 percent in 1976.

CONTRIBUTED IMPORTANTLY

Evidence developed during the Department's investigation revealed that customers, of the firms' sole manufacturer, decreased purchases of ladies' coats from that manufacturer and increased purchases of ladies' coats from 1975 to 1976. The consensus of customers surveyed was that imports have constituted an increasing share of the ladies' coats market as a whole in recent years. The loss of sales by the manufacturer caused decreases in sales and employment at J. Kasliner Co. and the two companies with which it shares management since the manufacturer decreased total orders for ladies' coats.

CONCLUSION

After careful review of the facts obtained in the investigation, I conclude that increases of imports like or directly competitive with ladies' coats produced at J. Kasliner Co., Inc., Neptune, N.J., contributed importantly to the total or partial separation of the workers of that company. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, I make the following certification:

All employees of J. Kasliner Co., Inc., Neptune, N.J., who became totally or partially separated from employment on or after November 27, 1976, are eligible to apply for adjustment assistance under Title II, Chapter 2, of the Trade Act of 1974.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 8th day of September 1977.

HARRY GRUBERT,
Director, Office of Foreign Economic Research.

MOTOR CARRIER TEMPORARY AUTHORITY APPLICATIONS

SEPTEMBER 14, 1977.

Important notice: The following are notices of filing of applications for temporary authority under Section 210a(a) of the Interstate Commerce Act provided for under the provisions of 49 CFR 1131.3. These rules provide that an original and six (6) copies of protests to an application may be filed with the field official named in the FEDERAL REGISTER publication no later than the 15th calendar day after the date the notice of the filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. One copy of the protest must be served on the applicant, or its authorized representative, if any, and the protestant must certify that such service has been made. The protest must identify the operating authority upon which it is predicated, specifying the "MC" docket and "Sub" number and quoting the particular portion of authority upon which it relies. Also, the protestant shall specify the service it can and will provide and the amount and type of equipment it will make available for use in connection with the service contemplated by the TA applicant. The weight accorded a protest shall be governed by the completeness and pertinence of the protestant's information.

Except as otherwise specifically noted, each applicant states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application.

A copy of the application is on file, and can be examined at the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., and also in the ICC Field Office to which protests are to be transmitted.

MOTOR CARRIER TEMPORARY AUTHORITY APPLICATIONS

SEPTEMBER 12, 1977.

Important notice: The following are notices of filing of applications for temporary authority under section 210a(a) of the Interstate Commerce Act provided for under the provisions of 49 CFR 1131.3. These rules provide that an original and six (6) copies of protests to an application may be filed with the field official named in the FEDERAL REGISTER publication no later than the 15th calendar day after the date the notice of the filing of the application is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. One copy of the protest must be served on the applicant, or its authorized representative, if any, and the protestant must certify that such service has been made. The protest must identify the operating authority upon which it is predicated, specifying the "MC" docket and "Sub" number and quoting the particular portion of authority upon which it relies. Also, the protestant shall specify the service it can and will provide and the amount and type of equipment it will make available for use in connection with the service contemplated by the TA application. The weight accorded a protest shall be governed by the completeness and pertinence of the protestant's information.

Except as otherwise specifically noted, each applicant states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application.

A copy of the application is on file, and can be examined at the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., and also in the ICC Field Office to which protests are to be transmitted.

MOTOR CARRIER TEMPORARY APPLICATIONS

September 15, 1977.

Important notice: The following are notices of filing of applications for temporary authority under Section 210a(a) of the Interstate Commerce Act provided for under the provisions of 49 CFR 1131.3. These rules provide that an original and six (6) copies of protests to an application may be filed with the field official named in the Federal Register publication no later than the 15th calendar day after the date the notice of the filing of the application is published in the Federal Register. One copy of the protest must be served on the applicant, or its authorized representative, if any, and the protestant must certify that such service has been made. The protest must identify the operating authority upon which it is predicated, specifying the "MC" docket and "Sub" number and quoting the particular portion of authority upon which it relies. Also, the protestant shall specify the service it can and will provide and the amount and type of equipment it will make available for use in connection with the service contemplated by the TA application. The weight accorded a protest shall be governed by the completeness and pertinence of the protestant's information.

Except as otherwise specifically noted, each applicant states that there will be no significant effect on the quality of the human environment resulting from approval of its application.

A copy of the application is on file, and can be examined at the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C., and also in the ICC Field Office to which protests are to be transmitted.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[MA-40 amending M-52]

ADDITION OF ITEMS TO THE SEPTEMBER 15, 1977 MEETING AGENDA

TIME AND DATE: 10 a.m., September 15, 1977.

PLACE: Room 1027, 1825 Connecticut Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20428.

SUBJECT: 22. Docket 28036, South Pacific Case, Petition for Reconsideration (Memo No. 6642–B, OGC).

23. OMB request for Board comments on OMB draft bill to amend the Independent Offices Appropriations Act, 1952 with reference to User Charger (Memo No. 7416, OGC, OC).

STATUS: Open.

PERSON TO CONTACT: Phyllis T. Kaylor, The Secretary, 202–673–5068.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The certificates in the South Pacific Case go into effect on September 18, 1977 and action by September 15 will permit release of the Board decision in a timely fashion. The Office of Management and Budget requests the Board's views by September 16, 1977 on a draft bill to amend the Independent Offices Appropriations Act with reference to User Charger. Since there will be no meeting on September 16, 1977, at which the Board could consider these items, it is necessary to add items 22 and 23 to the September 15, 1977 agenda. Accordingly, the following Members have voted that agency business requires the addition of items 22 and 23 to the agenda of September 15, 1977 and that no earlier announcement of these additions was possible:

Chairman Alfred E. Kahn
Vice Chairman Richard J. O'Melia
Member G. Joseph Minetti
Member Lee R. West
Member Elizabeth E. Bailey

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[MA-41 amending M-52]

DELETION OF ITEM FROM THE SEPTEMBER 15, 1977 MEETING AGENDA

TIME AND DATE: 10 a.m., September 15, 1977.

PLACE: Room 1027, 1825 Connecticut Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20428.

SUBJECT: 5. New door-to-door parcel express service proposed by Eastern Air Lines, Effective (posted) October 1, 1977. (BFR)).

STATUS: Open.

Phyllis T. Kaylor, The Secretary, 202–673–5068.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Eastern Air Lines has informed the Board's staff that it intends to modify its tariff filing for "New Door-to-Door Parcel Express Service" which is to become effective October 1, 1977. Consequently, the staff's preparation of its memorandum to the Board will be delayed. Accordingly, the following Members have voted that agency business requires the deletion of item 5 from the September 15, 1977 agenda and that no earlier announcement of this deletion was possible:

Chairman Alfred E. Kahn
Vice Chairman Richard J. O'Melia
Member G. Joseph Minetti
Member Lee R. West
Member Elizabeth E. Bailey

[MA-39 amending M-54]

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD.

CHANGE IN AGENDA

REVISED AGENDA

TIME AND PLACE: 10 a.m. September 16, 1977.

PLACE: Room 1027, 1825 Connecticut Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20428.

SUBJECT: Dockets 31377 and 31779, Oral Argument, Refiled British Airways' Contract Cargo Rates.

STATUS: Open.

Phyllis T. Kaylor, The Secretary, 202–673–5068.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: These tariffs were filed September 6, 1977, with an effective date of October 6, 1977. Any order of suspension would have to be sent to the President no later than September 23, 1977. In order for the Board to have ample time to hear the parties and reach a determination in this matter, it is necessary that oral argument be scheduled as soon as possible. The time available for a Board meeting on September 16, 1977, will not permit the consideration of the two items originally announced on the September 16, 1977 agenda. Item 1 on the original announcement, the OMB request for Board comments on draft legislation regarding User Charger, has been added to the September 15, 1977 meeting agenda. Item 2 on the original agenda, Task Force and Steering Committee on Regulatory Reform, will be rescheduled in the near future. Accordingly, the following Members have voted that agency business requires that these changes be made and that no earlier announcement of the changes was possible:

Chairman Alfred E. Kahn
Vice Chairman Richard J. O'Melia
Member G. Joseph Minetti
Member Lee R. West
Member Elizabeth E. Bailey

Title 23—Highways

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL HIGHWAY ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

SUBCHAPTER I—PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

PART 810—MASS TRANSIT AND SPECIAL USE HIGHWAY PROJECTS

Establishment of Regulations

AGENCY: Federal Highway Administration, DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule allows flexibility in the use of Federal-aid highway funds for mass transit and transit-related facilities and for special use highways. The purpose of this rule is to implement certain provisions of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1973 and 1976, as amended.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 20, 1977.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Federal Highway Administration FHWA): Cince Clietti, Chief, Programs Branch (202–426–0450) or Frank Calhoun, Attorney, Office of the Chief Counsel (202–426–0762); or in the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA): Sam Rea, Office of Transit Assistance (202–472–2435) or David Yudin, Attorney, Office of the Chief Counsel (202–426–1906), all located at 400 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20590. FHWA office hours are from 7:45 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. ET; UMTA office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. ET, Monday through Friday.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: 23 U.S.C. 142 was amended and considerably expanded by section 121 of the 1973 Highway Act, and now allows exclusive and preferential busways, fringe and corridor parking facilities, and other highway-related mass transit facilities to be approved on any Federal-aid system. In addition, 23 U.S.C. 142 now allows nonhighway public mass transit projects to be approved as part of the Federal-aid urban system.

These regulations supersede Policy and Procedure Memorandum (PPM) 21–20 (now located in the Federal-Aid Highway Program Manual (FHPM) Volume 6, Chapter 8, Section 2, Subsection 3[1]), "Fringe and Corridor Parking Facilities," dated November 9, 1971, PPM 50–10 (FHPM 6–1–1–3[1]), "Urban Highway Public Transportation," dated January 17, 1972, FHWA Notice N 5580.2 dated November 15, 1973, "Preliminary Guidance on Advancing Public Transportation Now Applicable under Provisions of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1973," IM 50–4–70, IM 21–13–67(1), CM 7–17–70 (IM's and CM now cited as FHPM 4–4–5),[1] and implement 23 U.S.C. 149 and 23 U.S.C. 137. Section 149 of title 23, U.S.C., which was added by section 142 of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1973 permits the approval of exclusive or preferential truck lanes on any Federal-aid highway system. Section 137 of title 23, U.S.C., permits the approval of fringe and corridor parking facilities on the Federal-aid urban system. Because of the interrelationship between these actions and 23 U.S.C. 142, it was decided that these three sections could properly be implemented in one set of regulations.

In the September 5, 1974, edition of the FEDERAL REGISTER (39 FR 32298), FHWA and UMTA published a notice of proposed rulemaking to add a new Part 810, Subparts A, B, C, and D to Chapter I of Title 23, Code of Federal Regulations. The public was invited to participate in this rulemaking through submission of written comments. Review of the comments received indicated the desirability of making changes in the regulations as originally proposed. Only those sections of these final regulations which have been significantly revised or were the subject of major interest are discussed in this commentary.

SUBPART A

A number of comments received evidenced confusion as to whether or not a nonhighway public mass transit project has to be physically located on a route designated as part of the Federal-aid urban system. That is not a requirement, and the definition of nonhighway public mass transit projects has been revised accordingly. The definition now reads:

§ 810.4(b)(6): "Nonhighway public mass transit project" means a project to develop or improve public mass transit facilities or equipment. A project need not be physically located or operated on a route designated as part of the Federal-aid urban system, but must be included in and related to a program for the development or improvement of an urban public mass transit system which includes either the construction of fixed rail facilities, or the purchase of passenger equipment, or both. Passenger equipment includes buses, fixed rail rolling stock and other transportation equipment.

With regard to the definition of "responsible local officials" under § 810.4, some concern was expressed over the role of the Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) in the various activities required under the regulations. It was felt, by some respondents, that the role of the MPO in these activities tended to impinge on State and local prerogatives as mandated under State and local statutes. This was not the intent of either UMTA or FHWA. The MPO is a forum for cooperative decisionmaking by principal elected officials of general purpose governments. Accordingly, the definition of "Metropolitan Planning Organization" has been added to § 810.4.

Several additions have been made to the planning requirements outlined under § 810.6. A new paragraph (c) has been added to § 810.6 to incorporate by reference the planning and program requirements of 23 CFR Part 450, Subparts A and C and 23 CFR Part 630, Subpart A. Those regulations contain the general planning and programming requirements applicable to all projects proposed to serve or be located in urbanized areas funded under title 23, U.S.C. (highways). Furthermore, the requirement under 23 U.S.C. 142(f) that a finding be made that a project will be fully utilized by the public mass transportation system is appropriately addressed in the planning process; consequently, a new paragraph (d) has been added to § 810.6 with respect to the "full utilization" requirement. This new section replaces § 810.104(d) as published in the original notice.

SUBPART B

One comment questioned, in the case of exclusive or preferential lanes, whether or not a mix of carpools and buses is allowed. Nothing in these regulations is intended to exclude carpools from the use of these lanes.

The word "construction" has been added to the exception clause of § 810.210(a) to indicate that it is not intended to preclude Federal-aid projects for improvements (as opposed to actual construction of an emergency vehicle lane) which will facilitate the flow of emergency vehicles on Federal-aid systems. Section 810.102(a) reflects the statutory provisions (23 U.S.C. 142(a)(1), 142(b), and 149) which limit construction of exclusive or preferential emergency vehicle lanes to the Interstate System while construction of bus and truck lanes are eligible for construction on all Federal-aid systems.

A technical change was made to § 810.104(c) deleting the reference to 23 U.S.C. 120(a) to make clear that the Federal share of the cost of eligible projects is determined by the Federal-aid system which such project serves or upon which it is located. One comment raised a question as to the disposition of certain commuter parking projects already underway in light of the fact that such projects could be approved as either highway or nonhighway projects under these regulations. Generally, eligible projects under these regulations are classified as follows: (1) Highway projects—approved and carried out subject to the applicable project requirement of FHWA; and (2) Nonhighway public mass transportation projects—approved and carried out subject to the applicable project requirements of UMTA. Title 23 U.S.C. 142, however, permits certain projects to be classified as either highway or nonhighway public mass transportation projects, e.g., commuter parking facilities in conjunction with fixed rail facilities.

A change has been made to § 810.106(a)(4) to clarify that parking projects could be constructed on lands outside of a Federal-aid right-of-way which were acquired in accordance with the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Land Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, with or without Federal funds.

A change has also been made to § 810.106(a)(5). After the proposed regulations were issued, 23 U.S.C. 142(a)(1) was amended by section 127 of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1976 (Pub. L. 94–280). Section 127 permits fees to be charged for use of a parking facility if the rate is not in excess of that required for "maintenance and operation of the facility (including compensation to any person for operating the facility)." Accordingly, § 810.106(a)(5) has been amended to include the language of section 127.

In consideration of the fact that urban system nonhighway public mass transportation projects are administered by the UMTA Administrator and urban system highway public transportation projects are administered by the FHWA Administrator, it was deemed appropriate to provide a mechanism for coordinating the administration of such projects. Accordingly, a new § 810.108 has been added which describes the joint FHWA–UMTA review of the Transportation Improvement Program; coordination with UMTA of the urban system program of projects; and UMTA receipt of a copy of all plans, specifications, and estimates for highway public mass transportation projects. Section 810.110 has also been added, whereby the FHWA Administrator is required to notify the UMTA Administrator of the approval of projects under his administration. Corresponding notifications are required of the UMTA Administrator for "nonhighway" projects under Subpart D. In addition, several other minor changes have been made elsewhere in these regulations to reflect the need for coordinated administration of urban system mass transit projects.

SUBPART C

The purpose clause (§ 810.200) states that the regulations permit FHWA after consultation with the UMTA Administrator to authorize a State to make highway rights-of-way available to a publicly owned mass transit authority. One commentator felt that this reference to publicly owned mass transit authorities would preclude use of right-of-way in States with no publicly owned mass transit authority. This is not the intent of the regulations. The FHWA is precluded from contracting with other than a publicly owned authority. FHWA practice would permit the right-of-way to be made available to a public agency for the purpose of providing public mass transportation. That public agency could then enter into agreements with a private carrier for the use of such right-of-way. In any event the terms and conditions under which the State could make the right-of-way available for a public mass transportation use would be subject to the Federal Highway Administrator's approval. Further, nothing in the regulations is to be construed as prohibiting a private carrier from operating a bus service that utilizes existing Federal-aid highways including exclusive or preferential bus lanes.

Other comments recommended that the reference throughout Subpart C to "publicly-owned mass transit authority" implied that only an autonomous public authority will be eligible under this subpart of the regulations. While "publicly-owned mass transit authority" is the term used in 23 U.S.C. 142(g) we do not view this as excluding from its coverage any other public agency responsible for operating public mass transit by lease, contract or otherwise.

SUBPART D

A new paragraph (b) has been added to § 810.302 to clarify the fact that fixed facilities, as opposed to buses, railcars, and other rolling stock, must be located within the urban boundaries required to be established under 23 U.S.C. 101(a) (23 CFR Part 470, Subpart B, this regulation is a proposed rule published October 9, 1974, 39 FR 36350).

A further revision has been made to § 810.302, relating to eligible projects. Proposed subsections (b) and (c), which reflected the period during which certain types of projects under 23 U.S.C. 142(c) were eligible have been eliminated since the eligibility date of January 1, 1975, has passed. A distinction was made between sections 142(a)(2) and 142(c) because the provisions of 23 U.S.C. 142(c) limit approval of fixed rail projects in fiscal years 1974 and 1975 to urbanized areas. However, this distinction is no longer relevant as the provisions of 23 U.S.C. 142(a)(2) authorize approval of fixed rail projects with urban system apportionments in all urban areas, including but not limited to urbanized areas, with apportionments for fiscal year 1976. Inasmuch as the January 1, 1975, date has passed, there are no general restrictions on eligibility. Technically, rail projects approved or utilizing funds apportioned for fiscal year 1974 and 1975 are still subject to the limitation that such projects be located in urbanized areas only. In practical effect, however, we doubt that this technical limitation will have any detrimental impact on the progress on any rail mass transportation activity in urban areas that are not within urbanized areas.

Additionally, the planning and programming requirements under § 810.304 have been consolidated with the general planning and programming requirements under § 810.6. This was done because these requirements are generally applicable to all projects eligible for funding under these regulations.

Sections 810.304 and 810.306 relate to the submission of projects, the determination of fund availability by the FHWA, and subsequent transmittal of nonhighway projects to UMTA for approval. We have discovered in using this process that some nonhighway project applications submitted do not meet the requirements for the UMTA project approval as prescribed in the UMTA External Operating Manual. In such instances approval may be subject to delay. To avoid delays and other difficulties attendant to deficient project applications we suggest that during the early stages of the development of the application applicants contact UMTA. Some minor technical changes have been made in these regulations to facilitate the expeditious transmittal and approval of these projects.

Revisions and consolidations of other sections mentioned above have resulted in the elimination of § 810.308. The elimination of this section, however, is in the nature of a technical change and has no substantive impact on the regulations as published in the original notice.

In consideration of the foregoing, and under the authority of 23 U.S.C. 137, 142, 149, and 315 and the delegation of authority by the Secretary of Transportation at 49 CFR 1.48(b) and 1.51(f), Chapter I of 23 CFR is amended by adding a new Part 810 as set forth below.

NOTE.—The FHWA has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Orders 11821 and 11949 and OMB Circular A–107.

Issued on: September 7, 1977.

AUTHORITY: 23 U.S.C. 137, 142, 149, and 315; Delegation of authority by the Secretary of Transportation, 49 CFR 1.48(b) and 1.51(f).

Subpart A—General

§ 810.2 Purpose.

The purpose of the regulations in this subpart is to implement sections 137, 142,

[1] The Federal-Aid Highway Program Manual (FHPM) is available for inspection and copying as prescribed in 49 CFR Part 7, Appendix D.

V 4 2 1 8 2 SEP 2 0 7 7 UMI

and 149 of title 23 U.S.C. Sections 137 and 142 relate generally to the use of Federal-aid highway funds for various types of public transportation projects; section 149 permits the Secretary to approve as a project on any Federal-aid system the construction of exclusive or preferential truck lanes.

§ 810.4 Definitions.

(a) Except as otherwise provided, terms defined in 23 U.S.C. 101(a) are used in this subpart as so defined.

(b) The following terms, where used in the regulations in this subpart, have the following meanings:

(1) "Bus passenger loading areas and facilities (including shelters)" means areas and facilities located at or near passenger loading points for safety, protection, comfort, or convenience of bus passengers. The term "areas and facilities" includes but is not limited to access roads, buildings, structures, equipment, improvements, and interest in land.

(2) "Exclusive or preferential bus, truck, or emergency vehicle lane(s)" means one or more lanes of a highway facility or an entire highway facility where buses, trucks or emergency vehicles, or any combination thereof, are given, at all times or at any regularly scheduled times, a priority or preference over some or all other vehicles moving in the general stream of mixed highway traffic.

(3) "Fringe and transportation corridor parking facilities" means those facilities located in fringe areas which are intended to be used for the temporary storage of vehicles and which are located and designed so as to facilitate the safe and convenient transfer of persons traveling in such vehicles to and from existing or planned public transportation facilities. The term "parking facilities" includes but is not limited to access roads, buildings, structures, equipment improvements and interests in land.

(4) "Fringe areas" means those areas outside the central business district of urban areas.

(5) "Highway traffic control devices" means traffic control devices as defined by the currently approved "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Streets and Highways." [2]

(6) "Nonhighway public mass transit project" means a project to develop or improve public mass transit facilities or equipment. A project need not be physically located or operated on a route designated as part of the Federal-aid urban system, but must be included in and related to a program for the development or improvement of an urban public mass transit system which includes either the construction of fixed rail facilities, or the purchase of passenger equipment, or both. Passenger equipment includes buses, fixed rail rolling stock and other transportation equipment.

(7) "Metropolitan Planning Organization" means that organization designated by the Governor as being responsible, together with the State, for carrying out the provisions of 23 U.S.C. 134, as required by 23 U.S.C. 104(f)(3), and capable of meeting the requirements of section 3(a)(2) and (e)(1), 4(a), and 5(g)(1) and (l) of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended, 49 U.S.C. 1602(a)(2) and (e)(1), 1603(a), and 1604(g)(1) and (l). This organization shall be the forum for cooperative decisionmaking by principal elected officials of general purpose local government.

(8) "Responsible local officials" means: (i) In areas under 50,000 population, the principal elected officials of general purpose local governments; or

(ii) In urbanized areas, the principal elected officials of general purpose local governments acting through the Metropolitan Planning Organization designated by the Governor. For purposes of this definition the term "Governor" includes the Mayor of the District of Columbia and the Governor of Puerto Rico.

§ 810.6 Prerequisites for projects authorized by 23 U.S.C. 137, 142, or 149.

(a) Programs for projects in an urbanized area may not be approved by the Federal Highway Administrator and the Urban Mass Transportation Administrator unless they find that the projects are based on a continuing comprehensive transportation planning process, carried on in accordance with 23 U.S.C. 134 as prescribed in 23 CFR Part 450, Subpart A and included in a transportation improvement program approved pursuant to 23 CFR Part 450, Subpart C and 23 CFR Part 630, Subpart A (Federal-Aid Program Approval and Authorization).

(b) Routes and schedules on public mass transportation systems in urbanized areas which receive Federal-aid assistence under 23 U.S.C. 137 or 142, which are established or significantly altered as the result of receiving this assistance, shall be based upon a continuing comprehensive transportation planning process carried on in accordance with 23 U.S.C. 134 as prescribed in 23 CFR Part 450, Subpart A.

(c) A proposed urban system public transportation project not in an urbanized area must be included in a program of projects approved pursuant to 23 CFR Part 630, Subpart A (Federal-Aid Programs Approval and Authorization).

(d) The full utilization assurances required under 23 U.S.C. 142(f) for each project under this part shall be deemed to have been made if the project is included in the transportation improvement program required by 23 CFR Part 450, Subpart C.

Subpart B—Highway Public Transportation Projects and Special Use Highway Facilities

§ 810.100 Purpose.

The purpose of the regulations in this subpart is to implement 23 U.S.C. 137, 142(a)(1), 142(b), and 149, which by delegation of the Secretary allow the Federal Highway Administrator to approve various highway public mass transportation improvements and special use highway facilities as Federal-aid highway projects.

§ 810.102 Eligible projects.

Under this subpart the Federal Highway Administrator may approve on any Federal-aid system projects which encourage the development, improvement, and use of public mass transportation systems operating motor vehicles (other than on rail) so as to increase the traffic capacity of the Federal-aid system for the movement of persons. Eligible projects include:

(a) Exclusive or preferential bus, truck, or emergency vehicle lanes, except that construction of exclusive or preferential lanes limited to use by emergency vehicles can be approved only on the Federal-aid Interstate System;

(b) Highway traffic control devices;

(c) Bus passenger loading areas and facilities (including shelters) that are on or serve a Federal-aid system; and

(d) Fringe and transportation corridor parking facilities to serve bus and other public mass transportation passengers.

§ 810.104 Applicability of other provisions.

(a) Project authorized under § 810.102 shall be deemed to be highway projects for all purposes of title 23, U.S.C., and shall be subject to all regulations of Title 23, CFR.

(b) Projects approved under this subpart on the Federal-aid Interstate System for exclusive or preferential bus, truck, and emergency vehicle lanes are excepted from the minimum four-lane requirement of 23 U.S.C. 109(b).

(c) The Federal proportional share of a project approved under this subpart shall be the same as that provided in 23 U.S.C. 120 for any other project on the Federal-aid system on which the project is located or which it serves.

§ 810.106 Approval of fringe and transportation corridor parking facilities.

(a) In approving fringe and transportation corridor parking facilities, the Federal Highway Administrator:

(1) Shall make a determination that the proposed parking facility is located in a fringe area;

(2) Shall require that the parking facility be located and designed in conjunction with existing or planned public transportation facilities;

(3) May approve acquisition of land proximate to the right-of-way of a Federal-aid highway;

(4) May approve construction of publicly-owned parking facilities on land within the right-of-way of any Federal-aid highway, including the use of the airspace above and below the established gradeline of the highway pavement, and on land, acquired with or without Federal-aid funds, which is not within the right-of-way of any Federal-aid highway but which was acquired in accordance with the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Land Acquisition Policies Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1894, 42 U.S.C. 4601 et seq.), and;

(5) May permit the charging of fees for the use of the facility, except that the rate of the fee shall not be in excess of that required for maintenance and operation (including compensation to any person for operating such facility).

(b) The Federal Highway Administrator shall not approve a fringe and transportation corridor parking facility project unless:

(1) He has determined that the State, or the political subdivision thereof, where the project is to be located, or any agency or instrumentality of such State or political subdivision, has the authority and capability of constructing, maintaining, and operating the facility;

(2) He has received assurance from the State that the facility will remain in public ownership as long as the facility is needed and that any change in ownership shall have his prior approval;

(3) He has entered into an agreement governing the financing, maintenace, and operation of the parking facility with the State, political subdivision, agency, or instrumentality which shall include necessary requirements to insure that adequate public transportation services will be available to persons using the facility; and

(4) He has approved design standards for constructing the facility developed in cooperation with the State highway agency.

(c) A State, political subdivision, agency, or instrumentality thereof may contract with any person to operate any parking facility constructed under this section.

§ 810.108 Review and Coordination with Urban Mass Transportation Administrator.

The Federal Highway Administrator and the Urban Mass Transportation Administrator will jointly review the Transportation Improvement Program. The Federal Highway Administrator will coordinate with the Urban Mass Transportation Administrator on approval of State urban system program of projects under 23 U.S.C. 105, and will provide the Urban Mass Transportation Administrator with copies of all plans, specifications, and estimates which involve highway public mass transportation projects.

§ 810.110 Notifications.

The Federal Highway Administrator will notify the Urban Mass Transportation Administrator of all projects approved under this subpart.

Subpart C—Making Highway Rights-of-Way Available for Mass Transit Projects

§ 810.200 Purpose.

The purpose of the regulations in this subpart is to implement 23 U.S.C. 142(g), which permits the Federal Highway Administrator to authorize a State to make available to a publicly-owned mass transit authority existing highway rights-of-way for rail or other non-highway public mass transit facilities.

(a) The provisions of this subpart are applicable to the rights-of-way of all Federal-aid highways in which Federal-aid highway funds have participated or will participate in any part of the cost of the highway.

(b) The provisions of this subpart do not preclude acquisition of rights-of-way for use involving mass transit facilities under the provisions of Subparts B and D of this part. Rights-of-way made available under this Subpart may be used in combination with rights-of-way acquired under Subparts B and D of this part.

§ 810.204 Application by mass transit authority.

A publicly-owned mass transit authority desiring to utilize land existing within the publicly acquired right-of-way of any Federal-aid highway for a rail or other nonhighway public mass transit facility may submit an application therefor to the State highway agency.

§ 810.206 Review by the State highway agency.

The State highway agency, after reviewing the application, may request the Federal Highway Administrator to authorize the State to make available to the publicly-owned mass transit authority the land needed for the proposed facility. A request shall be accompanied by evidence that utilization of the land for the proposed purposes will not impair future highway improvements or the safety of highway users.

§ 810.208 Action by the Federal Highway Administrator.

The Federal Highway Administrator after consultation with the Urban Mass Transportation Administrator may authorize the State to make available to the publicly-owner mass transit authority the land needed for the proposed facility, if he finds:

(a) The evidence submitted by the State highway agency under § 810.206 to be satisfactory;

(b) The public interest will be served thereby; and

(c) The proposed action in urbanized areas is based on a continuing comprehensive transportation planning process carried on in accordance with 23 U.S.C. 134 as described under 23 CFR Part 450, Subpart A.

§ 810.210 Authorization for use and occupancy by mass transit.

(a) Upon being authorized by the Federal Highway Administrator, the State shall enter into a written agreement with the publicly-owned mass transit authority relating to the use and occupancy of highway right-of-way subject to the following conditions:

(1) That any significant revision in the design, construction, or use of the facility for which the land was made available shall receive prior review and approval by the State highway agency.

(2) The use of the lands made available to the publicly-owned mass transit authority shall not be transferred to another party without the prior approval of the State highway agency.

(3) That, if the publicly-owned mass transit authority fails within a reasonable or agreed time to use the land for the purpose for which it was made available, or if it abandons the land or the facility developed, such use shall terminate and any abandoned facility developed or under development by the publicly-owned mass transit authority shall be disposed of in a manner prescribed by the State.

(b) A copy of the use and occupancy agreement and any modification under paragraphs (a)(1), (2), and (3) of this section shall be forwarded to the Federal Highway Administrator.

§ 810.212 Use to be without charge.

The use and occupancy of the lands made available by the State to the publicly-owned transit authority shall be without charge. Costs incidental to making the lands available for mass transit shall be borne by the publicly-owned mass transit authority.

Subpart D—Federal-Aid Urban System Nonhighway Public Mass Transit Projects

§ 810.300 Purpose.

The purpose of the regulations in this subpart is to implement 23 U.S.C. 142(a)(2), which allows the Urban Mass Transportation Administrator, by delegation of the Secretary, to approve nonhighway public mass transit projects as Federal-aid urban system projects, and 23 U.S.C. 142(c), which permits approval of nonhighway public mass transit projects in lieu of highway projects on the Federal-aid urban system in urbanized areas.

§ 810.302 Eligible projects.

(a) Eligible projects are those defined as non-highway public mass transit projects in § 810.4 of this chapter subject to the limitations in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) All projects under this subpart for the construction, reconstruction, or improvement of fixed facilities shall be located within the urban boundaries established under 23 CFR Part 470, Subpart B.

§ 810.304 Submission of projects.

(a) An application for an urban system nonhighway public mass transit project (which shall constitute the submission of plans, specifications, and estimates for the project) shall be developed by the Governor or by any person or entity authorized by State or local law to plan, organize, operate, manage, or otherwise provide mass transportation service in and for the urban areas. The application shall be prepared in accordance with procedures applicable to the preparation of an application for a capital or technical assistance grant from UMTA as set forth in the UMTA External Op-

[2] The MUTCD was published by the U.S. Department of Transportation, Federal Highway Administration, 1971. erating Manual (UMTA Order 1000.2, August 22, 1972, as amended).[*]

(b) The application should be submitted to the UMTA Administrator. Upon submission of the application to the UMTA Administrator, the State highway agency should submit a request to the FHWA Administrator for a reservation of apportioned Federal-aid Urban System funds.

§ 810.306 Reservation of funds.

(a) When the FHWA Administrator receives the request for fund reservation, he will—

(1) Determine whether sufficient Federal-aid urban system funds are available to finance the Federal share of the cost of the proposed projects; and

(2) Notify the State highway agency and the UMTA Administrator of their reservation.

(b) The apportioned funds reserved for the proposed project under paragraph (a) of this section shall remain available for obligation unless the FHWA Administrator is notified that the application has been disapproved by the UMTA Administrator, or unless the local responsible officials in whose jurisdiction the project is to be located and the State highway agency jointly request the withdrawal of the project application.

§ 810.308 Approval of urban system nonhighway public mass transit projects.

(a) An urban system public mass transit project may be approved by the UMTA Administrator when he—

(1) Determines that the application and project are in accordance with the provisions of the UMTA External Operating Manual (UMTA Order 1000.2 dated August 22, 1972, as amended) relating to capital assistance or technical studies grants, as appropriate; and

(2) Receives notification from the FHWA Administrator that sufficient apportioned Federal-aid urban system funds are available to finance the Federal share of the cost of the proposed project.

(b) Approval of the plans, specifications, and estimates of a nonhighway public mass transit project shall be deemed to occur on the date the UMTA Administrator approves the project application. This approval which is subject to the availability of budget authority at the time of obligation, will obligate the United States to pay its proportional share of the cost of the project.

(c) Upon approval of an urban system nonhighway public mass transit project, the UMTA Administrator will execute a grant contract covering implementation of the project with the Governor, or with any person or entity designated by the Governor including the State highway agency, which is authorized by State or local law to plan, organize, operate, manage, or otherwise provide mass transportation services and facilities in and for the urban area.

§ 810.310 Notification.

The UMTA Administrator will notify the FHWA Administrator of all projects approved under this Subpart.

§ 810.312 Applicability of other provisions.

The Federal proportional share of the cost of an urban system nonhighway public mass transit project approved under this subpart shall be equal to the Federal share which would have been paid if the project were a highway project, as determined under 23 U.S.C. 120 (a).

Title 29—Labor

CHAPTER XVII—OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

PART 1977—DISCRIMINATION AGAINST EMPLOYEES EXERCISING RIGHTS UNDER THE WILLIAMS-STEIGER OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT OF 1970

Walkaround Pay Disputes

AGENCY: Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Labor.

ACTION: Legal Interpretation.

SUMMARY: This amendment to § 1977.21 of Chapter XVII of Title 29 adopts a new interpretation concluding that an employer's failure to compensate employees for time spent participating in a walkaround inspection conducted pursuant to section 8 of the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1590 et seq.; 29 U.S.C. 651 et seq.) constitutes discrimination under section 11(c) of the Act (29 U.S.C. 660). This interpretive change is based on a thorough reexamination of the legal issues involved.

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 10, 1977, except as noted below.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. James Foster, Office of Public Affairs, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Third Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Room N-3641, Washington, D.C. 20210 (Tel. No. 202-523-8151).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This amendment is made pursuant to section 8(g)(2) of the Act (29 U.S.C. 657) and Secretary of Labor's Order No. 8-76 (41 FR 25059). General notice of proposed rulemaking, public participation therein, and delay in effective date are not required by 5 U.S.C. 553, since this section is an interpretive rule and general statement of policy.

Section 11(c)(1) of the Act proscribes any discriminatory action against an employee because the employee has: (1) Filed a complaint under or related to the Act; (2) instituted or caused to be instituted any proceeding under the Act or related to the Act; (3) testified or is about to testify in any proceeding under the Act or related to the Act or (4) exercised on behalf of himself or others any right afforded by the Act. As embodied in the Agency's interpretive regulation at 29 CFR 1977.21, it was the original interpretation of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration of the Department of Labor that an employer's refusal to compensate employees for time spent in a walkaround inspection generally did not constitute discrimination under section 11(c)(1) of the Act. For the reasons stated below, it has been determined that the earlier interpretation was not correct and that an employer who fails to pay an employee for walkaround time violates section 11(c) of the Act.

This decision is based on an interpretation of the Act including the policy and purposes underlying section 8(e) and the entire enforcement scheme of the Act. The right of employees to participate in walkaround is expressly guaranteed by section 8(e) of the Act, which provides that an employee representative shall be given the opportunity to accompany the Secretary's representative during the physical inspection of any workpiece under section 8(a) for the purpose of aiding the inspection. Thus, the right to participate in a walkaround is not a right corollary, or derived from, the Secretary's mandate to conduct workplace inspections. Rather, it is an employee right expressly granted by the Act, similar to the express employee right to file complaints, whose exercise is protected under section 11(c).

This express right of employees to participate in the inspection process is crucial to the successful enforcement of the Act. Employee walkarounds are intended to serve as an aid to the Secretary in the performance of his duties and responsibilities under the Act to conduct comprehensive and effective inspections. Employees often are the best sources of information concerning hazardous areas in a workplace, on how machinery operates, and on potential or actual exposure of employees to workplace hazards. This information is essential to enable representatives of the Secretary to determine whether violations of the Act exist and what enforcement action should be taken. This view of section 8(e) is strongly supported by the legislative history of the Act. Thus, in the development of the Act, members of Congress repeatedly emphasized the crucial importance of employee participation in the walkaround process:

During the field hearings (on the OSHA legislation) * * *, the complaint was repeatedly voiced that under existing safety and health legislation, employees are generally not advised of the content and results of a Federal or State inspection. Indeed, they are often not even aware of the inspector's presence and are thereby deprived of an opportunity to inform him of alleged hazards. Much potential benefit of an inspection is therefore never realized, and workers tend to be cynical regarding the thoroughness and efficacy of such inspections. Consequently, in order to aid in the inspection and provide an appropriate degree of involvement of employees themselves in the physical inspections of their own places of employment, * * * an authorized representative of employees should be given an opportunity to accompany the person who is making the physical inspection * * * the inspector should have an opportunity to question employees in private so that they will not be hesitant to point out hazardous conditions which they might otherwise be reluctant to discuss. S. Rep. No. 1282, 91st Cong., 2nd Sess. 11 (1970).

Certainly no one knows better than the working man what the conditions are, where the failures are, where the hazards are, and particularly where there are safety hazards. The opportunity to have the worknig man himself and a representative of other working men accompanying inspectors is manifestly wise and fair, and in arriving at the objectives of this legislation (OSHA) I think it is one of the key provisions of the bill * * *. Remarks of Senator Williams in Legislative History of the Occupation Safety and Health Act of 1970, 430 (1971) (hereinafter Leg. Hist.).

See also H.R. Rep. 1291, 91st Cong., 2nd Sess. 852 (1970); Remarks of Cong. Steiger in Leg. Hist., 1216-1217.

Further, other provisions of the Act underscore the overriding importance of employee walkaround in facilitating a free and open exchange of information between the representative of the Secretary and employees. The Act expressly provides in section 8(f)(2) that employees have the right to notify the OSHA inspectors prior to or during the inspection itself of violations which they have reason to believe exist in the workplace. The likelihood and effectiveness of this notification would be greatly increased where an employee representative was accompanying the compliance officer during the inspection.

The wisdom of the Congressional judgment to ensure open channels of communication between the Secretary and employees has been continually reinforced throughout the six years of enforcement experience. During these years, employee participation and cooperation at the inspection stage has proved to be critically important to enforcement efforts under the Act. Information provided by employees often makes the difference between success and failure in the effort to achieve the elimination of workplace hazards. For example, there are many hazardous conditions which cannot be adequately evaluated by OSHA without information from employees who are familiar with the particular condition in the context of the particular workplace and who transmit this information to the compliance officer during the walkaround. In addition, there have been many instances where employees have informed OSHA during the inspection of hazards which might otherwise not have been detected by the compliance officer. Moreover, the increasingly complex nature of workplace hazards, as in the health area, has imposed greater burdens on the Secretary in detecting these hazards and has correspondingly made the need for employee involvement at the inspection stage even more compelling.

It is against this statutory background that an employer's refusal to compensate employees for time spent during the walkaround must be viewed. This refusal has a twofold and related impact: It is inherently destructive of the employees' right to participate in the walkaround and, consequently, impedes the free flow of information between employees and representatives of the Secretary which is so critical to effective enforcement of the Act.

It is plain that the failure of an employer to pay an employee for time spent during the walkaround will have a strong chilling effect on an employee's willingness to act as representative of employees during a walkaround. The loss of pay involved would clearly constitute a significant economic disincentive to employees' exercising their express statutory right under section 8(e) to accompany a compliance officer during an inspection. Moreover, the failure to pay for walkaround would also interfere with the statutory right of employees to notify compliance officers of hazards prior to and during inspections, a right expressly granted to employees under section 8(f)(2) of the Act.

The Supreme Court has held, in the context of an unfair labor practice charge of discrimination under section 8(a)(3) of the National Labor Relations Act based on an employer's refusal to pay striking employees vacation benefits while paying these benefits to non-striking employees, that certain employer conduct may be so "inherently destructive" of employee rights that no specific proof of discriminatory motivation otherwise present in 8(a)(3) proceedings is needed in order to prohibit conduct. "NLRB v. Great Dane Trailers, Inc.", 388 U.S. 26, 34 (1967); "NLRB v. Erie Resistor Corp.", 373 U.S. 221, 228, 231 (1963). The failure to pay for walkaround participation is conduct which is "inherently destructive" of employee rights under the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

When employees are discouraged from present and future participation in the walkaround, the open channels of communication between employees and the Secretary are seriously impaired. OSHA compliance personnel would be substantially limited to reliance on information provided by employers—the subject of the investigation—thereby reducing the likelihood of obtaining complete, objective and useful information on workplace hazards. Thus, the failure to pay for walkaround is inherently destructive not only of employees' protected rights, but also of the entire enforcement scheme of the Act.

It has further come to the attention of the Agency that management representatives are often paid for the time spent accompanying OSHA representatives during an inspection while the employees participating in the same activity are not paid. Thus, an employee of the employer designated by the employer would be paid for time spent on the walkaround while an employee designated by the employee representative would not be paid. Where such disparate treatment occurs, it would constitute an independent and additional ground for a finding of discriminatory conduct under section 11(c).

The Secretary's interpretation that denial of walk-around pay violates section 11(c) is reinforced by the current interpretation of the Department of Labor that time spent by employees participating in an OSHA walk-around inspection constitutes "work time" or "hours worked" under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). Under this interpretation, time spent by employees during a walkaround inspection is analogous to other activities which are considered hours worked under the Department's Interpretive Bulletin on Hours Worked (29 CFR Part 785) such as time spent for coffee breaks (§ 785.18), adjusting grievances (§ 785.42), waiting for and receiving medical attention (§ 785.43), working for public and charitable purposes (§ 785.44), and developing suggestions (§ 785.45). These instances of employee activity, as well as the walkarounds by employee representatives on OSHA inspections, are considered hours worked, even if the employer merely permits but does not require this activity, so long as the activity is done while the employee is required to be on the employer's premises. This interpretation further supports the conclusion that failure to pay for walkaround time is discriminatory under section 11(c). Since walkaround time is working time under FLSA, the employee is not being paid solely because he is engaged in walkaround activity under the Act. It follows, therefore, that the discriminatory action by the employer, the failure to compensate employees for time spent, is "because" of the employee's exercise of his statutory rights under section 8(e), and is therefore in violation of section 11(c).

Finally, the same factors which govern the Agency's decision that the failure to pay for walkaround constitutes discrimination under 11(c) would support the conclusion that the failure to pay for time spent by employees in participating in any other inspection related activity constitutes discrimination under section 11(c). Other related employee activity includes responding to questions by compliance officers and participation in opening and closing conferences.

Effective date. This interpretation is effective on August 10, 1977, when public announcement of the interpretation, which received wide publicity, was made. However, this interpretation is effective on September 20, 1977, as to any employer who did not receive notice of the interpretation prior to that date.

In accordance with this statement of policy, 29 CFR 1977.21 is hereby amended as follows:

§ 1977.21 Walkaround pay disputes.

The Secretary recognizes the essential nature of employee participation in walkaround inspections under section 8(e) of the Act. Employees constitute a vital source of information to representatives of the Secretary concerning the presence of workplace hazards. Employees should be able to freely exercise their statutory right to participate in walkarounds without fear of economic loss, such as the denial of pay for the time spent assisting OSHA compliance personnel during workplace inspections. Therefore, in order to insure the unimpeded flow of information to the Secretary's inspectors, as well as the unfettered statutory right of employees to participate in walkaround inspections, an employer's failure to pay employees for time during which they are engaged in walkaround inspections, is discriminatory under section 11(c). In addition, where employees participate in other inspection related activities, such as responding to questions of compliance officers, or participating in the opening and closing conferences, an employer's failure to pay employees for time engaged in these activities, is discriminatory under section 11(c).

(Sec. 8(g)(2), Pub. L. 91-596, 84 Stat. 1600 (29 U.S.C. 657).)

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 15th day of September 1977.

EULA BINGHAM,
Assistant Secretary of Labor.

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records; Annual Publication

Agency: ACTION
Action: Annual publication of Systems of Records
Summary: The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of the Privacy Act Systems of Records maintained by ACTION.
Effective date: August 1, 1977.
For further infirmation contact:
John F. Nolan, Director, Administrative Services Division, Office of Administration and Finance, Washington, D.C. 20525 (202-254-8105)

Supplementary information: the notices published in accord with 5 U.S.C. 522a(e) (4) and (11) of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-570) in the Federal Register on Tuesday, June 14, 1977, in 42 FR No. 114 at page 30412 and on Thursday, December 9, 1976, in 41 FR No. 238 at pages 53940 thru 53960 continue in effect except for systems numbered ACTION/OD/1, Office of the Director Personnel Records and ACTION/OD-2, National Advisory Council File.

This notice does not include specific identification of certain systems of records in the custody of the Agency due to the fact that other Federal agencies have assumed responsibility for publishing government-wide notices with respect thereto. Primarily this includes publication of systems of records pertaining to Federal employee personnel records by the United States Civil Service Commission.

Special note should be taken of the Preliminary Statement to the systems of records containing an indication of general routine uses, general exemptions from disclosure, general regulations as to notification, access and contest, and other material applicable to ACTION record systems. The Agency desires to avoid unnecessary repetition and duplication in the publication of each system of records which might make it difficult for the public to review and locate a system in which a record might be available. The publication of general routine uses and exemptions does not serve as an indication that each system will be normally used or unable for such purposes or subject to such exemptions, but that the use of any system for such routine use shall be permitted upon request of a designated routine user. Included in the preliminary statement of routine uses are certain indications of special exemptions with respect to volunteer personnel files and medical/psychiatric records as to which special procedures are required to comply with the Agency's special responsibility to volunteers and to personnel as to whom it maintains medical/psychiatric information.

Changes made to systems and the Preliminary Statement:

Preliminary Statement

General Routine use number 10 has been added. Notice was published in the Federal Register on Tuesday, June 14, 1977, in 42 FR No. 114 at page 30412. The Location of Regional Offices reflects a change of address for ACTION Region VIII.

Systems of Records

System location: DO-9 and DO-11—Deleted Washington Service Center and address. Added Atlanta Service Center and address.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: AF-21—Corrected to reflect that the system pertains to individuals contracted by Headquarters Procurement Branch Office. DO-2—Corrected statement to relect that a medical file is established for all Domestic Volunteers.

Categories of records in the system: AF-1—Deleted the words "and other travel related material" and listed the types of records included in the system. DO-5—Corrected to reflect congressional inquiry records. IO-10 and IO-11—Deleted statement regarding "a card file." Card files are no longer maintained.

Authority for maintenance of the system: AF-3—Deleted "Federal Employees Compensation Act Regulations of the U.S. Department of Labor."

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: The statement, "See preliminary statement" was added to systems to clarify for the reader that all are subject to our 10 General Routine Uses unless specifically limited. CA-1, GC-2 & GC-3—Added subject to routine use number 10. AF-12—Corrects 200 dollar amount to read 500 dollars. AF-3—Deleted the words, "Office of Federal Agency Programs" and "Office of Workers Compensation Programs, the Department of Labor." AF-15 and AF-26—Deleted duplication of routine use number 7. GC-1—Has been corrected to include the Routine Uses heading and the words "See Preliminary Statement."

Retrievability: AF-11—Added the words, "some records are maintained by country."

Retention and disposal: AF-13—Corrected the seventy-five year retention date to read five. DO-1—Rephrased statement to reflect that file is retired from the field to the Federal Records Center via ACTION Headquarters. DO-8—Changed to reflect three year retention. IO-2—Changed to reflect one year retention.

System manager(s) and address: DO-1, DO-9 and DO-11—Were changed to reflect that the Administrative Officer is the system manager while the records are in the field.

Record source categories: AF-3—Deleted the words, "Medical personnel treating or examining the employee. Witnesses to an accident or occurrence giving rise to a claim."

Special note regarding AF-22: AF-22 is described to reflect that the Talent Bank is maintained by two offices in addition to the Personnel Management Division. The basic job application system has not changed. The system location and system manager(s) and address have been changed to reflect the Office of the Director and the Associate Director for International Operations. The retenton and disposal has been changed to reflect a two year retention date.

This notice is issued in Washington, D.C., August 1, 1977.

James Duke,
Executive Officer.

Preliminary Statement

Operating Units—Identification of the operating units within the Agency to which a particular system of records pertains appears as "ACTION" followed by a designated abbreviation. The abbreviations and their meanings are as follows:

OD—Office of the Director
DO—Office of Domestic and Anti-Poverty Operations
IO—Office of International Operations
OPP—Office of Policy and Planning
CA—Office of Congressional Affairs
GC—Office of General Counsel
EO—Office of Equal Opportunity
AF—Office of Administration and Finance
PA—Office of Public Affairs
SA—Office of Special Affairs
IG—Office of the Inspector General

Offical Personnel Files—Official personnel files of Federal employees in the General Schedule in the custody of the Agency are considered the property of the Civil Service Commission. Access to such files shall be in accordance with such notices published by the Commission. Access to such files in the custody of the Agency will be granted to individuals to whom such files pertain upon request to the Office of the Director, Personnel Management Division, 806 Connecticut Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20525.

Files of employees in the Foreign Service which are not specifically covered by the Civil Service Commission publication are inter-filed with all other personnel files and treated in the same manner. The Commission regulations for official personnel files are therefore adopted by reference for Foreign Service personnel files in the custody of the Agency provided however that access, contests and appeals as to any record shall be heard as provided in accord with ACTION Regulations under the Privacy Act and the Freedom of Information Act.

Various offices in the Agency maintain files which contain miscellaneous copies of personnel material affecting ACTION employees. This would include copies of standard personnel forms, evaluation, etc. These files are kept only for immediate office reference use and are considered by the Agency to be part of the personnel file system. The Agency's internal regulations provide that such information is a part of the general personnel files and can only be disclosed through the Office of the Director, Personnel Management Division, in order that he may insure that any material to be disclosed is relevant, material, current, and fair to the individual employee. It is also the policy of the Agency to limit the use of such files and to encourage the destruction of as many as possible.

Statement of General Routine Uses—The following routine uses are incorporated by this reference into each system of records set forth herein, unless such incorporation is specifically limited in the system description.

1. In the event that a record in a system of records maintained by the Agency indicates any violation or potential violation of the law whether civil, criminal, or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant record in this system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state, local or foreign charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation, or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation, or order issued pursuant thereto; such referral shall also include and be deemed to authorize, (1) any and all appropriate and necessary uses of such records in a court of law or before an administrative board or hearing, and (2) such other interagency referrals as may be necessary to carry out the receiving agencies assigned law enforcement duties.

2. In the event the Agency receives a request from a Federal, state or local instrumentality under the jurisdiction of the United States for a record to be used for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity, authorized by law, such record shall be disclosed to such agency or instrumentality provided ACTION receives a written request from the head of such agency or instrumentality specifying the particular portion of the record desired and the law enforcement activity for which the record is sought.

3. A record may be disclosed as a routine use to designated officers and employees of other agencies and departments of the Federal government having an interest in the individual for employment purposes including the hiring or retention of any employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter involved, provided however, that other than information furnished for the issuance of authorized security clearances, information divulged hereunder as to full-time volunteers under Title I of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973 (42 U.S.C. 4951) or the Peace Corps Act (22 U.S.C. 2501) shall be limited to the provision of dates of service and a standard description of service as heretofore provided by the Agency.

4. A record may be disclosed as a routine use in the course of presenting evidence to a court, magistrate or administrative tribunal of appropriate jurisdiction and such disclosure shall include disclosures to opposing counsel in the course of settlement negotiations.

5. A record may be disclosed as a routine use to a member of Congress submitting a request involving an individual who is a constitutent of such member who has requested assistance from the member with respect to the subject matter of the record.

6. Information from certain systems of records especially those relating to applicants for Federal employment or volunteer service may be disclosed as a routine use to designated officers and employees of other agencies of the Federal government for the purpose of obtaining information as to suitability, qualifications and loyalty to the United States government.

7. Information from records systems may be disclosed to any source from which information is requested in the course of an investigation to the extent necessary to identify the individual inform the source of the nature and purpose of the investigation, and to identify the type of information requested.

8. Information in any system may be used as a data source, for management information, for the production of summary descriptive statistics and analytical studies in support of the function for which the records are collected and maintained, or for related personnel management functions or manpower studies. Information may also be disclosed to respond to general requests for statistical information (without personal identification of individuals) under the Freedom of Information Act or the Privacy Act or to locate specific individuals for personnel research or other personnel management functions.

9. Information in any system of records may be disclosed to a Congressional office, in response to an inquiry from any such office, made at the request of the individual to whom the record pertains.

10. A record from any system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to the National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration in records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906.

Exemption of Disclosure—National Defense and Foreign Policy Matters—Certain systems of records covered by the Act and maintained by the Agency may from time to time contain materials subject to specific exemptions authorized by 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1) relating to national defense and foreign policy materials. Such materials, as an example, might consist of classified cables or other documents properly classified under Executive Order. The Agency maintains the right to exempt such materials from disclosure wherever they might appear in such systems of records, but only to the extent necessary to protect such material as required by Executive Order and various statutes in the interest of national defense and foreign policy.

Partial Exemption of Medical/Psychiatric Information—Certain systems of records maintained by the Agency contain medical/psychiatric information, the disclosure of which might harm an individual if disclosed directly to him. As to such records, if in the sole judgment of appropriate officials of the Agency such disclosure could have an adverse effect upon an individual under the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a(f)(3), disclosure may be limited to a physician chosen by the requesting individual or his authorized representative.

Location of Regional Offices—The Agency maintains ten Regional Offices in which certain systems, or parts of systems are maintained. The Agency also maintains State offices under the jurisdiction of the Regional Offices. The Regional Offices, their address, and the States within their respective jurisdictions are listed below. In the event of any doubt as to whether a record is maintained in a Regional Office, a query may be directed to the Director, Administrative Services, ACTION, Washington, D.C. 20525, who shall furnish all assistance necessary to locate a specific record.

ADVISORY COMMISSION ON INTERGOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records; Annual Publication

On October 3, 1975, there were published in the Federal Register in accordance with Section 3(e)(4) of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. Sec. 552a(e)(4), notices of proposed routine uses (40 FR 46064-5) for four systems of records maintained by the Commission. No comments were received from members of the public. Through administrative oversight however, these routine uses were never adopted and annual notices were not published in the Federal Register.

In addition ACIR-3, the Secondary Personnel Files system is being deleted because the records are being combined with the Official Personnel Records System, ACIR-4 which is being transferred from the General Services Administration to the Commission. The system location of ACIR-4 is changed from the General Services Administration to the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, 726 Jackson Place, NW., Washington, D.C. 20575.

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by 5 U.S.C. Sec. 552a, the routine uses are adopted and the complete system notices are reproduced in their entirety below. In accordance with Sections 3(e)(4) and (11) of the Privacy Act, these notices constitute the annual compilation of notices of systems of records maintained by the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

Dated: June 22, 1977.

Wayne F. Anderson,
Executive Director.

Assistant to the Executive Director, Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, 726 Jackson Place, NW., Washington, D.C. 20575

Categories of individuals covered by the system: The system contains individuals and organizations representing the executive and legislative sectors of all levels of government, community civic and business leaders, members of the academic community, and other individuals (both foreign and domestic) interested in government.

Categories of records in the system: Name of individual or organization, title, address. The individual is provided with functional codes up to five out of a possible 999 choices, five interest codes from a possible 99, and one publication (Privacy Act) code. Each entity is also assigned an identification number.

Authority for maintenance of the system: The Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations Act. 42 U.S.C. Sec. 4271.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: To mail commission reports, announcements, recommendations, as well as other information on government and intergovernmental relations produced by the Commission and others.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: The information in the system of records is maintained on keypunch cards and optical scanning sheets until entered into the master magnetic tape.

Retrievability: An individual report may be retrieved only by specific identification number assigned at the time it is placed in the system.

Safeguards: The physical master tapes are kept in locked, fireproof cabinets, in limited access facilities, in a guarded bank building. Access to the master tape for routine uses is restricted to the system manager and his assistant (two people) and requires 1043 OCR Keypunch-encoded information in proper sequential presentation.

Retention and disposal: The records are maintained until the recipient no longer classifies as important for ACIR retention. Updating is handled biennially at the minimum and is ongoing regularly. Disposal is handled by electronic erasure. All paperwork is destroyed when the record is entered into the master file.

System manager(s) and address: Assistant to the Executive Director, Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, 726 Jackson Place, NW., Washington, D.C. 20575.

Notification procedure: Same as the above. See Commission access regulations.

Contesting record procedures: Same as the above. See Commission access regulations.

Record source categories: The individual record is created from individual responses, public and organizational directories, other mailing lists, and information obtained in the day-to-day operation of the Commission. The individual is notified at least biennially that he is on the system and has the right to be removed or to limit the use of his record by the Commission.

AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records; Annual Publication

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C., 552a(e)(4), the Privacy Act of 1974, the Agency for International Development hereby publishes its systems of records as presently maintained. The systems were originally published at 40 FR 39463 (Aug. 27, 1975) and amended at 40 FR 45768 (Oct. 2, 1975) and 40 FR 51174 (Nov. 3, 1975). Additional amendments were proposed in the Agency's annual publication at 41 FR 38900 (Sept. 13, 1976). As a result of subsequent comments received from the U.S. Department of Labor, additional routine uses were proposed at 42 FR 31511 (June 21, 1977). A relocation of some systems was published at 42 FR 31511 (June 21, 1977). Additional amendments were proposed at 42 FR 37084 (July 19, 1977) and 42 FR 40302 (Aug. 9, 1977). The prior notification requirement (552a(e)(11)) was waived for the August 9, 1977, publication.

Changes in this publication include deletions which referenced medical records, which are no longer a part of our systems of records, and language added for clarification purposes.

John J. Gilligan, Administrator.

Statement of General Routine Uses

The following routine uses apply to, and are incorporated by reference into each system of records set forth below to the extent therein applicable:

1. In the event of an indication of a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by statute or particular program pursuant therto, a record in this system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

2. A record from this system of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information if necessary to obtain information relevant to an Agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the approval of a grant or other benefits.

3. A record from this system of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, approval of a grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

4. A record from this system of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, in the course of presenting evidence to a court, magistrate or administrative tribunal, including disclosures to opposing counsel in the course of settlement negotiations.

5. A record from this system of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, to the Department of State and its posts abroad for the purpose of transmission of information between organizational units of the Agency, or for purposes related to the responsibilities of the Department of State in conduction United States foreign policy or protecting United States citizens, such as the assignment of employees to positions abroad, the reporting of accidents abroad, evacuation of employees and dependents, and other purposes for which officers and employees of the Department of State have a need for the records in the performance of their duties.

6. A record from this system of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, to a foreign government or international agency in response to its request for information to facilitate the conduct of U.S. relations with that government or agency through the issuance of such documents as visas, country clearances, identification cards, drivers' licenses, diplomatic lists, licenses to import or export personal effects, and other official documents and permits routinely required in connection with the official service or travel abroad of the individual and his or her dependents.

7. A record from this system of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, to Federal agencies with which the Agency has entered into an agreement to provide services to assist the Agency in carrying out its functions under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as amended. Such disclosures would be for the purpose of transmission of information between organizational units of the Agency; of providing to the original employing agency information concerning the services of its employee while under the supervision of the Agency, including performance evaluations, reports of conduct, awards and commendations, and information normally obtained in the course of personnel administration and employee supervision; or of providing other information directly related to the purposes of the inter-agency agreement as set forth therein, and necessary and relevant to its implementation.

8. A record form this system of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, to a Member of Congress or a Congressional staff representative of the Member in response to an inquiry from a Member made at the request of an individual.

9. A record in those systems of records which contains medical information may be disclosed, as a routine use, to the medical adviser of any individual submitting a request for access to the record under the Act and 15 CFR Part 4b if, in the sole judgment of the Agency, disclosure could have and adverse effect upon the individual, under the provision of 5 U.S.C. 552a(f)(3) and implementing regulations at 15 CFR 4b.6.

10. A record contained in this sytem of records may be disclosed, as a routine use, to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

11. A record from this system of recods may be disclosed, as a routine use, to the Foreign Service Grievance Board in the course of the Board's consideration of matters properly before it.

A.I.D. - 3

System name: Employees Automated Records.

System location: Office of Data Management, Agency for International Development, 1975 Florida Avenue, Washington, D.C.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: a. A.I.D. Employees including: Direct-hire employees assigned positions in the United States; United States citizen direct-hire employees assigned to positions overseas; and employees of Federal, state, or local government agencies detailed or assigned to A.I.D.; and

b. Applicants for employment

Categories of records in the system: This automated system consists of ten files of computerized records maintained on magnetic discs and magnetic tapes. These files are described below. The first seven (a through g) and the tenth (j) pertain to the category of individuals defined in a. above; the eighth (h) pertains only to the category of individuals defined in b. above; the ninth file (i) is maintained separately from the other eight files.

a. Master Data File - This file contains information about the organizational structure of the Agency, and the location within that structure of all employees. Individual records, in addition to containing data describing the position incumbered by the employee, contain the following types of information on the employee: basic data such as name, Social Security Account Number (SSAN), birth date, veteran preference, tenure group, service computation date, reportable handicap, retirement system, and participation in Federal Employee' Government Life Insurance; pay data such as pay plan, grade or class, step within grade, date appointed to present grade, and work schedule; personal data supplied by the employee such as sex, marital status, state of legal residence, and academic education level; data on retirement from a uniformed service, if applicable; a wide variety of dates including those that indicate suspense actions which are due at the future date, and others used for other purposes by personnel managers such as date assigned overseas and date returned from overseas; for Civil Service and Foreign Service employees their evaluation rating and the date of their last evaluation; qualifications and skills data such as college degrees, special prior experience, training courses completed, proficiency in foreign languages, and skills of use to the Agency.

b. A Chronological Data Record is maintained on each employee and contains up to ten entries reflecting the most recent 'personnel actions' on that individual, such as appointment, conversion, reassignment, transfer, promotion, extension, and separation. Included for each entry is the type of action code and title, effective date, position assigned to, including position title, and employee's pay plan and grade at the time.

c. Separated Employee File - For employees who have been separated, a record is maintained made up of the employee data in the Master Data Record and the Chronological Data Record as described in a and b above. This record is maintained for three years after date of separation.

d. Index File - This file contains a record for each employee, but contains only the SSAN and the Position Sequence Number of the position to which the employee is assigned. It is used to find the employee's Master Data Record when only the SSAN is known.

e. Turnaround File - This file contains only records generated by the computer and is used by the computer to update the Master Data and Chronological Record files on future effective personnel actions. It is also used by the process that prints the Standard Form 50, Report of Personnel Actions.

f. SF 50 File - This file contains data that was used in printing the Standard Form 50 and is retained for 90 days in the event the Standard Form 50 requires correction or cancellation. It contains basic data on the employee and personnel action being effected by the Standard Form 50.

g. Transaction History File - This file contains a record on each file maintenance transaction input into the computer that passed computer program edits and is used in maintaining system files.

h. Applicant Data File - This file contains name, SSAN, veteran preference, and qualification data supplied by the applicant.

i. Minority Group Designator File - This file contains SSAN and a minority code designator, used in preparing reports required by the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972.

c. Retired files are maintained at the Washington National Records Center, 4205 Suitland Road, Suitland, Maryland.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: In furtherance of an investigation for suspected violation of criminal laws - present and former employees of the Agency and of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation; present and former employees of contractors used by the Agency and individuals involved or associated with such employees; individuals investigated at the request of another Federal agency.

Categories of records in the system: Reports of investigations concerning violations of Federal civil and criminal statutes and other violations of Title 18, U.S.C., and violations of Agency regulations; personal identification data and details of activities; related correspondence with individuals, with other organizational units of the Agency, and with federal, state, and local government agencies; records of disciplinary or other actions deriving from investigations; and copies of reports of investigations conducted by the Agency on the behalf of other federal agencies. Executive Order 10973 of November 3, 1961, and State Department Delegation of Authority 104 of November 3, 1963.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Attorney General's memorandum re: P.L. 725 (28 U.S.C. 535); Foreign assistance Act of 1961, as amended; Title 18 U.S.C.;

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: To persons contacted in the course of an investigation to the extent necessary to further the purposes of the investigation.

To law enforcement agencies, U.S. Government agencies, courts, the Department of State, foreign governments and international agencies, and Members of Congress, for the purposes set forth in the Statement of General Routine Uses immediately preceding these specific notices of systems of records.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper copy in file folders.

Retrievability: By name of individual.

Safeguards: Files in Washington are stored in combination locked containers or in intrusion-alarmed areas. Files in field offices abroad are stored in secured areas with access by combination lock doors; in combination locked containers, and/or in areas secured by U.S. Marine guards. Access to records is limited to authorized screened personnel with an official need to know.

Retention and disposal: Records are retained for three years after the closing of a case and are then retired to the Washington National Records Center for 10 years after last entry in file. Copies of reports furnished by other agencies are returned to the originating agency when so requested; otherwise such records are retained until cases are closed and then retired to the National Washington Records Center for the periods stated above.

System manager(s) and address: Director, Office of Inspections and Investigations, 1621 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia.

Systems exempted from certain provisions of the act: Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(j)(2) all information about an individual in the record which meets the criteria stated in 5 U.S.C. 552a(j)(2) are exempted from the notice, access, and contest requirements of 5 U.S.C. 552a except subsections (b), (c)(1) and (2), (e)(4)(A) through (F), (e)(6), (7), (9), (10), and (11), and (i) If the 5 U.S.C. 552a(j) (2) exemption is held to be invalid, then this system is determined to be exempt, under 5 U.S.C. 552(a) (k) (1) and (2) of the Act, from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (c) (3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4)(G), (H) and (I) and (f). The reasons for asserting the exemptions are to protect the materials required by Executive Order to be kept secret in the interest of the national defense or foreign policy, to prevent subjects of investigation from frustrating the investigatory process, to insure the proper functioning and integrity of law enforcement activities, to prevent disclosures of investigative techniques, to maintain the ability to obtain necessary information, to fulfill commitments made to sources to protect their identities and the confidentiality of information and to avoid endangering these sources and law enforcement personnel. See Agency Regulations published in this issue of the Federal Register.

APPENDIX

In the event that a system of records maintained by this agency to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, State, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violations or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a "routine use" to a Federal, State or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized offical engaged in investigation or settlement or a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of Federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a Federal agency for purposes of audit.

The information contained in this system of records will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that circular.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a "routine use" to a Federal, State or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a Federal agency in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement of a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of Federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a Federal agency for purposes of audit.

The information contained in this system of records will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A-19 at any state of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

Records also are disclosed to GAO for audits; to the Internal Revenue Service for investigation; and to private attorneys, pursuant to a power of attorney.

A copy of an employee's Department of the Treasury Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, also is disclosed to the State and city, or other local jurisdiction which is authorized to tax the employee's compensation. The record will be provided in accordance with a withholding agreement between the State, city, or other local jurisdiction and the Department of the Treasury purusant to 5 U.S.C. 5516, 5517, or 5520, or, in the absence thereof; in response to a written request from an appropriate official of the taxing jurisdiction to the Assistant Staff Director for Administration; Federal Election Commission, 1325 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20463. The request must include a copy of the applicable statute or ordinance authorizing the taxation of compensation and should indicate whether the authority of the jurisdiction to tax the employee is based on place of residence, place of employment, or both.

Pursuant to a withholding agreement between a city and the Department of the Treasury (5 U.S.C. 5520), copies of executed city tax withholding certificates shall be furnished the city in response to written request from an appropriate city official to the Assistant Staff Director for Administration.

In the absence of a withholding agreement, the Social Security Number will be furnished only to a taxing jurisdiction which has furnished this agency with evidence of its independent authority to compel disclosure of the Social Security Number, in accordance with Section 7 of the Privacy Act. Public Law 93-579.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper and microfilm.

Retrievability: Social Security Number.

Safeguards: Stored in guarded building, in locked filing cabinets; released only to authorized personnel.

Retention and disposal: Disposition of records shall be in accordance with the HB GSA Records Maintenance and Disposition System (OAD P 1820.2).

System manager(s) and address: Assistant Staff Director for Administration, FEC, 1325 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20463 (202/382-5162).

Notification procedure: Refer to Commission access regulations contained in 11 CFR 1.1 et seq. (41 FR 43064, September 29, 1976).

Record access procedures: Refer to Commission access regulations contained in 11 CFR 1.1 et seq. (41 FR 43064, September 29, 1976).

Contesting record procedures: Refer to Commission access regulations contained in 11 CFR 1.1 et seq. (41 FR 43064, September 29, 1976).

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records; Annual Publication

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Sec. 552a(e)(4) the Federal Trade Commission hereby publishes the notices for the Systems of Records currently maintained by this agency. Except for five new systems (discussed below), the Systems were previously published in the Federal Register at 41 FR 39711, 41 FR 41759, 41 FR 42937, and 42 FR 6906.

REVISIONS TO NOTICES

Several system notices have been revised. These revisions, not previously published, do not represent substantive changes in the Systems but are merely made either to more accurately describe the Systems as they have existed since establishment or to reflect minor changes such as changes in System location or manager. The revisions are listed below by FTC system number.

FTC—1: "(former and current)" has been added to the description of the categories of individuals covered by the system. The fact that biographical sketches are prepared with the concurrence of the individuals concerned is noted under the description of routine uses. The description of safeguards is clarified to reflect the fact that access restrictions apply to background information. The description of retention and disposal practices is clarified to reflect the two-year retention of certain information about former Commissioners and key staff members. The title of the system manager has been changed to Public Information Assistant.

FTC—3: A new System location is indicated. Salary information is no longer a category of information in the System, and what was heretofore described as "history of work activity" has been clarified as "all case and project information both past and present."

FTC—4: The description of the categories of records in the System has been revised to clarify the fact that information about accidents involving personal injuries is also included. The description of routine uses has been similarly revised. Under the heading "Retrievability" the word "incident" has replaced the word "accident."

FTC—7: The System name, location and manager have been revised to reflect the establishment of a special unit within the General Counsel's Office that maintains the congressional correspondence files. Congressional committees and constituents have been deleted from the description of categories of individuals covered by the System because (1) committees are not individuals and (2) records concerning constituents are not organized or filed in such a way as to be part of a system of records. The reference to storage in a lockable room has been deleted, while the description of safeguards has been revised to reflect the fact that the records are stored in lockable metal cabinets. The reference to constituents has been deleted as a record source category.

FTC—8: The System location and System manager's address have been revised to conform with the Dallas Regional Office's new address.

FTC—11: The System location and System manager's address have been revised to conform with the Atlanta Regional Office's new address.

FTC—14: The description of the categories of individuals covered by the System has been revised to refer to individuals rather than letters and forms. For clarification, the individual's name and address have been added to the description of the categories of records in the System.

FTC—16: The description of the categories of individuals covered by the System has been revised to include individuals against whom complaints are received. (Such individuals are covered only in the rare instances when a complaint refers to an individual and not a company or other business entity.) For clarification, the individual's name and address have been added to the description of the categories of records in the System.

FTC—17: The description of the categories of individuals covered by the System has been revised to refer to individuals rather than addresses. For clarification, the individual's business title, if any, has been added to the description of the categories of records in the System. The descriptions of storage, safeguards, and retention and disposal practices have been revised to reflect the use of Daconics rather than Lexitron data storage equipment. To the description of retention and disposal practices has been added the fact that the mailing list is revised at least annually.

FTC—22: The name of the Division of Legal and Public Records, found under System location, has been changed to the "Records Division." A statement has been added at the end of the System notice reiterating that this is an exempt system pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Sec. 552a(k) (2).

FTC—25: The retrievability of records in the System is by correspondent's name only, and the System notice has been revised accordingly. The description of retention and disposal practices has been revised: copies of correspondence and the correspondent index card are retained for only six months from the date of the Commission response, and records are disposed of in wastebaskets. The title of the System manager has been changed from Chief to Supervisor.

FTC—26: Under System location, the addresses of the Atlanta and Dallas Regional Offices have been changed, and the address of the Denver Regional Office, which heretofore was inadvertently omitted, has been added.

FTC—28: The name of the Division of Legal and Public Records, referred to under System location, has been changed to the "Records Division." The fact that records are also sent to the Federal Records Center in Suitland, Md., has been added to the description of retention and disposal practices. A statement has been added at the end of the System notice reiterating that this is an exempt system pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Sec. 552a(k)(2).

FTC—29: A statement has been added at the end of the system notice reiterating that this is an exempt system pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Sec. 552a(k)(2).

FTC—33: Under System location, the addresses of the Atlanta, Dallas, and Denver Regional Offices have been changed. The description of retention and disposal practices has been clarified to reflect the fact that records are transferred to the Records Division (formerly the Division of Legal and Public Records) only if the preliminary investigation becomes a formal investigation; otherwise the records are retained by the office that conducted the preliminary investigation. The fact that there is no disposal system at present has also been added to the description. At the end of the System notice a statement has been added reiterating that this is an exempt system pursuant to 5 U.S.C. Sec. 552a(k)(2).

FTC—34: The System location and System manager's address have been revised to conform with the Atlanta Regional Office's new address.

FTC—35: The description of the categories of individuals covered by the System has been revised to include selected media and organizations to be reached on specific FTC matters. The description of the routine uses of the information has been clarified: the records are used to produce address labels for mailing of FTC materials by Office of Public Information and other Commission personnel. The creation of formatted statistical reports has been discontinued and, accordingly, has been deleted as a routine use. The description of record retrievability has been clarified: labels for individual addressees can be retrieved by name as well as computer-assigned identification number. The description of safeguards has been reworded for greater clarity. To the description of retention and disposal practices has been added the fact that news media and special interest (for, organizations to be reached on specific FTC matters) addressees are retained indefinitely or for a specified length of time unless removal from the list is requested by the individual.

FTC—39: The title of the Assistant General Counsel for Legal Services, referred to under System location and System manager, has been changed to Assistant General Counsel for Legal Counsel.

FTC—41: Under System location, the addresses of the Atlanta and Dallas Regional Offices have been changed.

FTC—43: The System location has been revised to indicate the location of the computer rather than the location of the computer terminal.

FTC—44; FTC—46; FTC—48: The name of the Division of Legal and Public Records, referred to under System location, has been changed to the "Records Division."

FTC—49: The name of the Division of Legal and Public Records, referred to under System location, has been changed to the "Records Division." Records in this System are also located in the Information Division of the Secretary's Office and in the Office of the General Counsel, and the description of System location has been revised accordingly. The description of routine uses has been revised to clarify that only request and appeal letters, and agency responses thereto, are available to the public for inspection and copying. The description of storage practices has been revised to reflect the fact that records in the System are stored in three locations, not just one. The fact that Freedom of Information Act requests are indexed by subject matter has been deleted from the description of record retrievability since only retrieval by personal identifiers is relevant for Privacy Act purposes. The description of safeguards has been revised to include lockable file cabinets. The description of retention and disposal practices has been clarified: the records are maintained indefinitely, and there is no disposal system at present. The Assistant General Counsel for Legal Counsel has been added as a System Manager.

FTC—51. Records in this System are located in the Information Division of the Office of the Secretary and in the Office of the General Counsel, and the description of System location has been revised accordingly. The description of retention and disposal practices has been clarified: the records are maintained indefinitely, and there is no disposal system at present. The Assistant General Counsel for Legal Counsel has been added as a System Manager.

FTC—52. The description of record source categories has been revised to include visual identification by administrative officers in the Commission's regional offices.

DELETIONS OF SYSTEMS

For the reasons given below the Commission deletes the following systems of records:

FTC—2, Call for Comment Mailing List (41 FR 39711): The "Call for Comment" publication and mailing list have been discontinued.

FTC—6, Complaint Cards, Dallas Regional Office (41 FR 39712): Records are no longer retrievable by personal identifier.

FTC—12, Consumer Complaint Files, Cleveland Regional Office (41 FR 39714): Records are no longer retrievable by personal identifier.

FTC—20, Correspondence with Members of Congress and Agency Officials (41 FR 39717): Files are no longer maintained; all congressional correspondence filed in FTC—7, Congressional Correspondence Coordination Unit Records, Office of General Counsel.

FTC—27, Health Unit Records (41 FR 39720): FTC Health Unit records are now covered by system number HSA BMS 0001.03 (Division of Federal Employee Health, Employee Health Records HEW/HSA/BMS) of the Department of Health, Education, & Welfare.

FTC—30, Page Count Sheet Tabulation, Dallas Regional Office (41 FR 39721): Records are no longer maintained.

FTC—37, Public Information Mailing Lists, Dallas Regional Office (41 FR 39724): Addresses are now listed by title only, not personal name.

FTC—47, Consumer Complaint/Information Files, Chicago Regional Office (41 FR 39728): Records are no longer retrievable by personal identifier.

NEW SYSTEMS

The Commission is establishing the following five additional systems of records:

FTC—2, Correspondence Control System
FTC—6, Mail Order Rule Complaint Letters, Abstracts of FTC—15, Application for Compensation for Participation in Rulemaking Proceedings
FTC—20, Employee Locator System
FTC—38, Public Information Mailing List, Seattle Regional Office

The notices for these systems are set forth below with those for the existing systems. A report of the new systems was filed with the Director, Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the Speaker of the House, the President of the Senate, and the Chairman of the Privacy Protection Study Commission on August 8, 1977.

The routine uses described in the new systems' notices include both intra-agency uses (disclosures to agency employees who have a need for such access in the performance of their official duties within the agency) and other than intra-agency uses. In accordance with Section 552a(e)(11) of the Privacy Act, interested persons may submit comments pertaining to those routine uses set forth in the five new systems' notices that are not intra-agency uses. The Commission will consider all comments received on or before (date 30 days after publication of this notice in the Federal Register). Comments should be addressed to the Secretary, Federal Trade Commission, 6th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580. Those routine uses that are not intra-agency uses will be adopted as of the closing date of the comment period unless notice to the contrary is published as a result of the comments received.

The Commission has requested from OMB a waiver of the 60-day advance notice requirement of OMB Circular No. A-108. If this waiver is granted, the five new systems' notices, including the intra-agency routine use disclosures, will be put into effect on the publication date of this notice or the date of the waiver, whichever is later. The routine uses that are not intra-agency disclosures will be effective on the date of their adoption if the waiver is granted or at the end of the 60-day advance notice period if the waiver is not granted.

By direction of the Commission dated August 16, 1977.

Carol M. Thomas,
Secretary.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Current Federal Trade Commission employees.

Categories of records in the system: This system consists of a variety of records relating to personnel actions and determinations made about an individual while employed in the Federal service. These records contain information about an individual relating to birth date; Social Security Number; veteran preference; tenure; handicap; past and present salaries, grades, and position titles; letter of commendation, reprimand, charges, and decision on charges; notice of reduction-in-force; locator files; personnel actions, including but not limited to, appointment, reassignment, demotion, detail, promotion, transfer, and separation; training; minority group designator; records relating to life insurance, health benefits, and designation of beneficiary; performance ratings; data documenting the reasons for personnel actions or decisions made about an individual; awards; and other information relating to the status of the individual.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Title 5 U.S.C. Sections 1302, 2951, 4118, 4308, 4506, and Executive Order 10561, September 13, 1954.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: Information in these records is used or a record may be used:

a. By agency officials for purposes of review in connection with appointments, transfers, promotions, reassignments, adverse actions, disciplinary actions, and determination of qualifications of an individual.

b. By the Civil Service Commission for purposes of making a decision when a Federal employee or former Federal employee is questioning the validity of a specific document in an individual's record.

c. By the district courts to render a decision when an agency has refused to release to current or former Federal employees a record under the Freedom of Information Act.

d. To provide information to a prospective employer of a Government employee or former Federal employee.

e. To provide data for the automated Center Personnel Data File (CPDF).

f. To provide data to update Federal Automated Career Systems (FACS), Executive Inventory File, and Security investigations index on new hires, adverse actions, and terminations.

g. To provide statistical reports to Congress, agencies, and the public on characteristics of the Federal work force.

h. To provide information or disclose to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the letting of a contract, or issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

i. To request information from a Federal, state, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement or other pertinent information, such as licenses, if necessary to obtain relevant information or other pertinent information to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit.

j. To refer, where there is an indication of a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal, or regulatory in nature, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, state or local, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation, or order issued pursuant thereto.

k. As a data source for management information for production of summary descriptive statistics and analytical studies in support of the function for which the records are collected and maintained, or for related personnel management functions or manpower studies; may also be utilized to locate specific individuals for personnel research or other personnel management functions.

Disclosure may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

APPENDIX—HARRY S. TRUMAN SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

In the event that a system of records maintained by this agency to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether, civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, State, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a "routine use" to a Federal, State or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of any employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement of a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of Federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a Federal agency for purposes of audit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to a Member of Congress or to a congressional staff member in response to an inquiry of the congressional office made at the request of the individual about whom the record is maintained.

APPENDIX—Japan-United States Friendship Commission

In the event that a system of records maintained by this agency to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a "routine use" to a federal, state or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement of a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a federal agency for purposes of audit.

The information contained in this system of records will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to a Member of Congress or to a congressional staff member in response to an inquiry of the congressional office made at the request of the individual about whom the record is maintained.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of the General Services Administration in connection with administrative services provided to this agency under agreement with GSA.

APPENDIX MMC

In the event that a system of records maintained by this agency to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, State, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a "routine use" to a Federal, State or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract or the issuance of a license grant or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement of a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of Federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a Federal agency for purposes of audit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of the General Services Administration in connection with administrative services provided to this agency under agreement with GSA.

Disclosure may be made, as a routine use, to a Congressional office from the record of an individual contained in any of the Commission's systems in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of that individual.

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records; Annual Publication

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4), the National Transportation Safety Board republishes notice of the maintenance of its systems of records. The complete text of the Board's systems of records was last published at 41 FR 52038, November 24, 1976. In that notice the Board proposed additional routine uses for several systems of records. Those additional routine uses became effective on December 27, 1976, when the Board had not published notice to the contrary. There have been no other changes in the systems of records.

Approved by the National Transportation Safety Board at Washington, D.C., this 10th day of August, 1977.

Kay Bailey,
Vice Chairman.

System location:

National Transportation Safety Board
800 Independence Avenue, SW.
Washington, D.C. 20594

Categories of individuals covered by the system: NTSB employees.

Categories of records in the system: Manual files and computer-retrievable data containing payroll-related information covering NTSB employees. Payroll, leave, and attendance records include records or information also maintained in the employees' Personnel Nonpermanent Records and related files kept in accordance with Civil Service Commission regulations and noticed by the Commission in its governmentwide systems of personnel records. Payroll and related information consists of various forms and computer-retrievable data which discloses on a biweekly, year-to-date, and/or annual basis, payroll and leave data for each NTSB employee. This data relates to the rate and amount of pay, leave, hours worked, and leave balances. It also includes tax and retirement deductions, life insurance and health deductions, savings allotments, savings bond and charity deductions, mailing addresses, and home addresses.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Federal Personnel Manual and Treasury Fiscal Requirements Manual; and Pub. L. 93-633, 88 Stat. 2168 (sec. 303(c)(3) of the Independent Safety Board Act of 1974, 49 U.S.C. 1902).

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: For preparation of payroll, to fulfill Government payroll recordkeeping and reporting requirements, and to retrieve and supply payroll and leave information as required for NTSB needs. Other routine uses for certain records are specified in the Civil Service Commission notice: "C.S.C.—General Personnel Records (Official Personnel Folder and records related thereto)." Routine use includes, but is not limited to, referral to potential employers, and for security clearance; also, see routine uses in Prefatory Statements.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Storage for NTSB is maintained by the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA), 400 7th Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20590.

Retrievability: Time cards are machine-printed, 7 1/2- by 3 1/2-inch cards (FHWA Form 320A); tapes are standard 2,400-foot IBM tapes.

Safeguards: There are no safeguards for the time cards. The tapes, however, are maintained in the computer center and access is permitted only to certain specified FHWA employees or appropriate employees of contractor agencies.

Retention and disposal: The time cards are maintained in the office for the current and prior year and are thereafter sent to the Federal Records Center in St. Louis. The tapes are retained, based on the cycle of the particular system. The disposal occurs when the cycle ends. The tapes are kept by employee number, which is a number assigned to the employee on hiring.

OMB/SPD/01

System name: Clearance Office Information System

Security classification: None

System location: Office of Management and Budget, Clearance Office, Statistical Policy Division, Room 10201 New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, DC 20503.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Employees of the Executive Office of the President and employees of agencies subject to the provisions of the Federal Reports Act who are reviewing or who have submitted for review requests for clearence under the Federal Reports Act.

Categories of records in the system: These records contain a docket number for every request for clearance under the Federal Reports Act; all materials submitted by the agency requesting clearance, including the names of agency employees directly responsible for the request and the names of those authorized to submit it; all material received from interested persons, including the names of the persons; records of all consultations including names of persons consulted; minutes of any public meeting or hearings, including the names of persons attending; a worksheet containing OMB reviewer notes and recommended action; a copy of the OMB action signed by the Clearance Officer; and copies of the approved materials. They also include computer-generated records and reports which show the name of the OMB employee assigned to the review of each pending request for clearance; the name of the employee assigned to the review of each completed review; the name of each agency clearance officer; summary reports of the number of reviews assigned to and completed by each employee for the last completed month and for the year to date; and a record of each docket borrowed by an OMB employee with the name, room number and phone number of the borrower.

Authority for maintenance of the system: 44 U.S.C. 3501-3511.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

Disclosure may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual and to officers and employees of OMB in connection with the performance of their official duties for the agency (See 'Retrievability').

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: These records are stored in three electric-powered rotary files, on a reference table within the Clearance Office, and in the OMB Records Depository. In addition, docket information is stored on computer disk for use in preparing inventory and control reports and listings. Materials stored on the reference table for immediate access consist of the current inventory of reporting and record-keeping requirements cleared by OMB under the Federal Reports Act, the inventory of requests for clearance under the Federal Reports Act presently under review, and the inventory of OMB completed clearance actions for the current and preceding months.

Retrievability: Records are filed by OMB docket number except for some computer generated records which may be retrieved by agency clearance officers or the OMB reviewer number. Access to materials in the Records Depository is limited to the staff of the OMB Records Unit. There are no restrictions on access to materials in the rotary files except that no docket may be withdrawn from the file except by a member of the Clearance Office staff or by a member of the OMB staff or a member of an agency staff working under the instruction of a member of the Clearance Office staff. Except as provided below (see Safeguards) there are no restrictions to access of the material that is stored on the reference table for immediate use. Material processed in the OMB computer center is released only to authorized Clearance Office staff.

Safeguards: All records are under the immediate surveillance of Clearance Office staff during working hours. The materials in the rotary files are locked at all other times. The Records Depository is locked during nonoffice hours. The Computer Center is in a secured area.

Retention and disposal: Active dockets are retained in the Clearance Office Information System until the period of time for which they have been cleared expires. They are then transferred to the OMB Records Depository for destruction or transfer to National Archives under existing regulations.

System manager(s) and address: Clearance Officer, Statistical Policy Division, Office of Management and Budget, New Executive Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20503.

Notification procedure: Requests to be notified whether the system contains a record pertaining to an individual should be addressed to Assistant to the Director for Administration, Office of Management and Budget, Old Executive Office Building, 17th and Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., (See also Chapter III, Part 1302 of Title 5, Code of Federal Regulations, (40 F.R. 34165).)

Record access procedures: Same as above.

Contesting record procedures: Same as above.

Record source categories: Information is obtained from material submitted by agency requesting clearance and internal OMB work plans.

Systems exempted from certain provisions of the act: Not applicable.

OMB/LIBRY/01

System name: Library Circulation System

Security classification: None

System location: Office of Management and Budget Library, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Employees of the Executive Office of the President.

Categories of records in the system: These records contain titles and other identifying data on materials borrowed from the OMB Library; name, room number, organization, and telephone number of borrower; and the return date for each item borrowed.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Federal Property and Administrative Services Act, Title II, Sec. 202(b)(1), 40 U.S.C. 483(b)(1).

V 42 1 82 SEP 20 77 UMI

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: Disclosure may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual and to officers and employees of OMB in connection with the performance of their official duties for the agency (See 'Retrievability').

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: These records are stored at the circulation desk of the OMB Library.

Retrievability: Records are arranged alphabetically by last name of borrower, by title of item borrowed, by organization to which borrower belongs, and by order of input into the system.

Safeguards: Access to records is under constant surveillance by Head of Reference and Loan Section during normal working hours. Secured in locked room after work hours.

Retention and disposal: Records are retained on individual library loans only until the item is returned to the Library. Reports on the status of loans are generated daily; current and preceding day's reports are retained.

System manager(s) and address: Librarian, Office of Management and Budget, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

Notification procedure: Requests to be notified whether or not the system contains a record pertaining to an individual should be addressed to Assistant to the Director for Administration, Office of Management and Budget, Old Executive Office Building, 17th & Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503. OMB/PERSL/01

System name: Recruiting and Applicant Records.

Security classifications: None.

System location: Personnel Office, Office of Management and Budget, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Persons who have applied or who have been referred for employment consideration or who otherwise seek an association with the Office of Management and Budget. The automated index to the system consists of persons who have been included by the OMB Personnel staff in the Office's computer file of active OMB employment candidates.

Categories of records in the system: These records contain information relating to the education and training; employment history and earnings; appraisal of past performance; convictions for offenses against the law; results of written tests; appraisal of potential; honors, awards, or fellowships; military service, veterans preference, birthplace; birth date; social security number; names of relatives who are employed in the Federal service; legal residence; and home address of persons who have applied for employment with the Office of Management and Budget or have been referred for employment consideration by the Office of Management and Budget. The automated index consists of information concerning the availability, Civil Service status, Federal employer (if applicable), race, sex, handicap (if declared), veterans preference, legal or voting residence, birth date, education and OMB job eligibility of candidates.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Title 5, U.S.C. Section 3109, 3301, 3302, 3304, 3309, 3318, 3319 and Executive Orders 10577 and 11103.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system including categories of users and purposes of such uses:

a. U.S. Civil Service Commission to the extent the information is relevant to the Commission's decision on an OMB request.

b. A congressional office in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the applicant's request.

c. A requesting Federal agency, Commission or other public office if the applicant has indicated to OMB that he or she is available for referral to other agencies for consideration.

d. To anyone requesting statistical information (without personal identification of individual applicants) under the Freedom of Information Act.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Records are maintained in two forms: files of documents retained in the Personnel Office and an index maintained on a computer tape file.

Retrievability: Individual records are indexed by name, OMB control number (if applicable) and date of most recent contact. Records to be referred for employment consideration are retrieved by applicant status, availability, education, and OMB job eligibility codes. Statistical summaries and other analyses of the applicant inventory data-base will be conducted utilizing all pertinent categories of data contained in the automated index. (See Categories of Records in the System.)

Safeguards: Access to and use of the system and its records is limited to employees of the OMB Personnel staff whose official duties require having access. Files are kept in the OMB Personnel Office and in the OMB computer center. Both facilities are locked and alarmed. All output reports from the computer system will be placed in locked boxes in the computer center until retrieved by authorized personnel.

Retention and disposal: Records are retained and disposed of according to the recency of the date of last contact with the individual on whom the record is maintained under the GSA general records schedule 1.

System manager and address: Personnel Officer, Office of Management and Budget, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

Notification procedures: Individuals should contact the system manager. The request should be made in writing, giving full name, date of birth, the approximate date of most recent application or when and where contact with an OMB representative was most recently made, if applicable.

OVERSEAS PRIVATE INVESTMENT CORPORATION

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records; Annual Publication

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4) of the Privacy Act of 1974, the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (the "Corporation") hereby publishes its systems of records as currently maintained. The Corporation's systems of records were originally published at 40 FR 36880, August 22, 1975.

In addition, the Corporation publishes a revised system, OPIC–19, and hereby proposes to continue the following routine use for all systems of records:

A record maintained by the Corporation to carry on its function may be disclosed to a Congressional office in response to an inquiry from the Congressional office made at the request of the individual to whom the record pertains.

The revised system concerns travel advances. The purpose of the system remains unchanged. The specific changes are that records will be stored on magnetic tape and disks in addition to file folders, records will be retrieved by surname and coded employee number (not SSAN), and records will be stored in computer files by alphanumeric coding. Special entry codes will be needed to access the data. The computer transaction records will be maintained for four years after which the data files will be erased. The changed system will become operative on October 1, 1977.

Written comments on the proposed revised system and new routine use may be addressed to Director of Personnel, Overseas Private Investment Corporation, 1129 20th Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20527. These additional routine uses will become effective October 1, 1977 unless otherwise noted in the Federal Register.

For convenience, the systems published below include the revised routine use proposed herein.

Dated: August 4, 1977.

Rutherford M. Poats,
Acting President.

UNITED STATES ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT AGENCY

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records; Annual Publication

The purpose of this document is to give notice, in accordance with the requirements of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4), that the systems of records identified in notices published in the Federal Register on December 17, 1976 (41 FR 55314–55319) and amended on December 22, 1976 (41 FR 55734–55735), continue in effect.

There are no substantive changes. The only changes are: minor editorial changes, changes of room numbers for some system managers, a reduction in repetition of routine uses, and the addition of a table of contents as required by the Publication Guidelines of the Office of the Federal Register published on April 8, 1977 (42 FR 18760).

In order to save space and avoid duplication, a Prefatory Statement of Routine Uses precedes the compilation of the systems of records. This Statement contains routine uses which apply to more than one system of records. The systems of records to which a routine use applies are indicated after that routine use, and by reference, in the description of routine uses which appears in the description of each system of records. This Prefatory Statement is not a change in routine uses, but rather sets out common routine uses in one spot and thereby avoids duplication of each use in each system of records.

As required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4) the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency hereby gives annual notice of the existence and character of its systems of records, previously published in the Federal Register on December 17, 1976 (41 FR 55314–55319) and amended on December 22, 1976 (41 FR 55734–55735), as set forth below. This compilation will henceforth be used in referring to the Agency's systems of records.

Effective date. This notice shall be effective on the date of publication.

Paul C. Warnke,
Director.

Prefatory Statement of Routine Uses

The following routine uses apply to, and are incorporated by reference into, each system of records as indicated in the parenthesis which follows each routine use.

1. Disclosure may be made to a congressional office as a routine use from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

(All ACDA systems of records)

2. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a Federal agency for purposes of audit.

(All ACDA systems of records)

3. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of the General Services Administration in connection with administrative services provided to this agency under agreement with GSA.

(All ACDA systems of records)

4. In the event that these records indicate a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, State, local, or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

(ACDA systems of records—numbers 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 13, 14)

5. A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to a Federal, State or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

(ACDA systems of records—numbers 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 13, 14)

6. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision on the matter.

(ACDA systems of records—numbers 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 13, 14)

7. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement of a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee.

(ACDA systems of records—numbers 1, 3, 5, 6, 8, 13, 14)

8. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with that agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of Federal personnel management.

(ACDA systems of records—numbers 1, 2, 3, 8, 13, 14)

9. The information contained in this system of records will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A-19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that circular.

(ACDA systems of records—numbers 1, 3, 8, 13, 14)

ACDA—1

System name: Official Personnel Records—ACDA

System location: Agency Headquarters, Department of State Building, 320 21st St., NW., Washington, D.C. 20451

Categories of individuals covered by the system: All ACDA personnel, including consultants.

Categories of records in the system: Records relating to employment, including but not limited to personal qualifications statement, performance rating, personnel actions, insurance and conflict of interest, except to the extent controlled by the CSC.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Executive order 10561.

U.S. RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Systems of Records, Annual Publication

The purpose of this document is to give notice of the existence and character of this agency's systems of records as required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4). The last such notice was published in the Federal Register on September 16, 1976 (41 FR 40051-40073).

Subsequent to this notice a new system of records, Regional Rail Reorganization Act Reimbursement System (RRB-38), was established. Notice of this system was issued December 16, 1976 (41 FR 55012).

This document also gives notice of changes to the routine uses of the records in four systems of records, the addition of a record source category to a system, the addition of categories of records to a system and editorial changes made for clarity. In addition, Appendices I and II have been revised due to location and organizational changes in the listed offices.

Routine uses "a" and "e" of Record System RRB-20, Health Insurance and Supplementary Medical Insurance Enrollment and Premium Payment System (Medicare), are being expanded to include the Health Care Financing Administration. The Health Care Financing Administration is also being added to RRB-20 as a record source category.

Routine uses "g" and "k" of Record System RRB-22, Railroad Retirement, Survivor, and Pensioner Benefit System, are being expanded to include the Health Care Financing Administration. The categories of records in this system are also being clarified by including the wording "suspension and termination dates, health insurance effective date, option, premium rate and deduction, direct deposit data and employer pension information."

Routine use "b" is being added to both Record System RRB-25, Research Master Record for Survivor Beneficiaries Under the Railroad Retirement Act and Record System RRB-26, Research Master Record for Retired Railroad Employees and their Dependents. These additions authorize the Internal Revenue Service to obtain the records in these systems.

Members of the public are invited to send their comments on these changes to the Secretary of the Board, U.S. Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611, no later than 30 days from the date of this edition of the Federal Register.

Dated: August 24, 1977.

By authority of the Board.

R. F. Butler,
Secretary.

RRB-1

System name: Social Security Benefit Vouchering System—RRB

System location:

U.S. Railroad Retirement Board
844 Rush Street
Chicago, Illinois 60611

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Applicants after December 31, 1974, for benefits under Title II of the Social Security Act who have completed ten years of creditable service in the railroad industry, the spouse or survivor of such an individual.

Categories of records in the system: Name, address, social security number, type and amount of benefit, suspension and termination information.

Authority for maintenance of the system: Section 7(b)(2) of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974 (45 U.S.C. 231f(b)(2))

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses:

a. Benefit rate information may be disclosed to primary beneficiaries regarding secondary beneficiaries (or vice versa) when the addition of such beneficiary affects either the entitlement or benefit payment.

b. In the event the Board has determined to designate a person to be the representative payee of an incompetent beneficiary, disclosure of information concerning the benefit amount and other similar information may be made to the representative payee from the record of the individual.

c. Benefit rates, names and addresses may be released to the Treasury Department to control for reclamation and return of outstanding benefit checks, to issue benefit checks, act on reports of non-delivery, and to insure delivery of check to the correct address of the beneficiary or representative payee.

d. Beneficiary's name, address, check rate and date plus supporting evidence may be released to the U.S. Postal Service for investigation of alleged forgery or theft of railroad retirement or social security benefit checks.

e. Beneficiary's name, effective date, benefit rate and months paid may be disclosed to the Veterans Administration to verify continued entitlement to benefits.

V 42 I 182 SEP 20 77 UMI

f. Benefit rates and effective dates may be disclosed to the Social Security Administration, Bureau of Supplemental Security Income, to federal, state and local welfare or public aid agencies to assist them in processing applications for benefits under their respective programs.

g. Last addresses information may be disclosed to the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in conjunction with the Parent Locator Service.

h. Benefit rates, entitlement and other necessary information may be released to the Department of Labor in conjunction with payment of benefits under the Federal Coal Mine and Safety Act.

i. Pursuant to a request from an employer covered by the Railroad Retirement Act or the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, information regarding the Board's payment of benefits, the methods by which such benefits are calculated, entitlement data and present address may be released to the requesting employer for the purposes of determining entitlement to and the rates of private, supplemental pension benefits and to calculate estimated benefits due.

j. If a request for information pertaining to an individual is made by an official of a labor organization of which the individual is a member and the request is made on behalf of the individual, information from the record of the individual concerning his benefit or anticipated benefit and concerning the method of calculating that benefit may be disclosed to the labor organization official.

k. Disclosure may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

l. Information may be released to contractors to fulfill contract requirements pertaining to specific activities related to the Railroad Retirement Act.

m. Records may be disclosed to the General Accounting Office for auditing purposes and for collection of debts arising from overpayments under Title II of the Social Security Act, as amended.

n. Records may be disclosed in a court proceeding relating to any claims for benefits by the beneficiary under the Railroad Retirement Act and may be disclosed during the course of an administrative appeal hearing in which such records are relevant to the issue.

o. In the event that this system of records, maintained by the Railroad Retirement Board to carry out its functions, indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in this system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

p. Information in this system of records may be released to the attorney representing an individual in connection with that individual's claim for benefits under the Railroad Retirement Act or Title II of the Social Security Act, as amended, upon receipt of a written letter or declaration stating the fact of representation, subject to the same procedures and regulatory prohibitions as the subject individual.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper, magnetic tape and microforms.

Retrievability: Social security account number, full name.

Safeguards: Records are maintained in areas not accessible to the public; buildings are secured (guard service).

Retention and disposal: Paper: Individual claim folders with records of all actions pertaining to the payment of claims are shredded 25 years after the date of last payment or denial activity. Other paper listings are destroyed one year after date of issue, except for accounts receivable listings which are destroyed only after General Accounting Office audit. Magnetic tape: Tapes are updated at least monthly, writing over obsolete data. Microforms: Originals are kept for five years; duplicates for one year; destroyed by shredding.

d. Disclosure may be made to a congressional office from the employee's record in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of the employee.

e. Information in this system of records regarding a reimbursement claim pertaining to an employee may be released to the attorney representing such employee, with respect to such claim, upon receipt of a written letter or declaration stating the fact of representation, subject to the same procedures and regulatory prohibitions as the subject employee.

f. Information may be released to private contractors to the extent needed to fulfill contract requirements.

g. Information may be released to the General Accounting Office for auditing purposes and for collection of debts arising from overpayments under the Regional Rail Reorganization Act of 1973 or the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act (45 U.S.C. section 351 et seq.).

h. Information may be released to the Department of Justice and to courts of competent jurisdiction in response to properly issued subpoenas.

i. In the event that this system of records maintained by the Railroad Retirement Board to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in this system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, or local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper, magnetic tape and microforms.

Retrievability: Social security number and name.

Safeguards: Records are maintained in areas not accessible to the public and are not permitted to be removed from headquarters without authorization.

Retention and disposal: Retained until authorized to destroy by the General Accounting Office.

System manager(s) and address:

WATER RESOURCES COUNCIL
PRIVACY ACT OF 1974
Systems of Records; Annual Publication

In accordance with 552a(e)(4) of the Privacy Act of 1974, the Water Resources Council hereby publishes the systems of records currently maintained by the Council. No changes have occurred since the last annual publication on December 23, 1976, 41 FR page 55963.

Dated at Washington, D.C. on August 18, 1977.

Gary D. Cobb,
Acting Director.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

WRC—2 General Financial Records
WRC—3 Operating Personnel Records
WRC—4 Payroll Records
Appendix

WRC—2

System name: General Financial Records—U.S. Water Resources Council (WRC).

System location: General Services Administration, Central Office; copies held by the Council at 2120 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20037. (GSA holds records for the Council under contract.)

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Council employees.

Categories of records in the system: SF 1038, application and account for advance of funds; vendor register and vendor payment tape. Information is used by accounting technicians to maintain adequate financial information and by other offices and employees of GSA and the Council who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties.

Authority for maintenance of the system: 31 U.S.C., generally; 42 U.S.C. 1962a et seq.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: See Appendix. Records also are released to GAO for adults; to the IRS for investigation; and to private attorneys, pursuant to a power of attorney.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper and tape.

Retrievability: Manual and automated by name.

Safeguards: Stored in guarded building, released only to authorized personnel.

Retention and disposal: Disposition of records shall be in accordance with the HB GSA Records Maintenance and Disposition System (OAD P 1820.2).

System manager(s) and address:

Administrative Officer
U.S. Water Resources Council
2120 L Street, NW.
Washington, D.C. 20037

Notification procedure: Contact system manager listed above.

Record access procedures: See Council access regulations in 18 CFR section 701.305.

Contesting record procedures: See Council access regulations in 18 CFR section 701.307.

Record source categories: The subject individual; the Council.

WRC—3

System name: Operating Personnel Records—U.S. Water Resources Council (WRC).

System location: Office of Program Coordination and Management, U.S. Water Resources Council, 2120 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20037

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Council employees.

Categories of records in the system: These records basically consist of copies of information which is contained in the Official Personnel Folders maintained for the Council by the Agency Liaison Division, General Services Administration. As such, they are generally limited to personal qualifications statements, training records, position descriptions, locator files, performance appraisals, commendations, incentive awards, personnel actions, and adverse actions.

Authority for maintenance of the system: 42 U.S.C. 1962a et seq; Federal Personnel Manual Supplement 293-31, Subchapter S8.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: See Appendix. Information in these records may be used by Council employees having a need to know in connection with a variety of personnel actions including transfers, promotions, qualifications determinations, and selection for training. Information may also be disclosed to educational institutions for training purposes, to other agencies to the extent relevant and necessary, and to prospective employees and other organizations at the request of the individual.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper.

Retrievability: Manual by name.

Safeguards: Retained in locked file cabinet in secured office; released only to authorized personnel.

Retention and disposal: Records are maintained during the individual's employment with the Council. When the employee leaves the Council through transfer or other separation, the record is forwarded to the Agency Liaison Division, General Services Administration, which maintains the Official Personnel Folder. There it is screened to insure that it contains no documents that should be permanently filed in the Official Personnel Folder other than exact duplicates of papers already so filed. The record and its contents are then destroyed.

System manager(s) and address:

Administrative Officer
U.S. Water Resources Council
2120 L Street, NW.
Washington, D.C. 20037

Notification procedure: Contact system manager listed above.

Record access procedures: See Council access regulations in 18 CFR section 701.305.

Contesting record procedures: See Council access regulations in 18 CFR section 701.307.

Record source categories: Information in this system of records either comes from the individual to whom it applies or is derived from information the individual supplied, except information provided by GSA or Council officials on pay, leave, and allowance records.

WRC—4

System name: Payroll Records—U.S. Water Resources Council (WRC).

System location: General Services Administration Region 3 Office; copies held by the Council 2120 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20037. (GSA holds records for the Council under contract.

Categories of individuals covered by the system: Past and present Council employees.

Categories of records in the system: Varied payroll records, including, among other documents, time and attendance cards; payment vouchers; comprehensive listing of employees; health benefits records; requests for deductions; tax forms; W–2 forms; overtime requests; leave data; retirement records. Records are used by Council and GSA employees to maintain adequate payroll information for Council employees, and otherwise by Council and GSA employees who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties.

Authority for maintenance of the system: 31 U.S.C., generally; 42 U.S.C. 1962a et seq.

Routine uses of records maintained in the system, including categories of users and the purposes of such uses: See Appendix. Records also are disclosed to GAO for audits; to the Internal Revenue Service for investigation; and to private attorneys, pursuant to a power of attorney.

A copy of an employee's Department of the Treasury Form W–2, Wage and Tax Statement, also is disclosed to the State, city, or other local jurisdiction which is authorized to tax the employee's compensation.

The record will be provided in accordance with a withholding agreement between the State, city, or other local jurisdiction and the Department of the Treasury pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 5516, 5517, or 5520, or, in the absence thereof, in response to a written request from an appropriate official of the taxing jurisdiction to the Administrative Officer, U.S. Water Resources Council, 2120 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20037. The request must include a copy of the applicable statute or ordinance authorizing the taxation of compensation and should indicate whether the authority of the jurisdiction to tax the employee is based on place of residence, place of employment, or both.

Pursuant to a withholding agreement between a city and the Department of the Treasury (5 U.S.C. 5520), copies of executed city tax withholding certificates shall be furnished the city in response to written request from an appropriate city official to the Administrative Officer, U.S. Water Resources Council, 2120 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20037.

In the absence of a withholding agreement, the Social Security Number will be furnished only to a taxing jurisdiction which has furnished this agency with evidence of its independent authority to compel disclosure of the Social Security Number in accordance with Section 7 of the Privacy Act, Public Law 93-579.

Policies and practices for storing, retrieving, accessing, retaining, and disposing of records in the system:

Storage: Paper and microfilm.

Retrievability: Social Security Number.

APPENDIX—WRC

In the event that a system of records maintained by this agency to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal, or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether Federal, State, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation, or order issued pursuant thereto.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a "routine use" to a Federal, State, or local agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant, or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator, or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement of a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of Federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a Federal agency for purposes of audit.

Information contained in this system of records will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A–19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to a Member of Congress or to a congressional staff member in response to an inquiry of the congressional office made at the request of the individual about whom the record is maintained.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of the General Services Administration in connection with administrative services provided to this agency under agreement with GSA.

Appendix A

AUTHORITY: Sec. 621, Foreign Assistance Act of 1961, as Amended, (22 U.S.C. 2381; 75 Stat. 445); secs. 3, 4, Administrative Procedures Act (5 U.S.C. 553; 60 Stat. 237); Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579; 5 U.S.C. 552a; 88 Stat 1896).

§ 215.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) It is the purpose and objective of the Agency for International Development to collect information, revise personal data collection forms or processes, and maintain Agency records in a manner that will prevent an unwarranted invasion of privacy of those individuals who are the subjects of Agency records.

(b) These regulations establish the procedures by which an individual may obtain notification of the existence of Agency records pertaining to that individual, gain access to those records, request an amendment or correction to the records, and appeal adverse decisions to requests for amendment or correction of Agency records.

(c) The Agency separately states and publishes in the FEDERAL REGISTER a public notice of the existence and character of systems maintained by the Agency, pursuant to the provisions of sections (e)(4) and (e)(11) of the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a; 88 Stat. 1896).

§ 215.2 Definitions.

(a) "Act" means the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a; 88 Stat. 1896);

(b) "Agency" means the Agency for International Development, its offices, bureaus, divisions, and posts abroad;

(c) "Amend" shall include the amendment or correction of a record;

(d) "Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(e) "Maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate;

(f) "Record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by an agency, including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph;

(g) "Routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected;

(h) "Statistical Record" means a record in a system of records maintained for statistical research or reporting purposes only and not used in whole or in part in making any determination about an identifiable individual, except as provided by section 8 of title 13;

(i) "System of Records" means a group of any records under the control of any agency from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

§ 215.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a system of records.

(a) Requests for notification of, access to, or amendment of Agency records contained in a system of record pertaining to an individual may be made in person or by mail as follows:

IN PERSON

Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower (SER/PM), Agency for International Development, Rosslyn Plaza, Room 105, 1601 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia 22209.

BY MAIL

Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower (SER/PM), Agency for International Development, 320 21st Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20523. Attention: Privacy Liaison Officer.

(b) Such request should include information necessary to identify the record, e.g., the individual's full name, date of birth, place of birth, present mailing address, system of record identification name and number, if known, and, to facilitate the retrieval of records contained in those systems of records which are retrievable by social security numbers, the social security number of the individual to whom the record pertains.

(c) With respect to a system of records which may be maintained by the Agency in offices outside the United States, an individual may inquire whether he or she is the subject of an Agency record or may request access to or amendment of such records by appearing in person or by writing to the Privacy liaison Officer, Agency for International Development, at the address given for the applicable country in Appendix A, of this part.

(d) The Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower, or his or her designee, or, in the case of an office abroad, the Privacy Liaison Officer, or his or her designee, shall, within ten (10) working days of receipt of the request, furnish in writing to the requesting individual notice of the existence or nonexistence of any records described in the request.

§ 215.4 Times, places, and requirements for identification of individuals making requests.

(a) Individuals making personal requests for notification, access or contest may do so at the place designated in paragraph (a) of § 215.3, which is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Saturdays, Sundays, and Legal Public Holidays.

(b) Individuals making personal requests for notification, access or contest at offices outside the United States may do so at the places designated in paragraph (c) of § 215.3, during the regular business hours of those offices.

(c) An individual requesting such information in person shall provide such personal identification as is reasonable under the circumstances to verify the individual's identity; e.g., driver's license, employee identification card, or medicare card.

(d) An individual requesting such information by mail shall include in his or her request a signed notarized statement to verify his or her identity and which stipulates that the individual understands that knowingly or willfully seeking or obtaining access to records about another individual under false pretenses is punishable by a fine up to $5,000, as provided in section (i)(3) of the Act.

(e) Verification of identity as set forth in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section shall not be required of individuals seeking access to records otherwise available to any member of the public under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552; 88 Stat. 1561).

(f) An individual who wishes to be accompanied by another person when reviewing a record shall furnish the Agency with a written statement authorizing discussion of his or her record in the presence of the accompanying person. Such statement need not contain any reasons for the access or for the accompanying person's presence.

§ 215.5 Access to requested information by individuals.

(a) Upon receipt of a request by an individual made in accordance with the provisions of § 215.3, such individual shall be granted access to any record pertaining to him or her which is contained in a system of records maintained by the Agency.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, access will not be allowed an individual to information or records compiled by the Agency in reasonable anticipation of a civil or criminal action or proceeding.

(c) Whenever possible, access to requested records will be granted:

(1) Where the request is presented in person and the record is readily available, promptly upon receipt of the request for access, determination that access to the record may be granted, verification of the identity of the individual seeking access, and, where applicable, receipt of consent to discuss the record with a person accompanying the individual;

(2) Where the request is made by mail, the record will, whenever possible, be provided within ten (10) working days of receipt of the request.

(d) Where access to a record cannot reasonably be granted as provided in paragraph (c) (1) and (2) of this section, the Agency will acknowledge in writing receipt of the request for access and indicate a reasonable time within which access to the record can be granted.

(e) Where no reasonable means exist for an individual to have access to his or her record in person, a copy of the record may be provided through the mail. No fee will be charged for providing copies pursuant to this subsection.

§ 215.6 Special procedures: Medical records.

If the Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower, determines that the release directly to the individual of medical records maintained by the Agency could have an adverse effect upon such individual, the director will attempt to arrange an acceptable alternative (such as the release of said information to a doctor named by the individual) in granting access to such record.

§ 215.7 Request for correction or amendment of record.

(a) An individual may request the Agency to correct or amend a record pertaining to him or her which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely or complete.

(b) Such request must be in writing and must be presented, in person or by mail as follows:

IN PERSON

Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower (SER/PM), Agency for International Development, Rosslyn Plaza, Room 105, 1601 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia 22209. Attention: Privacy Liaison Officer.

BY MAIL

Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower (SER/PM), Agency for International Development, 320 21st Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20523. Attention: Privacy Liaison Officer.

(c) Such requests, whether or not submitted on forms provided therefor, must set forth the following information:

(1) Identification of the system of records in which the particular record is maintained;

(2) The portion(s) of the record to be amended or corrected;

(3) The desired amendment or correction;

(4) The reasons for the amendment or correction; and the request must be accompanied by evidence, documentation, or other information in support of the request.

(d) Assistance in preparing a request to amend a record may be obtained from:

Privacy Liaison Officer, Rosslyn Plaza, Room 105, 1601 North Kent Street, Arlington, Virginia 22209.

§ 215.8 Agency review of requests for amendment of record.

(a) The Agency will examine the information requested to be amended to determine its accuracy, timeliness, and completeness, and its relevancy and necessity to accomplish a purpose of the Agency required to be accomplished by statute or by executive order.

(b) Within ten (10) working days after the receipt by the Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower, of a request made in accordance with this section, the Director shall acknowledge in writing such receipt and shall, after examination in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, promptly either:

(1) Make any amendment of any portion thereof which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely or complete, and notify the individual of the amendment made; or

(2) Inform the individual of the Agency's refusal to amend the record in accordance with the request, the reason(s) for the refusal, and the procedures established by the Agency for the individual to request a review of that refusal.

(c) If the Agency agrees with the individual's request to amend a record, in addition to proceeding as set forth in paragraph (b)(1) of this section, it shall promptly advise all previous recipients of the record of the fact that the amendment was made and the substance of the amendment where an accounting of disclosures has been made.

(d) If unusual circumstances prevent the completion of Agency action on the request to amend within 30 days after the receipt thereof by the Director, the individual will be promptly advised of the delay, the reasons for the delay, and of the date by which the review is expected to be completed.

(e) If the Agency, after its initial examination of the record and the request for Amendment, disagrees with all or any part of the individual's request to amend, it shall:

(1) To the extent the Agency agrees with any part of the individual's request to amend, proceed as described in paragraphs (b)(1) and (c) of this section;

(2) Advise the individual of its refusal and the reason(s) therefor;

(3) Inform the individual that he or she may request a further review by the Administrator or by an officer of the Agency designated by the Administrator; and

(4) Describe the procedures for requesting such a review, including the name and address of the official to whom the request should be directed.

(f) No part of these regulations shall be construed to permit:

(1) The alteration of evidence presented in the course of judicial, quasi-judicial or quasi-legislative proceedings;

(2) Collateral attack upon any matter which has been the subject of judicial or quasi-judicial action; or

(3) An amendment or correction which would be in violation of an existing statute, executive order or regulation.

§ 215.9 Appeal of initial adverse agency determination.

(a) An individual who disagrees with the denial or partial denial of his or her request to amend a record may file a request for review of such refusal within 60 days after the date of notification of the denial or partial denial.

(b) The request for review must be in writing and may be presented in person or by mail to:

Administrator, Agency for International Development, 320 21st Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20523. Attention: Executive Secretary, Privacy Review Request.

Both the envelope and the letter should be clearly marked: Attention: Executive Secretary, Privacy Review Request. Such request should include any documentation, information or statements advanced for the amendment of the record, and a copy of the initial adverse determination.

(c) Upon receipt of the request for review, the Administrator, or an officer of the Agency designated in writing by the Administrator, shall undertake an independent review of the initial determination.

(d) If someone other than the Administrator is designated to conduct the review, he or she shall be an officer who is organizationally independent of or senior to the officer or employee who made the initial determination.

(e) In conducting the review, the reviewing official may, at his or her option, request such additional information as is deemed necessary to establish that the record contains only that information which is accurate, timely, complete and necessary to assure fairness in any determination which may be made about the individual on the basis of the record.

(f) Within 30 days after receipt of the request for review, the Administrator, or the official designated to conduct the review, shall advise the individual of the Agency's final decision. If unusual circumstances prevent the completion of the review within the 30-day period, the Agency shall, prior to the expiration of the 30-day period, advise the individual in writing of the circumstances preventing the completion of such review and inform him or her of the date by which the review is expected to be completed.

(g) If the reviewing official determines that the record should be amended in accordance with the individual's request, the Agency shall:

(1) Amend the record accordingly;

(2) Advise the individual of the amendment; and

(3) Where an accounting of disclosures has been made, advise all previous recipients of the fact that the amendment was made and the nature of the amendment.

V 42 I 182 SEP 20 77 UMI

(h) If, after conducting the review, the reviewing official refuses to amend the record, in whole or in part, in accordance with the individual's request, Agency shall advise the individual:

(1) Of its refusal and the reasons therefor;

(2) Of the individual's right to file a concise statement of his or her reasons for disagreeing with the Agency's decision;

(3) Of the procedures for filing a statement of disagreement;

(4) That any such statement will be made available to anyone to whom the record is subsequently disclosed, together with a brief statement by the Agency summarizing its reasons for refusing to amend the record;

(5) That to the extent an accounting of disclosure was maintained, prior recipients of the disputed record will be provided a copy of any statement of disagreement and of the Agency's statement summarizing its reasons for refusing to amend the record; and

(6) Of the individual's right to seek judicial review of the Agency's refusal to amend a record as provided for in section (g)(1)(a) of the Act.

§ 215.10 Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains.

(a) Subject to the conditions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the Agency shall not disclose any record which is contained in a system of records by any means of communication to any person or other agency who is not the individual to whom the record pertains.

(b) Upon written request or with prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains, the Agency may disclose any such record to a person or to another agency as requested or authorized.

(c) Notwithstanding the absence of written consent from the individual to whom the record pertains, the Agency may disclose any such record provided such disclosure is:

(1) To those officers and employees of the Agency who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties;

(2) Required under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552);

(3) For a routine use as defined in § 215.2;

(4) To the Bureau of the Census for purposes of planning or carrying out a census or survey or related activity pursuant to the provisions of Title 13 of the United States Code;

(5) To a recipient who has provided the Agency with adequate advance written assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical research or reporting record, and the record is to be transferred in a form that is not individually identifiable;

(6) To the National Archives of the United States as a record which has sufficient historical or other value to warrant its continued preservation by the United States Government, or for evaluation by the Administrator of General Services or his or her designee, to determine whether the record has such value;

(7) To another agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under the control of the United States for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity authorized by law: Provided, The head of the agency or instrumentality has made a prior written request to the Director, Office of Personnel and Manpower, specifying the particular record and the law enforcement activity for which it is sought;

(8) To a responsible person pursuant to a showing of compelling circumstances affecting the health or safety of an individual if upon such disclosure notification will be transmitted to the last known address of such individual;

(9) To either House of Congress, and to the extent of a matter within its jurisdiction, any committee or subcommittee, or joint committee of Congress, or subcommittee of such joint committee;

(10) To the Comptroller General, or any of his or her authorized representatives, in the course of the performance of the duties of the General Accounting Office; or

(11) Pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 215.11 Fees.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, and § 215.5(e), fees for copies of records and documents will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per page (one side), limited to size-8½" by 14" or smaller.

(b) No fees will be charged for providing the first copy of a record or any portion thereof to individuals to whom the record pertains.

(c) If special handling or other than first-class mail is requested or required, the costs thereof shall be added to the basic fee.

(d) Remittance may be in the form of a check, bank draft on a bank in the United States, or postal money order, payable to the Treasurer of the United States, or cash.

(e) A receipt for fees paid will be given only upon request.

§ 215.12 Penalties and remedies.

The provisions of the Act relating to penalties and remedies are summarized below:

(a) An individual may bring a civil action against the Agency when the Agency:

(1) Makes a determination not to amend a record in accordance with the individual's request;

(2) Refuses to comply with an individual's request pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (d)(1);

(3) Fails to maintain a record concerning an individual with such accuracy, relevance, timeliness and completeness as is necessary to assure fairness in any determination relating to the qualifications, character, rights, or opportunities of, or benefits to the individual that may be made on the basis of such record, and as a result thereof a determination is made which is adverse to the individual; or

(4) Fails to comply with any other provision of section (d) of the Act in such a way as to have an adverse effect on an individual.

(b) The court may order the correction or amendment of the record, may enjoin the Agency from withholding the records, may order the Agency to produce any records improperly withheld, and may assess attorneys' fees and costs.

(c) Where a court of competent jurisdiction makes a determination that the Agency action was willful or intentional with respect to 5 U.S.C. 552a (g)(1)(c) or (d), the United States shall be liable for actual damages of no less than $1,000, the costs of the action, and attorneys' fees.

(d) Criminal penalties may be imposed against an officer or employee of the Agency who willfully discloses material which he or she knows is prohibited from disclosure, or who maintains a system of records without complying with the notice requirements.

(e) Criminal penalties may be imposed against any person who knowingly and willfully requests or obtains any record concerning an individual from an agency under false pretenses. The offenses enumerated in paragraph (d) of this section and this paragraph (e) are misdemeanors, with fines not to exceed $5,000.

§ 215.13 General exemptions.

(a) Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (j)(2), the Administrator may, where there is a compelling reason to do so, exempt a system of records within the Agency from any part of the Act, except subsections (b), (c) (1) and (2), (e)(4)(A) through (F), (e) (6), (7), (9), (10), and (11), and (i) thereof, if the system of records is maintained by the Agency or component thereof which performs as its principal function any activity pertaining to the enforcement of criminal laws, including police efforts to prevent, control, or reduce crime or to apprehend criminals, and the activities of prosecutors, courts, correctional, probation, pardon, or parole authorities, and which consists of:

(1) Information compiled for the purpose of identifying individual criminal offenders and alleged offenders and consisting only of identifying data and notations of arrests, the nature and disposition of criminal charges, sentencing, confinement, release, and parole and probation status;

(2) Information compiled for the purpose of a criminal investigation, including reports of informants and investigators, and associated with an identifiable individual; or

(3) Reports identifiable to an individual compiled at any stage of the process of enforcement of the criminal laws from arrest or indictment through release from supervision.

(b) Each notice of a system of records that is the subject of an exemption under this section will include a statement that the system has been exempted, the reasons therefor, and a reference to the FEDERAL REGISTER issue where the exemption rule can be found.

(c) The systems of records to be exempted under section (j)(2) of the Act, the provisions of the Act from which they are being exempted, and the justification for the exemptions, are set forth below:

(1) Criminal Law Enforcement Records. This system of records is to be exempted from sections (c) (3) and (4), (d), (e) (1), (2), and (3), (e) (4) (G), (H), and (I), (e) (5) and (8), (f), (g) and (h) of the Act. These exemptions are necessary to insure the proper functioning of the law enforcement activity, to protect confidential sources of information, to fulfill promises of confidentiality, to maintain the integrity of the law enforcement procedures, to avoid premature disclosure of the knowledge of criminal activity and the evidentiary bases of possible enforcement actions, to prevent interference with law enforcement proceedings, to avoid the disclosure of investigative techniques, and to avoid the endangering of law enforcement personnel.

§ 215.14 Specific exemptions.

(a) Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k) the Administrator may, where there is a compelling reason to do so, exempt a system of records, from any of the provisions of subsections (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4)(G), (H), and (I), and (f) of the Act if a system of records is:

(1) Subject to the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(1);

(2) Investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes, other than material within the scope of subsection (j)(2) of the Act: Provided, however, That if any individual is denied any right, privilege, or benefit to which he or she would otherwise be eligible, as a result of the maintenance of such material, such material shall be provided to such individual, except to the extent that the disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of a source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence, or, prior to the effective date of this section, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence;

(3) Maintained in connection with providing protective services to the President of the United States or other individuals pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 3056;

(4) Required by statute to be maintained and used solely as statistical records;

(5) Investigatory material compiled solely for the purpose of determining suitability, eligibility, or qualifications for Federal civilian employment, military service, Federal contracts, or access to classified information, but only to the extent that the disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of a source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence, or, prior to the effective date of this section, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence;

(6) Testing or examination material used solely to determine individual qualifications for appointment or promotion in the Federal service, the disclosure of which would compromise the objectivity or fairness of the testing or examination process; or

(7) Evaluation material used to determine potential for promotion in the armed services, but only to the extent that the disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of a source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence, or, prior to the effective date of this section, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence.

(b) Each notice of a system of records that is the subject of an exemption under 5 U.S.C. 552a(k) will include a statement that the system has been exempted, the reasons therefor, and a reference to the FEDERAL REGISTER issue where the exemption rule can be found.

(c) The systems of records to be exempted under section (k) of the Act, the provisions of the Act from which they are being exempted, and the justification for the exemptions, are set forth below:

(1) Criminal Law Enforcement Records. If the 5 U.S.C. 552a(j)(2) exemption claimed under paragraph (c) of § 215.13 and on the notice of systems of records to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on this same date is held to be invalid, then this system is determined to be exempt, under 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(k)(1) and (2) of the Act, from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4) (G), (H), and (I), and (f). The reasons for asserting the exemptions are to protect the materials required by Executive Order to be kept secret in the interest of the national defense or foreign policy, to prevent subjects of investigation from frustrating the investigatory process, to insure the proper functioning and integrity of law enforcement activities, to prevent disclosure of investigative techniques, to maintain the ability to obtain necessary information, to fulfill commitments made to sources to protect their identities and the confidentiality of information and to avoid endangering these sources and law enforcement personnel.

(2) Personnel Security and Suitability Investigatory Records. This system is exempt under U.S.C. 552a (k)(1), (k)(2), (k)(3), and (k)(5) from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4), (G), (H), and (I), and (f). These exemptions are claimed to protect the materials required by Executive Order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense or foreign policy, to prevent subjects of investigation from frustrating the investigatory process, to insure the proper functioning and integrity of law enforcement activities, to prevent disclosure of investigative techniques, to assure the protection of the President, to maintain the ability to obtain candid and necessary information, to fulfill commitments made to sources to protect the confidentiality of information, to avoid endangering these sources and, ultimately, to facilitate proper selection or continuance of the best applicants or persons for a given position or contract. Special note is made of the limitation on the extent to which this exemption may be asserted.

(3) Litigation Records. This system is exempt under 5 U.S.C. 552a (k)(1), (k)(2), and (k)(5) from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4)(G), (H), and (I), and (f). These exemptions are claimed to protect the materials required by Executive Order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense or foreign policy, to prevent subjects of investigation from frustrating the investigatory process, to insure the proper functioning and integrity of law enforcement activities, to prevent disclosure of investigative techniques, to maintain the ability to obtain candid and necessary information, to fulfill commitments made to sources to protect the confidentiality of information, to avoid endangering these sources and, ultimately, to facilitate proper selection or continuance of the best applicants or persons for a given position or contract, and to prevent interference with a legitimate, Congressionally sanctioned activity.

(5) The following systems of records are exempt under 5 U.S.C. 552a (k)(5) from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4) (G), (H), and (I), and (f):

(i) Employee Conduct and Discipline Records

(ii) Employee Relations Records.

This exemption is claimed for these systems of records to maintain the ability to obtain candid and necessary information, to fulfill commitments made to sources to protect the confidentiality of information, to avoid endangering these sources and, ultimately, to facilitate proper selection or continuance of the best applicants or persons for a given position or contract. Special note is made of the limitation on the extent to which this exemption may be asserted. The existence and general character of the information exempted will be made known to the individual to whom it pertains.

(4) Employee Equal Employment Opportunity Complaint Investigatory Records. This system is exempt under 5 U.S.C. 552a (k)(1), (k)(2), (k)(4), and (k)(5) from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4), (G), (H), and (I), and (f). These exemptions are claimed to protect the materials required by Executive Order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense or foreign policy, to prevent subjects of investigation from frustrating the investigatory process, to insure the proper Authority: 5 U.S.C. 552. Pub. L. 91-579.

§ 415.1 Purpose and scope.

The purposes of these regulations are to:

(a) Establish a procedure by which an individual can determine if the Board for International Broadcasting (hereinafter referred to as the Board) maintains a system of records which pertains to him or her;

(b) Establish a procedure by which an individual can gain access to records pertaining to him or her which are maintained by the Board;

(c) Establish a procedure by which an individual can request amendment of records pertaining to him or her which are maintained by the Board;

(d) Establish a procedure by which an individual can request an appeal of a determination not to amend his or her records;

(e) Establish a procedure by which an individual can request an accounting of disclosures of records pertaining to him or her which are maintained by the Board; and

(f) Establish a procedure by which an individual can request that the Board not disclose records pertaining to him or her which are maintained by the Board.

§ 415.2 Definitions.

(a) The term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(b) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate.

(c) The term "record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Board, including, but not limited to, his or her education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph.

(d) The term "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Board from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol or other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

(e) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 415.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

An individual shall submit a request to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board, Suite 430, 1030 Fifteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20005, in person or in writing, to determine if a system of records named by the individual contains a record pertaining to the individual, or if the Board maintains any systems of record which pertain to the individual. The individual shall submit a request to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board which states the individual's desire to review his or her record. Individuals who require assistance in identifying systems of record, or in preparing requests identifying systems of record for access, or who need assistance in requesting amendments, may address such requests to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board, Suite 430 1030 Fifteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20005

§ 415.4 Times, places, and requirements for the identification of the individual making a request.

An individual making a request to the § 415.5 Disclosure of requested information to the individual.

Upon verification of identity either in person or in written form to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board, Suite 430, 1030 Fifteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20005, and in accordance with the identification provisions of § 415.4, the Board shall disclose to the individual the information contained in the record which pertains to that individual. The individual may be accompanied for the purpose by a person of his or her choosing. Upon request of the individual to whom the record pertains, all information in the accounting of disclosures will be made available. If, for any unforeseen circumstances, or in an unusual situation when it may be necessary to deny a person access, the individual will be advised of the reasons therefor, and his or her right to judicial review under 5 U.S.C. 552a (f)(4).

§ 415.6 Access to the accounting of disclosures from records.

The Privacy Act requires that with some limited exceptions individuals may request access to a list of those to whom records about them have been disclosed. Individuals seeking access to the accounting of disclosures from records pertaining to them should follow the same procedures as enumerated above for access to the records themselves. [illegible]

§ 415.9 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment of the record.

An individual who disagrees with the refusal of the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board to correct or to amend his or her record may submit a request for a review of such refusal to the Executive Director of the Board for International Broadcasting, Suite 430, 1030 Fifteenth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20005. The Executive Director will, not later than thirty working days from the date on which the individual requests such review, complete such review and make a final determination unless, for good cause shown, the Executive Director extends such thirty day period. If, after his or her review, the Executive Director also refuses to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the individual may file with the Board a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his or her disagreement with the refusal of the Board and may seek judicial review of the Executive Director's determination under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A). A copy of the corrected record or statement of dispute will be provided to prior recipients of the information in question, to the extent that the Board has an accounting of the disclosure of that information.

§ 415.10 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

The Board will not disclose a record to any individual other than to the individual to whom the record pertains without receiving the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains, except as required or permitted under 5 U.S.C. 552a(b).

§ 415.11 Fees.

If an individual requests copies of his or her record, he or she shall be charged ten cents per page for any copying charges in excess of $25.00. In cases of indigency, the Board may waive such fees. In cases where copying charges exceed $25.00, advance payment will be required.

415.9 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment of the record.
415.10 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.
415.11 Fees.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a; Pub. L. 93-579.

§ 415.1 Purpose and scope.

The purposes of these regulations are to:

(a) Establish a procedure by which an individual can determine if the Board for International Broadcasting (hereafter known as the Board) maintains a system of records which includes a record pertaining to the individual; and

(b) Establish a procedure by which an individual can gain access to a record pertaining to him or her for the purpose of review, amendment and/or correction.

§ 415.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of these regulations—

(a) The term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(b) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate;

(c) The term "record means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Board, including, but not limited to, his or her employment history, payroll information, and financial transactions and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as social security number;

(d) The term "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Board from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual; and

(e) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is comptaible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 415.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

An individual shall submit a request to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board, Suite 430, 1030 Fifteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20005, in person or in writing, to determine if a system of records named by the individual contains a record pertaining to the individual, or if the Board maintains any systems of record which pertain to the individual. The individual shall submit a request to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board which states the individual's desire to review his or her record. Individuals who require assistance in identifying systems of record, or in preparing requests identifying systems of record for access, or who need assistance in requesting amendments, may address such requests to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board, Suite 430 1030 Fifteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20005.

§ 415.4 Times, places, and requirements for the identification of the individual making a request.

An individual making a request to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board pursuant to § 415.3 shall present the request at the Board offices, Suite 430, 1030 Fifteenth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20005, on any business day between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., or in writing. The individual submitting the request should present himself or herself at the Board's offices with a form of identification which will permit the Board to verify that the individual is the same individual as contained in the record requested, such as a valid driver's permit, employee identification card, or Medicare card, or a signed statement from the individual asserting his or her identity and stipulating that he or she understands that knowingly or willfully seeking or obtaining access to records about another individual under false pretenses is punishable by a fine of up to $5,000. If the individual seeks access by mail, the Board will require similar identification as required of those persons requesting access to records in person, or by identifying data such as name, date of birth, or system personal identifier (if known to the individual). Requests for access to systems of record will be acknowledged within ten days of receipt. The acknowledgement will indicate whether or not access can be granted and, if so, that it will be within a 30-day period unless, for good cause shown, the Board is unable to do so.

§ 415.5 Disclosure of requested information to the individual.

Upon verification of identity either in person or in written form to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board, Suite 430, 1030 Fifteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20005, and in accordance with the identification provisions of § 415.4, the Board shall disclose to the individual the information contained in the record which pertains to that individual. The individual may be accompanied for the purpose by a person of his or her choosing. Upon request of the individual to whom the record pertains, all information in the accounting of disclosures will be made available. If, for any unforeseen circumstances, or in an unusual situation when it may be necessary to deny a person access, the individual will be advised of the reasons therefor, and his or her right to judicial review under 5 U.S.C. 552a (f)(4).

§ 415.6 Access to the accounting of disclosures from records.

The Privacy Act requires that with some limited exceptions individuals may request access to a list of those to whom records about them have been disclosed. Individuals seeking access to the accounting of disclosures from records pertaining to them should follow the same procedures as established above for access to the records themselves (see §§ 415.3, 415.4, 415.5).

§ 415.7 Request for correction or amendment to the record.

The individual should submit a request to the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board which states the individual's desire to correct or to amend his or her record. This request is to be made in accord with the provisions of § 415.4.

§ 415.8 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of the record.

Within ten working days of the receipt of the request to correct or to amend the record, the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board will acknowledge in writing such receipt and promptly either—

(a) Make any correction or amendment or any portion thereof which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete; or

(b) Inform the individual of his or her refusal to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the reason for the refusal, and the procedures established by the Board for the individual to request a review of that refusal. Corrections or amendments will be sent to prior recipients of the record in question, to the extent that the Board has an accounting of the disclosure of the record of that information.

§ 415.9 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment of the record.

An individual who disagrees with the refusal of the Budget and Administrative Officer of the Board to correct or to amend his or her record may submit a request for a review of such refusal to the Executive Director of the Board for International Broadcasting, Suite 430, 1030 Fifteenth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20005. The Executive Director will, not later than thirty working days from the date on which the individual requests such review, complete such review and make a final determination unless, for good cause shown, the Executive Director extends such thirty day period. If, after his or her review, the Executive Director also refuses to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the individual may file with the Board a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his or her disagreement with the refusal of the Board and may seek judicial review of the Executive Director's determination under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A). A copy of the corrected record or statement of dispute will be provided to prior recipients of the information in question, to the extent that the Board has an accounting of the disclosure of that information.

§ 415.10 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

The Board will not disclose a record to any individual other than to the individual to whom the record pertains without receiving the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains, except as required or permitted under 5 U.S.C. 552a(b).

§ 415.11 Fees.

If an individual requests copies of his or her record, he or she shall be charged ten cents per page for any copying charges in excess of $25.00. In cases of indigency, the Board may waive such fees. In cases where copying charges exceed $25.00, advance payment will be required.

CHAPTER X—COMMISSION OF FINE ARTS

PART 1002—RULES FOR COMPLIANCE WITH 5 U.S.C. 552a, THE PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Sec.

1002.1 Rules for determining if an individual is the subject of a record.
1002.2 Requests for access.
1002.3 Access to the accounting of disclosure from records.
1002.4 Requests for copies of records.
1002.5 Requests to amend records.
1002.6 Requests for review.
1002.7 Schedule of fees.

AUTHORITY: Pub. L. 93-579, 88 Stat. 1896 (5 U.S.C. 552a(f)).

§ 1002.1 Rules for determining if an individual is the subject of a record.

(a) Individuals desiring to know if a specific system of records maintained by the Commission of Fine Arts contains a record pertaining to them should address their inquiries to the Secretary, Commission of Fine Arts, 708 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006. The written inquiry should contain a specific reference to the system of records maintained by CFA listed in the CFA Notices of Systems of Records or it should describe the type of record in sufficient detail to reasonably identify the system of records. Notice of CFA Systems of Records will be made in the Federal Register and copies of the notices will be available upon request to the Secretary when so published. A compilation of such notices will also be made and published by the Office of the Federal Register in accordance with section 5 U.S.C. 552a(f).

(b) At a minimum, the request should contain sufficient identifying information to allow CFA to determine if there is a record pertaining to the individual making the request in a particular system of records. In instances where identification is insufficient to insure disclosure to the individual to whom the information pertains in view of the sensitivity of the information, CFA reserves the right to solicit from the requester additional identifying information.

(c) Ordinarily the requester will be informed whether the named system of records contains a record pertaining to the requester within 10 days of the receipt of such a request (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays). Such a response will also contain or reference the procedures which must be followed by the individual making the request in order to gain access to the record.

(d) Whenever a response cannot be made within 10 days, the Secretary will inform the requester of the reasons for the delay and the date by which a response may be anticipated.

§ 1002.2 Requests for access.

(a) Requirement for written requests. Individuals desiring to gain access to a record pertaining to them in a system of records maintained by CFA must submit their request in writing in accordance with the procedures set forth in subsection (b), below.

(b) Procedures. (1) Content of the request. The request for access to a record in a system of records shall be addressed to the Secretary, at the address cited above; and shall name the system of records or contain a description (as concise as possible) of such system of records. The request should state that the request is pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974. In the absence of such a statement, if the request is for a record pertaining to the requester maintained by CFA in a system of records, the request will be presumed to be made under the Privacy Act of 1974. The requester should include any other information which may assist in the rapid identification of the record for which access is being requested (e.g., maiden name, dates of employment, etc.).

(2) Requirements for identification will normally be limited to the presentation of any standard picture and signature or signature identification card, such as driver's license, so that a comparison of the signature and the signature on the original request may be made. The appearing individual will be read paragraph (3), subsection (i) to Title 5 CFR 552a which specifies the penalty for knowingly or willfully requesting or obtaining a record concerning an individual from an agency under false pretenses and asked to sign a statement attesting to the fact that he or she understands the paragraph and that he or she is, in fact, the individual who made the request (or the individual authorized to receive the disclosure by the requesting individual). This signature will be compared with the other two. If the appearing individual is other than the requesting individual, then he or she must also present a letter of introduction signed by the requesting individual so that the comparison of signature may be made.

(c) CFA action on request (1) A request for access will ordinarily be answered within 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays), except when the Secretary determines otherwise, in which case the requester will be informed of the reason for the delay and an anticipated date by which the request will be answered. When the request can be answered within 10 days, it shall include the following:

(i) A statement that there is a record as requested or a statement that there is not a record in the system of records maintained by CFA;

(ii) A statement as to whether access will be granted only by providing a copy of the record through the mail; or the address of the location and the date and time at which the record may be examined. In the event the requester is unable to meet the specified date and time, alternate arrangements may be made with the official specified in paragraph (b)(1) of this section;

(iii) A statement, when appropriate, that examination in person will be the sole means of granting access only when the Secretary has determined that it would not unduly impede the requester's right of access;

(iv) The amount of fees charged, if any (see §§ 1002.4 and 1002.7); and

(v) The name, title, and telephone number of the CFR official having operational control over the record.

(A) Access by the parent of a minor, or legal guardian. A parent or a minor, upon presenting suitable personal identification, may access on behalf of the minor any record pertaining to the minor maintained by CFA in a system of records. A legal guardian may similarly act on behalf of an individual declared to be incompetent due to physical or mental incapacity or age by a court of competent jurisdiction, upon the presentation of documents authorizing the legal guardian to so act; and upon suitable personal identification of the guardian.

(B) Granting access when accompanied or represented by another individual. When an individual requesting access to his or her record in a system of records maintained by CFA wishes to be accompanied or represented by another individual during the course of the examination of the record, the individual making the request shall submit to the official having operational control of the record a signed statement authorizing that person access to the record.

(C) Access in response to congressional inquiries. Disclosure may be made to a congressional office from the record of an individual in response to an inquiry from the congressional office made at the request of that individual.

(vi) Medical records. The records in a system of records which are medical records shall be disclosed to the individual in such a manner and following such procedures as the Secretary shall direct. When CFA, in consultation with a physician, determines that the disclosure of medical information could have an adverse effect upon the individual to whom it pertains, CFA may transmit such information to a physician named by the individual.

(vii) Exceptions. Nothing in this section shall be construed to entitle an individual the right to access to any information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil action or proceeding.

§ 1002.3 Access to the accounting of disclosures from records.

Rules governing the granting of access to the accounting of disclosures are the same as those for granting access to the records outlined in § 1002.2, above.

§ 1002.4 Requests for copies of records.

Rules governing requests for copies of records are the same as those for the granting of access to the records outlined in § 1002.2, above (see also § 1002.7 for rules regarding fees).

§ 1002.5 Requests to amend records.

(a) Requirement for written requests. Individuals desiring to amend a record that pertains to them in a system of records maintained by CFA must submit their request in writing in accordance with the procedures set forth herein unless the requirement is waived by the official having responsibility for the system of records. Records not subject to the Privacy Act of 1974 will not be amended in accordance with these provisions; however, individuals who believe that such records are inaccurate may bring this to the attention of the CFA.

(b) Procedures. (1) (i) The request to amend a record in a system of records shall be addressed to the Secretary. Included in the request shall be the name of the system and a brief description of the record proposed for amendment. In the event the request to amend the record is the result of the individual's having gained access to the record as set forth above, copies of previous correspondence between the requester and CFA will serve in lieu of a separate description of the record.

(ii) Individuals desiring assistance in the preparation of a request to amend a record should contact the Secretary at the address cited above.

(iii) The exact portion of the record the individual seeks to have amended should be clearly indicated. If possible, the proposed alternative language should also be set forth, or, at a minimum, the facts which the individual believes are not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete, should be set forth with such particularity as to permit CFA not only to understand the individual's basis for the request, but also to make an appropriate amendment to the record.

(iv) The request must also set forth the reasons why the individual believes his record is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete. In order to avoid the retention by CFA of personal information merely to permit the verification of records, the burden of persuading CFA to amend a record will be upon the individual. The individual must furnish sufficient facts to persuade the official in charge of the system of the inaccuracy, irrelevancy, timeliness, or incompleteness of the record.

(2) CFA action on the request. To the extent possible, a decision upon a request to amend a record will be made within 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays). In the event that a decision cannot be made within this time frame, the individual making the request will be informed within the 10 days of the expected date for a decision. The decision upon a request for amendment will include the following:

(i) The decision of the Commission of Fine Arts whether to grant in full or deny any part of the request to amend the record;

(ii) The reasons for the determination for any part of the request which is denied;

(iii) The name and address of the official with whom an appeal of the denial may be lodged;

(iv) The name and address of the official designated to assist, as necessary, and upon the request of, the individual making the request in preparation of the appeal;

(v) A description of the review of the appeal within CFA (see § 1002.6); and

(vi) A description of any other procedures which may be required of the individual in order to process an appeal.

§ 1002.6 Request for review.

(a) Individuals wishing to request a review of the decision by CFA with regard to an initial request to amend a record in accordance with the provisions of § 1002.5 above, should submit the request for review in writing and, to the extent possible, include the information specified in paragraph (a) of this section. Individuals desiring assistance in the preparation of their request for review should contact the Secretary at the address provided herein.

(b) The request for review should contain a brief description of the record involved or in lieu thereof, copies of the correspondence from CFA in which the request to amend was denied and also the reasons why the requester believes that the disputed information should be amended. The request for review should make reference to the information furnished by the individual in support of his claim and the reasons as required by § 1002.5 above set forth by CFA in its decision denying the amendment. Appeals filed without a complete statement by the requester setting forth the reasons for the review will, of course, be processed. However, in order to make the appellate process as meaningful as possible, the requester's disagreement should be understandably set forth. In order to avoid the unnecessary retention of personal information, CFA reserves the right to dispose of the material concerning the request to amend a record if no request for review in accordance with this section is received by CFA within 180 days of the mailing by CFA of its decision upon an initial request. A request for review received after the 180-day period may, at the discretion of the Secretary, be treated as an initial request to amend a record.

(c) The request for review should be addressed to the Secretary.

(d) Upon receipt of a request for review, the Secretary will convene a review group composed of the Secretary and the Chairman. This group will review the basis for the requested review and will develop a recommended course of action to the office's Committee on Freedom of Information and Privacy (hereinafter referred to as the Committee). If at any time additional information is required from the requestee, the Secretary is authorized to acquire it or authorize its acquisition from the requester.

(e) The Committee is composed of:

(1) The Chairman;

(2) The Secretary;

(3) The Assistant Secretary;

(4) The Administrative Assistant.

(f) The Committee will review the request for review and the recommended course of action and will recommend a decision on the request for review to the Chairman, who has the final authority regarding appeals.

(g) The Chairman will inform the requester in writing of the decision on the request for review within 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays) from the date of receipt by CFA of the individual's request for review unless the Chairman extends the 30-day period for good cause. The extension of and the reasons therefor will be sent by CFA to the requester within the initial 30-day period. Included in the notice of a decision being reviewed, if the decision does not grant in full the request for review, will be a description of the steps the individual may take to obtain judicial review of such a decision, and a statement that the individual may file a concise statement with CFA setting forth the individual's reasons for his disagreement with the decision upon the request for review. The Secretary has the authority to determine the "conciseness" of the statement, taking into account the scope of the disagreement and the complexity of the issues. Upon the filing of a proper concise statement by the individual, any subsequent disclosure of the information in dispute will have the information in dispute clearly noted and a copy of the concise statement furnished, as well as a concise statement by CFA setting forth its reasons for not making the requested changes, if CFA chooses to file such a statement. A copy of the individual's statement, and, if it chooses, CFA's statement will be sent to any prior transferee of the disputed information who is listed on the accounting required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(c).

§ 1002.7 Schedule of fees.

No fees will be charged for search, review, or copies of the record.

603.360 Specific exemptions.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a (f), (j), (k).

§ 603.300 Purpose and scope.

(a) This part is published by the Farm Credit Administration pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579, 5 U.S.C. 552a) which requires each Federal agency to promulgate rules to establish procedures for notification and disclosure to an individual of agency records pertaining to him, and for review, of such records.

(b) The records covered by this part include:

(1) Personnel and employment records maintained by the Farm Credit Administration which are not covered by §§ 293.101–293.111 of the regulations of the Civil Service Commission (5 CFR 293.101–293.111), and

(2) Other records contained in record systems maintained by the Farm Credit Administration.

§ 603.305 Definitions.

In this part:

(1) "Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(2) "Maintain" includes maintain, collect, use, or disseminate;

(3) "Record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by an agency including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history, and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or photograph;

(4) "System of records" means a group of any records under the control of any agency from which information is retrieved by the name of an individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual;

(5) "Statistical record" means a record in a system of records maintained for statistical research or reporting purposes only and not used in whole or in part in making any determination about an identifiable individual, except as provided by 13 U.S.C. 8.

(6) "Routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected;

(7) "Agency" includes the Farm Credit Administration.

§ 603.310 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

(a) Any present or former employee of the Farm Credit Administration seeking access to his official civil service records maintained by the Farm Credit Administration shall submit his request in such manner as is prescribed by the Civil Service Commission.

(b) Any individual seeking to obtain from the Farm Credit Administration:

(1) Notification whether the agency maintains a record pertaining to him in a system of records;

(2) Notification whether the agency has disclosed a record for which an accounting of disclosure is required to be maintained and made available to him;

(3) A copy of a record pertaining to him or the accounting of its disclosure; or

(4) The review of a record pertaining to him or the accounting of its disclosure; shall submit a written request to the Director, Administrative Division, Office of Administration (hereafter referred to as "Director"), Farm Credit Administration, 490 L'Enfant Plaza East, SW., Washington, D.C. 20578. The request shall state the full name and address of the individual and identify the system or systems of records believed to contain the information or record sought.

§ 603.315 Times, places, and requirements for identification of individuals making requests.

(a) The individual making written requests to the Director for information or records ordinarily will not be required to verify his identity. The signature upon such requests shall be deemed to be a certification by the requester that he is the individual to whom the record pertains, or the parent of a minor, or the duly appointed legal guardian of the individual to whom the record pertains. The Director, however, may require such additional verification of identity as he may specify in any instance in which he deems it advisable.

§ 603.320 Disclosure of requested information to individuals.

(a) The Director shall, within a reasonable period of time after the date of receipt of a request for information or records:

(1) Determine whether or not such request shall be granted,

(2) Notify the requester of the determination and, if the request is denied, of the reasons therefor, and

(3) Notify the requester that fees for reproducing copies of records may be charged as provided in § 603.345.

(b) If access to a record is denied because the information therein has been compiled by the Farm Credit Administration in reasonable anticipation of a civil or criminal action proceeding the Director shall notify the requester of his right to judicial appeal under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g).

(c) (1) If access to a record is granted the requester shall notify the Director whether the requested record is to be copied and mailed to him or whether the record is to be made available to him in person.

(2) A requester who is an individual may be accompanied by an individual selected by him when the record is disclosed, in which case he may be required to furnish a written statement authorizing the discussion of the record in the presence of the accompanying person.

(d) If the record is to be made available for personal inspection, the requester shall arrange with the Director a mutually agreeable time in the offices of the Farm Credit Administration for inspection of the record.

§ 603.325 Special procedures for medical records.

Medical records in the custody of the Farm Credit Administration which are not subject to Civil Service Commission regulations shall be disclosed either to the individual to whom they pertain or his authorized or legal representative or to a licensed physician named by the individual.

§ 603.330 Request for amendment to record.

(a) If, after disclosure of the requested information, an individual believes that the record is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete, he may request in writing that the record be amended. Such a request shall be submitted to the Director and shall contain identification of the system of records and the record or information therein, a brief description of the material requested to be changed, the requested change or changes, and the reason for such change or changes.

(b) The Director shall acknowledge receipt of the request within 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) and, if a determination has not been made, advise the individual when he may expect to be advised of action taken on the request. The acknowledgment may contain a request for additional information needed to make a determination.

§ 603.335 Agency review of request for amendment of record.

Upon receipt of a request for amendment of a record, the Director shall:

(a) Correct any portion of a record which the individual making the request believes is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete and thereafter inform the individual in writing of such correction, or

(b) Inform the individual in writing of refusal to amend the record and of the reasons therefor, and advise him that he may appeal such determination as provided in § 603.340.

§ 603.340 Appeal of an initial adverse determination of a request to amend a record.

(a) Not more than 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) after receipt by an individual of an adverse determination on his request to amend a record or otherwise, the individual may appeal to the Deputy Governor, Office of Administration.

(b) The appeal shall be by letter, mailed or delivered to the Deputy Governor, Office of Administration, Farm Credit Administration, 490 L'Enfant Plaza East, SW., Washington, D.C. 20578. The letter shall identify the records involved in the same manner they were identified to the Director, shall specify the dates of the request and adverse determination, and shall indicate the expressed basis for that determination. Also, the letter shall state briefly and succinctly the reasons why the adverse determination should be reversed.

(c) The review shall be completed and a final determination made by the Deputy Governor not later than 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) from receipt of the request for such review, unless the Deputy Governor extends such 30-day period for good cause. If the 30-day period is extended the individual shall be notified of the reasons therefor.

(d) If the Deputy Governor refuses to amend the record in accordance with the request, the individual shall be notified of his right to file a concise statement setting forth his disagreement with the final determination and his right under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A) to a judicial review of the final determination.

(e) If an amendment of a record as requested upon review is refused, there shall be included in the disputed portion of the record a copy of the concise statement filed by the individual together with a concise statement of the reasons for not amending the record as requested. Such statements will be included when disclosure of the disputed record is made to persons and agencies as authorized under 5 U.S.C. 552a.

§ 603.345 Fees for providing copies of records.

Fees for providing copies of records shall be charged in accordance with § 602.265 of this chapter.

§ 603.350 Criminal penalties.

Section 552a (i) (3) of the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a (i) (3) makes it a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $5,000, to knowingly and willfully request or obtain any record concerning any individual from an agency under false pretenses. Sections 552a (i) (1) and (2) of the Act (5 U.S.C. 552a (i) (1), (2)) provide penalties for violation by agency employees of the Act or regulations established thereunder.

§ 603.355 Specific exemptions.

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (k) (2), investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes in the following systems of records is exempt from subsections (c) (3), (d), (e) (1), (e) (4) (G), (H), and (I), and (f) of 5 U.S.C. 552a and from the provisions of this part:

1.14 Specific exemptions.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a.

§ 1.1 Purpose and scope.

(a) The purpose of this part is to set forth rules informing the public as to what information is maintained by the Federal Election Commission about identifiable individuals and to inform those individuals how they may gain access to and correct or amend information about themselves.

(b) The regulations in this part carry out the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579) and in particular 5 U.S.C. Section 552a as added by that Act.

(c) The regulations in this part apply only to records disclosed or requested under the Privacy Act of 1974, and not to requests for information made pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552, the Freedom of Information Act, or requests for reports and statements filed with the Federal Election Commission which are public records and available for inspection and copying pursuant to 2 U.S.C. §§ 437g(a)(6)(C) and 438(a)(4).

§ 1.2 Definitions.

As defined in the Privacy Act of 1974 and for the purposes of this part, unless otherwise required by the context, the following terms shall have these meanings:

"Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

"Maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate.

"Record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by an agency, including but not limited to his or her education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as finger or voice print or a photograph.

"Systems of Records" means a group of any records under the control of the Federal Election Commission from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

"Routine use" means the use of such record for a purpose compatible with the purpose for which the information was collected.

"Commission" means the Federal Election Committee, its Commissioners and employees.

"Commissioners" means the six appointees confirmed by the Senate who are voting members of the Commission.

"Act" means the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended and Chapters 95 and 96 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

§ 1.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

(a) Any individual may request the Commission to inform him or her whether a particular record system named by the individual contains a record pertaining to him or her. The request may be made in person or in writing at the location and to the person specified in the notice describing that record system.

(b) An individual who believes that the Commission maintains records pertaining to him or her but who cannot determine which record system contains those records, may request assistance by mail or in person from the Staff Director, Federal Election Commission, 1325 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20463 during the hours of 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

(c) Requests under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section shall be acknowledged by the Commission within 15 days from the date of receipt of the request. If the Commission is unable to locate the information requested under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, it shall so notify the individual within 15 days after receipt of the request. Such acknowledgement may request additional information to assist the Commission in locating the record or it may advise the individual that no record or document exists about that individual.

§ 1.4 Times, places, and requirements for identification of individuals making requests.

(a) After being informed by the Commission that a record system contains a record pertaining to him or her, an individual may request the Commission to disclose that record in the manner described in this section. Each request for the disclosure of a record or a copy of it shall be made at the Federal Election Commission, 1325 K Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20463 and to the system manager identified in the notice describing the systems of records, either in writing or in person. Requests may be made by specifically authorized agents or by parents or guardians of individuals.

(b) Each individual requesting the disclosure of a record or copy of a record shall furnish the following information with his or her request:

(1) The name of the record system containing the record;

(2) Proof as described in paragraph (c) of this section that he or she is the individual to whom the requested record relates;

(3) Any other information required by the notice describing the record system.

(c) Proof of identity as required by paragraph (b)(2) of this section shall be provided as described in paragraph (c)(1) and (2) of this section. Requests made by an agent, parent, or guardian, shall be in accordance with the procedures described in § 1.10.

(1) Requests made in writing shall include a statement, signed by the individual and either notarized or witnessed by two persons (including witnesses' addresses). If the individual appears before a notary, he or she shall submit adequate proof of identification in the form of a drivers license, birth certificate, passport or other identification acceptable to the notary. If the statement is witnessed, it shall include a sentence above the witnesses' signatures that they personally know the individual or that the individual has submitted proof of his or her identification to their satisfaction. In any case in which, because of the extreme sensitivity of the record sought to be seen or copied, the Commission determines that the identification is not adequate, it may request the individual to submit additional proof of identification.

(2) If the request is made in person, the requestor shall submit proof of identification similar to that described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section, acceptable to the Commission. The individual may have a person of his or her own choosing accompany him or her when the record is disclosed.

§ 1.5 Disclosure of requested information to individuals.

(a) Upon submission of proof of identification as required by § 1.4, the Commission shall allow the individual to see and/or obtain a copy of the requested record or shall send a copy of the record to the individual by registered mail. If the individual requests to see the record, the Commission may make the record available either at the location where the record is maintained or at a place more suitable to the requestor, if possible. The record shall be made available as soon as possible but in no event later than 15 days after proof of identification.

(b) The Commission must furnish each record requested by an individual under this part in a form intelligible to that individual.

(c) If the Commission denies access to a record to an individual, he or she shall be advised of the reason for the denial and advised of the right to judicial review.

(d) Upon request, an individual will be provided access to the accounting of disclosures from his or her record under the same procedures as provided above and in § 1.4.

§ 1.6 Special procedure: medical records. [Reserved]

§ 1.7 Request for correction or amendment to record.

(a) Any individual who has reviewed a record pertaining to him or her that was furnished under this part, may request the Commission to correct or amend all or any part of that record.

(b) Each individual requesting a correction or amendment shall send the request to the Commission through the person who furnished the record.

(c) Each request for a correction or amendment of a record shall contain the following information:

(1) The name of the individual requesting the correction or amendment;

(2) The name of the system of records in which the record sought to be amended is maintained;

(3) The location of the system of records from which the individual record was obtained;

(4) A copy of the record sought to be amended or corrected or a sufficiently detailed description of that record;

(5) A statement of the material in the record that the individual desires to correct or amend;

(6) A statement of the basis for the requested correction or amendment including any material that the individual can furnish to substantiate the reasons for the correction or amendment sought.

§ 1.8 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of record.

(a) The Commission shall, not later than ten (10) days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays) after the receipt of the request for a correction or amendment of a record under § 1.7, acknowledge receipt of the request and inform the individual whether information is required before the correction or amendment can be considered.

(b) If no additional information is required, within ten (10) days from receipt of the request, the Commission shall either make the requested correction or amendment or notify the individual of its refusal to do so, including in the notification the reasons for the refusal, and the appeal procedures provided in § 1.9.

(c) The Commission shall make each requested correction or amendment to a record if that correction or amendment will tend to negate inaccurate, irrelevant, untimely, or incomplete matter in the record.

(d) The Commission shall inform prior recipients of any amendment or correction or notation of dispute of such individual's record if an accounting of the disclosure was made. The individual may request a list of prior recipients if an accounting of the disclosure was made.

§ 1.9 Appeal of initial adverse agency determination on amendment or correction.

(a) Any individual whose request for a correction or amendment has been denied in whole or in part, may appeal that decision to the Commissioners no later than one hundred eighty (180) days after the adverse decision is rendered.

(b) The appeal shall be in writing and shall contain the following information:

(1) The name of the individual making the appeal;

(2) Identification of the record sought to be amended;

(3) The record system in which that record is contained;

(4) A short statement describing the amendment sought; and

(5) The name and location of the agency official who initially denied the correction or amendment.

(c) Not later than thirty (30) days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays) after the date on which the Commission receives the appeal, the Commissioners shall complete their review of the appeal and make a final decision thereon. However, for good cause shown, the Commissioners may extend that thirty (30) day period. If the Commissioners extend the period, the individual requesting the review shall be promptly notified of the extension and the anticipated date of a decision.

(d) After review of an appeal, the Commission shall send a written notice to the requestor containing the following information:

(1) The decision and, if the denial is upheld, the reasons for the decision;

(2) The right of the requestor to institute a civil action in a Federal District Court for judicial review of the decision; and

(3) The right of the requestor to file with the Commission a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his or her disagreement with the Commission denial of the correction or amendment. The Commission shall make this statement available to any person to whom the record is later disclosed, together with a brief statement, if appropriate, of the Commission's reasons for denying the requested correction or amendment. The Commission shall also send a copy of the statement to prior recipients of the individual's record if an accounting of the disclosures was made.

§ 1.10 Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains.

(a) Any individual who desires to have a record covered by this part disclosed to or mailed to another person may designate such person and authorize such person to act as his or her agent for that specific purpose. The authorization shall be in writing, signed by the individual and notarized or witnessed as provided in § 1.4(c).

(b) The parent of any minor individual or the legal guardian of any individual who has been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be incompetent, due to physical or mental incapacity or age, may act on behalf of that individual in any matter covered by this part. A parent or guardian who desires to act on behalf of such an individual shall present suitable evidence of parentage or guardianship, by birth certificate, certified copy of a court order, or similar documents, and proof of the individual's identity in a form that complies with § 1.4(c) of this part.

(c) An individual to whom a record is to be disclosed in person, pursuant to this part may have a person of his or her own choosing accompany him or her when the record is disclosed.

§ 1.11 Fees.

(a) The Commission shall not charge an individual for the costs of making a search for a record or the costs of reviewing the record. When the Commission makes a copy of a record as a necessary part of the Process of disclosing the record to an individual, the Commission shall not charge the individual for the cost of making that copy.

(b) If an individual requests the Commission to furnish a copy of the record, the Commission shall charge the individual for the costs of making the copy. The fee that the Commission has established for making a copy is ten cents ($.10) per page.

§ 1.12 Penalties.

Any person who makes a false statement in connection with any request for a record, or an amendment or correction thereto, under this part, is subject to the penalties prescribed in 18 U.S.C. §§ 494 and 495.

§ 1.13 General exemptions. [Reserved]

§ 1.14 Specific exemptions.

(a) No individual, under the provisions of these regulations, shall be entitled to access to materials compiled in its systems of records identified as FEC audits and investigations (FEC 2) or FEC compliance actions (FEC 3). These exempted systems relate to the Commission's power to exercise exclusive civil jurisdiction over the enforcement of the Act under 2 U.S.C. § 437d(a)(6) and (e); and to defend itself in actions filed against it under 2 U.S.C. § 437d(a)(6). Further the Commission has a duty to investigate violations of the Act under 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(2); to conduct audits and investigations pursuant to 2 U.S.C. §§ 437d(a)(10), 438(a)(8); 26 U.S.C. §§ 9007 and 9038; and to refer apparent violations of the Act to the Attorney General or other law enforcement authorities under 2 U.S.C. §§ 437g(a)(5) and 438(a)(9). Information contained in FEC systems 2 and 3 contain the working papers of the Commission staff and form the basis for either civil and/or criminal proceedings pursuant to the exercise of the powers and duties of the Commission. These materials must be protected until such time as they are subject to public access under the provision of 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(6)(C) or 5 U.S.C. § 552, or other relevant statutes.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall not apply to the extent that application of the subsection would deny any individual any right, privilege or benefit to which he or she would otherwise be entitled to receive.

AUTHORITY: PRIVACY ACT of 1974, Pub. L. 93-579.

§ 2402.1 Purpose and scope.

This part contains the regulations of the Federal Labor Relations Council and Federal Service Impasses Panel implementing the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a. The regulations apply to all records maintained by the Council and the Panel that are contained in a system of records, as defined herein, and that contain information about an individual. The regulations in this part set forth procedures that (a) authorize an individual's access to records maintained about the individual, (b) limit the access of other persons to those records, and (c) permit an individual to request the amendment or correction of records about the individual.

§ 2402.2 Definitions.

For the purposes of this part—

(a) "Council" means the Federal Labor Relations Council.

(b) "Panel" means the Federal Service Impasses Panel.

(c) "Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(d) "Maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate.

(e) "Record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Council and the Panel including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph.

(f) "System of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Council and the Panel from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying particular assigned to the individual.

(g) "Routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 2402.3 Annual notice.

The Council and Panel will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER an annual notice describing the systems of records that the Council and Panel maintain. Those notices shall include (a) the system name, (b) the system location, (c) the categories of individuals covered by the system, (d) the categories of records in the system, (e) the Council's and Panel's authority to maintain the system, (f) the routine uses of the system, (g) the Council's and Panel's policies and practices for maintenance of the system, (h) the system manager, (i) the procedures for notification, access to and correction of records in the system, and (j) the sources of information for the system. Notices shall also be published, as required by the Privacy Act of 1974, of significant changes in or additions to the Council's and Panel's systems of records.

§ 2402.4 Existence of records requests.

(a) An individual who desires to know if a system of records maintained by the Council and the Panel contains a record pertaining to the individual must submit a written inquiry to the Administrative Officer, Federal Labor Relations Council, 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20415.

(b) The request shall be in writing and should be clearly and prominently identified as a Privacy Act request. If the request is submitted by mail or otherwise submitted in an envelope or other cover, it should bear the legend "Privacy Act Request" on the envelope or other cover. If a request does not comply with the provisions of this paragraph, it shall not be deemed received until the time it is actually received by the Administrative Officer.

(c) The inquiry must include the name and address of the individual and reasonably describe the system of records in question by the individual. Descriptions of the systems of records maintained by the Council and the Panel have been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(d) The Administrative Officer will advise the individual in writing within 10 working days from receipt of the request whether the system of records named by the individual contains a record pertaining to him or her.

§ 2402.5 Individual access requests.

(a) Any individual who desires to inspect or receive copies of any record pertaining to the individual which is contained in a system of records maintained by the Council and Panel must submit a written request to the Administrative Officer, Federal Labor Relations Council, 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20415, reasonably identifying the records sought to be inspected or copied.

(b) The request shall be in writing and should be clearly and prominently identified as a Privacy Act request. If the request is submitted by mail or otherwise submitted in an envelope or other cover, it should bear the legend "Privacy Act Request" on the envelope or other cover. If a request does not comply with the provisions of this paragraph, it shall not be deemed received until the time it is actually received by the Administrative Officer.

(c) An individual seeking access to a record may, if desired, be accompanied by another person during review of the records. If the requestor does desire to be accompanied by another person during the inspection, the requestor must sign a statement, to be furnished to the Council or Panel representative at the time of the inspection, authorizing such other person to accompany requestor.

(d) Satisfactory identification (i.e., employee identification number, current address, and verification of signature) must be provided to the Council or Panel prior to review of the record.

§ 2402.6 Initial decision on access request.

(a) Within 10 working days of the receipt of a request pursuant to § 2402.5, the Administrative Officer shall make an initial decision whether the requested records exist and whether they will be made available to the person requesting them. That initial decision shall immediately be communicated, in writing or other appropriate form, to the person who has made the request.

(b) Where the initial decision is to provide access to the requested records, the above writing or other appropriate communication shall (1) briefly describe the records to be made available, (2) state whether any records maintained, in the system of records in question, about the individual making the request are not being made available, (3) state that the requested records will be available during the Council's and Panel's ordinary office hours at 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20415, and (4) state whether any further verification of the identity of the requesting individual is necessary.

(c) Where the initial decision is not to provide access to requested records, the Administrative Officer shall by writing or other appropriate communication explain the reason for that decision. The Administrative Officer shall only refuse to provide an individual access to records about the individual where (1) there is inadequate verification that the requesting individual is in fact the person about whom records are maintained, (2) in fact no such records are maintained, or (3) the requested records have been compiled in reasonable anticipation of civil or criminal action or proceedings.

§ 2402.7 Special procedures: medical records.

(a) If medical records are requested for inspection which, in the opinion of the Administrative Officer, may be harmful to the requestor if personally inspected by him, such records will be furnished only to a licensed physician designated to receive such records by the requestor. Prior to such disclosure, the requestor must furnish a signed written authorization to the Council or Panel to make such disclosure and the physician must furnish a written request to the Administrative Officer for the physician's receipt of such records.

(b) If such authorization is not executed within the presence of a Council or Panel representative, the authorization must be accompanied by a notarized statement verifying the identification of the requestor.

§ 2402.8 Limitations on disclosure.

Requests for records about an individual made by persons other than that individual shall also be directed to the Administrative Officer. Such records shall only be made available to persons other than that individual in the following circumstances:

(a) To any person with the prior written consent of the individual about whom the records are maintained;

(b) To officers and employees of the Council and Panel who need the records in the performance of their official duties;

(c) For a routine use compatible with the purpose for which it was collected;

(d) To any person to whom disclosure is required by the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552;

(e) To the Bureau of the Census for uses pursuant to title 13, United States Code;

(f) In a form not individually identifiable to a recipient who has provided the Council and Panel with adequate assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical research or reporting record;

(g) To the National Archives of the United States or other appropriate entity as a record which has historical or other value warranting its preservation;

(h) To another agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under control of the United States for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity that is authorized by law if the head of the agency or instrumentality has made a written request for the record to the Council or Panel.

(i) To a person pursuant to a showing of compelling circumstances affecting the health or safety of an individual, provided that notification of such a disclosure shall be immediately mailed to the last known address of the individual;

(j) To either House of Congress or to any committee thereof with appropriate jurisdiction;

(k) To the Comptroller General in the performance of the official duties of the General Accounting Office; or

(l) Pursuant to the order of a court of compentent jurisdiction.

§ 2402.9 Accounting of disclosures.

(a) The Administrative Officer of the Council shall maintain a record ("accounting") of every instance in which records about an individual are made available, pursuant to this part, to any person other than (1) an officer or employee of the Council or Panel in the performance of his or her duties or (2) any person pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552.

(b) The accounting which shall be retained for at least 5 years or the life of the record, whichever is longer, shall contain the following information:

(1) A brief description of records disclosed;

(2) The date, nature and, where known, the purpose of the disclosure; and

(3) The name and address of the person or agency to whom the disclosure is made.

§ 2402.10 Requests for correction or amendment of records.

(a) After inspection of any records, if the individual disagrees with any information in the record, he or she may request that the Administrative Officer correct or otherwise amend the records maintained about him or her. Such request shall specify the particular portions of the record to be amended or corrected, the desired amendment or correction, and the reasons therefor.

(b) Such request shall be in writing and directed to the Administrative Officer, Federal Labor Relations Council, 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20415. It should be clearly and prominently identified as a Privacy Act request and, if submitted by mail or otherwise submitted in an envelope or other cover, should bear the legend "Privacy Act Request" on the envelope or other cover. If a request does not comply with the provisions of this paragraph, it shall not be deemed received until the time it is actually received by the Administrative Officer.

§ 2402.11 Initial decision on correction or amendment.

(a) Within 10 working days from the date of receipt of a request for correction or amendment, the Administrative Officer will acknowledge receipt of the request and, under normal circumstances, not later than 30 days from receipt of the request the Administrative Officer will give the requesting individual notice, by mail or other appropriate means, of his decision regarding the request.

(b) The Administrative Officer's notice of decision shall include:

(1) A statement whether the request has been granted or denied, in whole or in part;

(2) A quotation or description of any amendment or correction made to any records; and

(3) Where a request is denied in whole or in part, an explanation of the reason for that denial and of the requesting individual's right to appeal the decision to the Executive Director of the Council or the Executive Secretary of the Panel, as the case may be, pursuant to § 2402.13 of this part.

§ 2402.12 Amendment or correction of previously disclosed records.

Whenever a record is amended or corrected pursuant to § 2402.11 or a written statement filed pursuant to § 2402.13, the Administrative Officer shall give notice of that correction, amendment or written statement to all persons to whom the records or copies thereof have been disclosed, as recorded in the accounting kept pursuant to § 2402.9 of this part.

§ 2402.13 Agency review of refusal to correct or amend a record.

(a) Federal Labor Relations Council. (1) Any individual whose request for access to, or amendment or correction of, records of the Council has been denied in whole or in part by an initial decision of the Administrative Officer may appeal that decision by filing a written request for review of that decision with the Executive Director, Federal Labor Relations Council, 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20415, within 30 days of the receipt of notice of the initial decision.

(2) The appeal shall describe (i) the request initially made by the individual for access to, or the amendment or correction of, records, (ii) the Administrative Officer's initial decision thereupon and (iii) the reasons why that initial decision should be modified by the Executive Director.

(3) Not later than 30 working days from receipt of a request for review (unless such period is extended by the Chairman of the Federal Labor Relations Council for good cause shown), the Executive Director shall make a decision, and give notice thereof to the appealing individual, whether to modify the Administrative Officer's initial decision in any way. If the Executive Director upholds the Administrative Officer's initial decision not to amend or correct the records as requested, he shall notify the appealing individual of (i) his or her right to judicial review of the Executive Director's decision pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A), and (ii) of his or her right to file with the agency a written statement of disagreement setting forth the reasons why the record should have been amended or corrected as requested. That written statement of disagreement shall be made a part of the record and shall accompany that record in any use or disclosure of the record.

(b) Federal Service Impasses Panel. (1) Any individual whose request for access to, or amendment or correction of, records of the Panel has been denied in whole or in part by an initial decision of the Administrative Officer may appeal that decision by filing a written request for review with the Executive Secretary, Federal Service Impasses Panel, 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20415, within 30 days of the receipt of notice of the initial decision.

(2) The appeal shall describe (i) the request initially made by the individual for access to, or the amendment or correction of, records, (ii) the Administrative Officer's initial decision thereupon and (iii) the reasons why that initial decision should be modified by the Executive Secretary.

(3) Not later than 30 working days from receipt of a request for review (unless such period is extended by the Chairman of the Federal Service Impasses Panel for good cause shown), the Executive Secretary shall make a decision, and give notice thereof to the appealing individual, whether to modify the Administrative Officer's initial decision in any way. If the Executive Secretary upholds the Administrative Officer's initial decision not to amend or correct the records as requested, he shall notify the appealing individual of (i) his or her right to judicial review of the Executive Secretary's decision pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A), and (ii) of his or her right to file with the agency a written statement of disagreement setting forth the reasons why the record should have been amended or corrected as requested. That written statement of disagreement shall be made a part of the record and shall accompany that record in any use or disclosure of the record.

§ 2402.14 Fees.

(a) Upon request the Council or Panel will provide a copy of the records to the individual to whom they pertain. There will be a charge of $0.10 per page.

(b) Any charges may be waived or reduced whenever it is in the public interest to do so.

§ 2402.15 Penalties.

Any person who knowingly and willfully requests or obtains any record concerning an individual from the Council or Panel under false pretenses shall be subject to criminal prosecution under 5 U.S.C. 552a(i)(3) which provides that such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $5,000.

Title 16—Commercial Practices

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

SUBCHAPTER A—PROCEDURES AND RULES OF PRACTICE

PART 4—MISCELLANEOUS RULES

§ 4.13 Privacy Act rules.

(a) Purpose and scope. (1) This section is promulgated to implement the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579, 5 U.S.C. 552a) by establishing procedures whereby an individual can, as to all systems of records maintained by the Commission except those set forth in § 4.13(m) as exempt from disclosure, (i) request notification of whether the Commission maintains a record pertaining to him in any system of records, (ii) request access to such a record or to an accounting of its disclosure, (iii) request that the record be amended or corrected, and (iv) appeal an initial adverse determination of any such request. This section also establishes those systems of records that are specifically exempt from disclosure and from other requirements.

(2) The procedures of this section apply only to requests by an individual as defined in § 4.13(b). Except as otherwise provided, they govern only records containing personal information in systems of records for which notice has been published by the Commission in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to section 552a(e)(4) of the Privacy Act of 1974 and which are neither exempt from the provisions of this section nor contained in government-wide systems of personnel records for which notice has been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER by the Civil Service Commission. Requests for notification, access, and amendment of personnel records which are contained in a system of records for which notice has been given by the Civil Service Commission are governed by the Civil Service Commission's notices, 5 CFR Part 297. Access to records which are not subject to the requirements of the Privacy Act are governed by §§ 4.8–4.11.

(b) Definitions.—The following definitions apply to this section only:

(1) "Individual" means a natural person who is a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(2) "Record" means any item, collection, or grouping of personal information about an individual that is maintained by the Commission, including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph, but does not include information concerning proprietorships, businesses, or corporations.

(3) "System of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Commission from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, for which notice has been published by the Commission in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4).

(c) Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.—An individual may request access to his records or any information pertaining to him in a system of records, and notification of whether and to whom the Commission has disclosed a record for which an accounting of disclosures is required to be kept and made available to him, using the procedures of this subsection. Requests for the disclosure of records under this subsection or to determine whether a system of records contains records pertaining to an individual or to obtain an accounting of disclosures, shall be in writing and if mailed, addressed as follows:

Privacy Act Request, Office of the Secretary, Federal Trade Commission, 6th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20580.

If requests are presented in person at the Office of the Secretary, the individual shall be required to execute a written request. All requests must name the system of records which is the subject of the request, and must include any additional information specified in the pertinent system notice as necessary to locate the records requested. If the requester desires to permit a person to accompany him to review his record, the request shall so state. Nothing in this section shall allow an individual access to any information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil action or proceeding.

(d) Times, places, and requirements for identification of individuals making requests.—Verification of identity of persons making written requests to the Secretary ordinarily will not be required. The signature upon such requests shall be deemed to be a certification by the person signing that he is the individual to whom the record pertains or the parent of a minor or the duly appointed legal guardian of the individual to whom the record pertains. The Secretary may require additional verification of identity as specified by him when necessary reasonably to assure that records are not improperly disclosed; provided, however, that no verification of identity will be required where the records sought are publicly available under the Freedom of Information Act.

(e) Disclosure of requested information to individuals.—Within ten (10) working days of receipt of a request under § 4.13(c), the Secretary shall acknowledge receipt of the request. Within thirty (30) working days of the receipt of a request under § 4.13(c), the Secretary shall inform the requester whether a system of records containing retrievable information pertaining to the requester exists, and if so, either that his request has been granted or that the requested records or information is exempt from disclosure pursuant to § 4.13(m). When, for good cause shown, the Secretary is unable to respond within thirty (30) working days of the receipt of the request, he shall notify the requester of that fact and approximately when it is anticipated that a response will be made.

(f) Special procedures: Medical records.—When the Secretary determines that disclosure of a medical or psychological record directly to a requesting individual could have an adverse effect on the individual, he shall require the individual to designate a medical doctor to whom the record will be transmitted.

(g) Request for correction or amendment of record.—An individual to whom access to his records or any information pertaining to him in a system of records has been granted may request that any portion thereof be amended or corrected because he believes it is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete. An initial request for correction or amendment of a record shall be in writing whether presented in person or by mail, and if by mail, addressed as in § 4.13(c). In making a request under this subsection, the requesting party shall state the nature of the information in the record the individual believes to be inaccurate, irrelevant, untimely, or incomplete, the correction or amendment desired, and the reasons therefore.

(h) Agency review of request for correction or amendment of record.—Whether presented in person or by mail, requests under § 4.13(g) shall be acknowledged by the Secretary within ten (10) working days of the receipt of the request if action on the request cannot be completed and the individual notified of the results within that time. Thereafter, the Secretary shall promptly either make the requested amendment or correction or inform the requester of his refusal to make the amendment or correction, the reasons for the refusal, and the requester's right to appeal that determination in accordance with § 4.13(i).

(i) Appeal of initial adverse agency determination.—(1) If the Secretary denies an initial request under § 4.13(c) or § 4.13(g), the requester may appeal that determination to the Commission. The appeal shall be in writing and addressed as follows:

Privacy Act Appeal, Office of the General Counsel, Federal Trade Commission, 6th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20580.

The Commission shall notify the requester within thirty (30) working days of the receipt of his appeal of the disposition of that appeal, except that the thirty (30) day period may be extended for good cause, in which case the requester will be advised of the approximate date on which review will be completed.

(2) (i) If the Commission refuses to amend or correct the record in accordance with a request under § 4.13(g), it shall notify the requester of that determination and inform him of his right to file with the Secretary of the Commission a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his disagreement with that determination and the fact that such a statement will be treated as set forth in subparagraph (ii). The Commission shall also inform the requester that judicial review of the determination is available by a civil suit in the district in which the requester resides, or has his principal place of business, or in which the agency records are situated, or in the District of Columbia.

(ii) If the individual files a statement disagreeing with the Commission's determination not to amend or correct a record, it shall be clearly noted in the record involved and made available to anyone to whom the record has been disclosed after September 27, 1975, or is subsequently disclosed together with, if the Commission deems it appropriate, a brief statement of the reasons for refusing to amend the record.

(j) Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains.—Except as provided by 5 U.S.C. 552a(b), the written request or prior written consent of the individual to whom a record pertains, or of his parent if a minor, or legal guardian if incompetent, shall be required before such record is disclosed. If the individual elects to inspect a record in person and desires to be accompanied by another person, the Secretary may require the individual to furnish a signed statement authorizing his record to be disclosed in the presence of the accompanying named person.

(k) Fees. No fees shall be charged for searching for a record, reviewing it, or for copies of records made by the Commission for its own purposes incident to granting access to a requester. Copies of records to which access has been granted under this section may be obtained by the requester from the Secretary upon payment of the reproduction fees provided in § 4.8(c)(2).

(l) Penalties. Section 552a(i)(3) of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a(i)(3), makes it a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $5,000, to knowingly and willfully request or obtain any record concerning an individual under false pretenses. Sections 552a(i)(1) and (2) of the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a(i)(1) and (2), provide penalties for violations by agency employees of the Privacy Act or regulations established thereunder. Title 18 U.S.C. 1001, Crimes and Criminal Procedures, makes it a criminal offense, subject to a maximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 5 years or both, to knowingly and willfully make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations in any matter within the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States.

(m) Specific exemptions.—Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552a(k)(2), investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes in the following systems of records is exempt from subsections (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4)(G), (H), and (I), and (f) of 5 U.S.C. 552a, and from the provisions of this section, except as otherwise provided in § 552a(k)(2):

CHAPTER XVIII—HARRY S. TRUMAN SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

PART 1800—PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Sec.

1800.1 Purpose and scope.
1800.2 Definitions.
1800.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.
1800.4 Times, places, and requirements for the identification of the individual making a request.
1800.5 Disclosure of requested information to the individual.
1800.6 Request for correction or amendment to the record.
1800.7 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of the record.
1800.8 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment of the record.
1800.9 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.
1800.10 Fees.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a; Pub. L. 93-579.

§ 1800.1 Purpose and scope.

The purposes of these regulations are to:

(a) Establish a procedure by which an individual can determine if the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation (hereafter known as the Foundation) maintains a system of records which includes a record pertaining to the individual; and

(b) Establish a procedure by which an individual can gain access to a record pertaining to him or her for the purpose of review, amendment and/or correction.

§ 1800.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of these regulations—

(a) The term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(b) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate;

(c) The term "record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Foundation, including, but not limited to, his or her employment history, payroll information, and financial transactions and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as social security number;

(d) The term "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Foundation from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual; and

(e) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 1800.3 Procedures for requests for access to individual records in a record system.

An individual shall submit a request to the Deputy Executive Secretary of the Foundation to determine if a system of records named by the individual contains a record pertaining to the individual. The individual shall submit a request to the Deputy Executive Secretary of the Foundation which states the individual's desire to review his or her record.

§ 1800.4 Times, places, and requirements for the identification of the individual making a request.

An individual making a request to the Deputy Executive Secretary of the Foundation pursuant to § 1800.3 shall present the request at the Foundation offices, 712 Jackson Place, NW., Washington, D.C. 20006, on any business day between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The individual submitting the request should present himself or herself at the Foundation's offices with a form of identification which will permit the Foundation to verify that the individual is the same individual as contained in the record requested.

§ 1800.5 Access to requested information to the individual.

Upon verification of identity the Foundation shall disclose to the individual the information contained in the record which pertains to that individual.

§ 1800.6 Request for correction or amendment to the record.

The individual should submit a request to the Deputy Executive Secretary of the Foundation which states the individual's desire to correct or to amend his or her record. This request is to be made in accord with the provisions of § 1800.4.

§ 1800.7 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of the record.

Within ten working days of the receipt of the request to correct or to amend the record, the Deputy Executive Secretary of the Foundation will acknowledge in writing such receipt and promptly either—

(a) Make any correction or amendment of any portion thereof which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete; or

(b) Inform the individual of his or her refusal to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the reason for the refusal, and the procedures established by the Foundation for the individual to request a review of that refusal.

§ 1800.8 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment of the record.

An individual who disagrees with the refusal of the Deputy Executive Secretary of the Foundation to correct or to amend his or her record may submit a request for a review of such refusal to the Executive Secretary, Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation, 712 Jackson Place, NW., Washington, D.C. 20006. The Executive Secretary will, not later than thirty working days from the date on which the individual, requests such review, complete such review and make a final determination unless, for good cause shown, the Executive Secretary extends such thirty day period. If, after his or her review, the Executive Secretary also refuses to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the individual may file with the Foundation a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his or her disagreement with the refusal of the Foundation and may seek judicial review of the Executive Secretary's determination under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A).

§ 1800.9 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

The Foundation will not disclose a record to any individual other than to the individual to whom the record pertains without receiving the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains, unless the disclosure has been listed as a "routine use" in the Foundation's notices of its systems of records.

§ 1800.10 Fees.

If an individual requests copies of his or her record, he or she shall be charged ten cents per page, excluding the cost of any search for review of the record, in advance of receipt of the pages.

CHAPTER X—INTER-AMERICAN FOUNDATION

PART 1003—RULES SAFEGUARDING PERSONAL INFORMATION IN IAF RECORDS

1003.1 General policies, conditions of disclosure, accounting of certain disclosures, and definitions.
1003.2 Definitions.
1003.3 Access to records.
1003.4 Inter-American Foundation system of records requirements.
1003.5 Access to personal information from Inter-American Foundation records.
1003.6 Administrative review.
1003.7 Judicial review.
1003.8 Exemptions.
1003.9 Mailing lists.
1003.10 Reports.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a.

§ 1003.1 General policies, conditions of disclosure, accounting of certain disclosures, and definitions.

(a) The Inter-American Foundation will safeguard an individual against an invasion of personal privacy. Except as otherwise provided by law or regulation its officials and employees will:

(1) Permit an individual to determine what records pertaining to him or her will be collected, maintained, used, or disseminated by the Inter-American Foundation.

(2) Permit an individual to prevent records pertaining to him or her, obtained by the Inter-American Foundation for a particular purpose, from being used or made available for another purpose without his or her consent.

(3) Permit an individual to gain access to information pertaining to him or her in the Inter-American Foundation records, to have a copy made of all or any portion thereof, and to correct or amend such records.

(4) Collect, maintain, use or disseminate any record of identifiable personal information in a manner that assures that such action is for a necessary and lawful purpose, that the information is correct and accurate for its intended use, and that adequate safeguards are provided to prevent misuse of such information.

(5) Permit exemptions from records requirements provided in 5 U.S.C. 552a only where an important public policy need for such exemption has been determined pursuant to specific statutory authority.

(b) The Inter-American Foundation will not disclose any record contained in a system of records by any means of communication to any person or any other agency except by written request of or prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains unless such disclosure is:

(1) To those officers and employees of the agency which maintains the record and who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties;

(2) Required under 5 U.S.C. 552;

(3) For a routine use of the record compatible with the purpose for which it was collected;

(4) To the Bureau of the Census for purposes of planning or carrying out a census or survey or related activity pursuant to title 13, United States Code;

(5) To a recipient who has provided the Inter-American Foundation with advance adequate written assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical research or reporting record, and the record is to be transferred in a form that is not individually identifiable;

(6) To the National Archives of the United States as a record which has sufficient historical or other value to warrant its continued preservation by the U.S. Government, or for evaluation by the Administrator of General Services or designee to determine whether the record has such value;

(7) To another agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under the control of the United States for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity if the activity is authorized by law, and if the head of the agency or instrumentality has made a written request to the Inter-American Foundation specifying the particular portion desired and the law enforcement activity for which the record is sought;

(8) To a person pursuant to a showing of compelling circumstances affecting the health or safety of an individual if upon such disclosure notification is transmitted to the last known address of such individual;

(9) To either House of Congress, or, to the extent of matter within its jurisdiction, any committee or subcommittee thereof, any joint committee of Congress or subcommittee of any such joint committee;

(10) To the Comptroller General, or any authorized representatives, in the course of the performance of the duties of the General Accounting Office; or

(11) Pursuant to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) With respect to each system of records (i.e., a group of records from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual) under Inter-American Foundation control, the Inter-American Foundation will (except for disclosures made under paragraph (b) (1) or (2) of this section) keep an accurate accounting as follows:

(1) For each disclosure of a record to any person or to another agency made under paragraph (b) of this section, maintain information consisting of the date, nature, and purpose of each disclosure, and the name and address of the person or agency to whom the disclosure is made;

(2) Retain the accounting made under paragraph (c)(1) of this section for at least 5 years or the life of the record, whichever is longer, after the disclosures for which the accounting is made;

(3) Except for disclosures made under paragraph (b)(7) of this section, make the accounting under paragraph (c)(1) of this section available to the individual named in the record at his or her request; and

(4) Inform any person or other agency about any correction or notation of dispute made by the agency of any record that has been disclosed to the person or agency if an accounting of the disclosure was made.

(d) The parent of any minor, or the legal guardian of any individual who has been declared incompetent due to physical or mental incapacity or age by a court of competent jurisdiction, may act on behalf of the individual.

(e) Section 552a(i), title 5, United States Code, provided that:

(1) Any officer or employee of the Inter-American Foundation, who by virtue of his or her employment or official position, has possession of, or access to, Inter-American Foundation records which contain individually identifiable information the disclosure of which is prohibited by 5 U.S.C. 552a and who knowing that disclosure of the specific material is so prohibited, willfully discloses the material in any manner to any person or agency not entitled to receive it, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $5,000.

(2) Any officer or employee of the Inter-American Foundation who willfully maintains a system of records without meeting the notice requirements of 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4) shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $5,000.

(3) Any person who knowingly and willfully requests or obtains any record concerning an individual from the Inter-American Foundation under false pretenses shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not more than $5,000.

§ 1003.2 Definitions.

The following definitions apply:

(a) The term "agency" includes any executive department, military department, Government corporation, Government controlled corporation, or other establishment in the executive branch of the government (including the Executive Office of the President), or any independent regulatory agency.

(b) The term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(c) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use, or disseminate.

(d) The term "record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by an agency, including, but not limited to, his or her education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph.

(e) The term "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of any agency from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

(f) The term "statistical record" means a record in a system of records maintained for statistical research or reporting purposes only and not used in whole or in part in making any determination about an identifiable individual except as provided by section 8 of title 13, United States Code.

(g) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure or a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 1003.3 Access to records.

(a) Except as otherwise provided by law or regulation any individual upon request may gain access to his or her record or to any information pertaining to him or her which is contained in any system or records maintained by the Inter-American Foundation. The individual will be permitted, and upon his or her request, a person of his or her own choosing permitted to accompany him or her, to review the record and have a copy made of all or any portion thereof in a form comprehensible to him or her. The Inter-American Foundation will require, however, a written statement from the individual authorizing discussion of that individual's record in the accompanying person's presence.

(b) Any individual may request amendment of any Inter-American Foundation record pertaining to him or her. Not later than 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays) after the date of receipt of such request, the Inter-American Foundation will acknowledge in writing such receipt. The Inter-American Foundation will also promptly either:

(1) Correct any part thereof which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete; or

(2) Inform the individual of the Inter-American Foundation's refusal to amend the record in accordance with his or her request, the reason for the refusal, the procedures by which the individual may request a review of that refusal by the Administrator or designee, and the name and address of such official.

(c) Any individual who disagrees with the Inter-American Foundation's refusal to amend his or her record may request a review of such refusal. The Inter-American Foundation will complete such review not later than 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays) from the date on which the individual requests such review and make a final determination unless, for good cause shown, the Administrator extends such 30-day period. If, after review, the Administrator or designee also refuses to amend the record in accordance with the request the individual will be advised of the right to file with the Inter-American Foundation a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his or her disagreement with the Inter-American Foundation's refusal, and also advised of the provisions for judicial review of the reviewing official's determination (5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A)).

(d) In any disclosure, containing information about which the individual has filed a statement of disagreement, occurring after the filing of the statement under paragraph (c) of this section, the Inter-American Foundation will clearly note any part of the record which is disputed and provide copies of the statement (and, if the Inter-American Foundation deems it appropriate, copies also of a concise statement of the Inter-American Foundation's reasons for not making the amendments requested) to persons or other agencies to whom the disputed and provide copies of the state-

(e) Nothing in 5 U.S.C. 552a, however, allows an individual access to any information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil action or proceeding.

§ 1003.4 Inter-American Foundation system of records requirements.

(a) The Inter-American Foundation will maintain in its records any such information about an individual as is relevant and necessary to accomplish a purpose of the Inter-American Foundation required to be accomplished by statute or Executive order of the President.

(b) The Inter-American Foundation will collect information to the greatest extent practicable directly from the subject individual when the information may result in adverse determinations about an individual's rights, benefits, and privileges under Federal programs.

(c) The Inter-American Foundation will inform each individual whom it asks to supply information, on the form which it uses to collect the information or on a separate form that can be retained by the individual of:

(1) The authority (whether granted by statute or Executive order of the President) which authorizes the solicitation of the information and whether disclosure of such information is mandatory or voluntary;

(2) The principal purpose or purposes for which the information is intended to be used;

(3) The routine uses which may be made of the information, as published pursuant to paragraph (d)(4) of this section; and

(4) The effects on him or her, if any, of not providing all or any part of the requested information.

(d) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (k) of this section, the Inter-American Foundation will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least annually a notice of the existence and character of its system of records. This notice will include:

(1) The name and location of the system or systems;

(2) The categories of individuals on whom records are maintained in the system or systems;

(3) The categories of records maintained in the system or systems;

(4) Each routine use of the records contained in the system or systems, including the categories of users and the purpose of such use;

(5) The policies and practices of the Inter-American Foundation regarding storage, retrievability, access controls, retention, and disposal of the records;

(6) The title and business address of the Inter-American Foundation official or officials responsible for the system or systems of records;

(7) The Inter-American Foundation procedures whereby an individual can be notified at his or her request if the system or systems of records contain a record pertaining to him or her;

(8) The Inter-American Foundation procedures whereby an individual can be notified at his or her request how he or she can gain access to any record pertaining to him or her contained in the system or systems of records, and how he or she can contest its content; and

(9) The categories of sources of records in the system or systems.

(e) All records used by the Inter-American Foundation in making any determination about any individual will be maintained with the accuracy, relevance, timeliness, and completeness reasonably necessary to assure fairness to the individual in the determination.

(f) Before disseminating any record about any individual to any person other than an agency the Inter-American Foundation will make reasonable efforts to assure that such records are accurate, complete, timely, and relevant for Inter-American Foundation purposes unless the dissemination is required pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552.

(g) The Inter-American Foundation will maintain no record describing how any individual exercises rights guaranteed by the First Amendment unless expressly authorized by statute or by the individual about whom the record is maintained or unless pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity.

(h) The Inter-American Foundation will make reasonable efforts to serve notice on an individual when any record on such individuals is made available to any person under compulsory legal process when such process becomes a matter of public record.

(i) The Inter-American Foundation will establish rules of conduct for persons involved in the design, development, operation, or maintenance of any system of records, or in maintaining any record. Each such person will be instructed regarding such rules and the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 552a. The instruction will include any other rules and procedures adopted pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a, and the penalties it provides for noncompliance.

(j) The Inter-American Foundation will establish appropriate administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to insure the security and confidentiality of records and to protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to their security or integrity which could result in substantial harm, embarrassment, inconvenience, or unfairness to any individual on whom information is maintained.

(k) At least 30 days prior to the publication of a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least annually regarding the routine use of the records contained in the Inter-American Foundation system or systems of records including the categories of users and the purpose of such ...pursuant to paragraph (d)(4) of ... Inter-American Foundation ...

(3) Publish a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER of any new use or intended use of the information in the system of systems, and

(4) Provide an opportunity for interested persons to submit written data, views, or arguments to the Inter-American Foundation.

§ 1003.5 Access to personal information from Inter-American Foundation records.

(a) The Inter-American Foundation will promulgate regulations, as necessary, to assure compliance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a, developed in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553, as applicable.

(b) Any individual will be notified upon request if any Inter-American Foundation system of records named contains a record pertaining to him or her. Such request must be in writing, over the signature of the requester. The request must contain a reasonable description of the Inter-American Foundation system or systems of records meant, as described at least annually by notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER describing the existence and character of the Inter-American Foundation's system or systems of records. The request should be made to the Executive Officer, Inter-American Foundation, 1615 Wilson Boulevard, Rosslyn, Virginia 22209. Personal contacts should normally be made during the regular duty hours of the office concerned, which are 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Identification of the individual requesting the information will be required consisting of name, signature, address, and claim, insurance or other identifying file number, if any, as a minimum.

(c) The department or staff office having jurisdiction over the records involved with establish appropriate disclosure procedures and will notify the individual requesting disclosure of his or her record or information pertaining to him or her of the time, place and conditions under which the Inter-American Foundation will comply to the extent permitted by law and Inter-American Foundation regulation. Special procedures will be established by the department or staff office concerned governing the disclosure to an individual of medical records, including psychological records pertaining to him or her.

(d) The department or staff office having jurisdiction over the records involved will also establish procedures for reviewing a request from an individual concerning the amendment of any record or information pertaining to the individual for making a determination on the request, for an appeal within the Inter-American Foundation of an initial adverse Inter-American Foundation determination, and for whatever additional means may be necessary for each individual to be able to exercise fully his or her rights under 5 U.S.C. 552a.

(e) Fees to be charged, if any, to any individual for making copies of his or her record, excluding the cost of any search for and review of the record, will be as follows:

(1) Photocopy reproductions from all types of copying processes, each reproduction image $0.05.

(2) Where the Inter-American Foundation undertakes to perform for a requester or for any other person services which are very clearly not required to be performed under section 552a, title 5, United States Code, either voluntarily or because such services are required by some other law (e.g., the formal certification of records as true copies, attestation under the seal of the Inter-American Foundation, etc.), the question of charging fees for such services will be determined by the official or designee authorized to release the information under § 1.556, in the light of the Federal user charge statute, 31 U.S.C. 483a, and any other applicable law.

§ 1003.6 Administrative review.

(a) Upon denial of a request, the responsible Inter-American Foundation official or designated employee will inform the requester in writing of the denial, cite the reason or reasons and the Inter-American Foundation regulations upon which the denial is based, and advise that the denial may be appealed to the Administrator.

(b) The final agency decision in such appeals will be made by the Administrator or Deputy Administrator.

§ 1003.7 Judicial review.

Any person may file a complaint against the Inter-American Foundation in the appropriate U.S. district court, as provided in 5 U.S.C. 552a(g), whenever the Inter-American Foundation:

(a) Makes a determination not to amend an individual's record in accordance with his or her request, or fails to make such review in conformity with that section;

(b) Refuses to comply with an individual request;

(c) Fails to maintain any record concerning any individual with such accuracy, relevance, timeliness, and completeness as is necessary to assure fairness in any determination relating to the qualifications, character, rights, or opportunities of, or benefits to the individual that may be made on the basis of such record, and consequently a determination is made which is adverse to the individual; or

(d) Fails to comply under any other provision of 5 U.S.C. 552a, or any Inter-American Foundation regulation promulgated thereunder, in such a way as to have an adverse effect on an individual.

§ 1003.8 Exemptions.

No Inter-American Foundation records system or systems as such are exempted from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a as permitted under certain conditions by 5 U.S.C. 552a(j) and (k).

§ 1003.9 Mailing lists.

An individual's name and address may not be sold or rented by the Inter-American Foundation unless such action is specifically authorized by law. This section does not require the withholding of names and addresses otherwise permitted to be made public.

§ 1003.10 Reports.

(a) The Administrator or designee will provide adequate advance notice to Congress and the Office of Management and Budget of any proposal to establish or alter any Inter-American Foundation system or systems of records, as required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(o). This will permit an evaluation of the probable or potential effect of such proposal on the privacy and other personal or property rights of individuals or the disclosure of information relating to such individuals, and its effect on the preservation of the constitutional principles of federalism and separation of powers.

(b) If at any time an Inter-American Foundation system or systems of records is determined to be exempt from the application of 5 U.S.C. 552a in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a (j) and (k), the number of records contained in such system or systems will be separately listed and reported to the Office of Management and Budget in accordance with the then prevailing guidelines and instructions of that agency.

CHAPTER V—MARINE MAMMAL COMMISSION

PART 501—IMPLEMENTATION OF THE PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

Sec.

501.1 Purpose and scope.
501.2 Definitions.
501.3 Procedure for responding to requests regarding the existence of records pertaining to an individual.
501.4 Requests for access—times, places and requirements for identification of individuals.
501.5 Disclosure of requested information.
501.6 Requests for correction or amendment of a record.
501.7 Agency review of requests for amendment or correction of a record.
501.8 Appeal of initial denial of a request for amendment or correction.
501.9 Fees.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 3, Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a(f).)

§ 501.1 Purpose and Scope.

(a) Purpose. The purpose of these rules is to fulfill the responsibilities of the Marine Mammal Commission (the "Commission") under Section 3 of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a(f) (the "Act") by establishing procedures whereby an individual will be notified if any system of records maintained by the Commission contains a record pertaining to him or her; by defining the times and places at which records will be made available and the identification requirements which must be met by any individual requesting access to them; by establishing procedures for disclosure to an individual, on request, of any record pertaining to him or her; and by establishing procedures for processing, reviewing, and making a final determination on requests of individuals to correct or amend a record pertaining to him or her, including a provision for administrative appeal of initial adverse determinations on such requests. These rules are promulgated with particular attention to the purposes and goals of the Act, and in accordance therewith provide for relative ease of access to records pertaining to an individual, and for maintenance by the Commission of only those records which are current, accurate, necessary, relevant and complete with respect to the purposes for which they were collected.

(b) Scope. These rules apply only to "record" contained in "systems of records," defined by the Act as follows:

> The term "record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by an agency, including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph;
> The term "system of records" means of group of any record under the control of any agency from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

Notices with respect to the systems maintained by the Commission have been published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, as required by the Act. These rules pertain only to the systems of records disclosed in such notices, and to any systems that may become the subject of a notice at any time in the future.

(c) Nothing in these rules shall be construed as pertaining to requests made under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552.

§ 501.2 Definitions.

(a) As used in this Part:

(1) The term "Act" means the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a.

(2) The term "Commission" means the Marine Mammal Commission.

(3) The term "Director" means the Executive Director of the Marine Mammal Commission.

(4) The term "Privacy Officer" means an individual designated by the Director to receive all requests regarding the existence of records, requests for access and requests for correction or amendment; to review and make initial determinations regarding all such requests; and to provide assistance to any individual wishing to exercise his or her rights under the Act.

(b) Other terms shall be used in this part in accordance with the definitions contained in section 3 of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a(a).

§ 501.3 Procedure for responding to requests regarding the existence of records pertaining to an individual.

Any individual may submit a request to be notified whether a system of records, with respect to which the Commission has published a notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, contains a record pertaining to him or her. Requests may be made in writing to the Privacy Officer or by appearing in person at the Commission offices located at 1625 I Street, NW., Room 307, Washington, D.C. 20006 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on any working day. Systems of records that are the subject of a request should be identified by reference to the system name designated in the Notice of Systems of Records published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. In the event a system name is not known to the individual, a general request will suffice if it indicates reasons for the belief that a record pertaining to the named individual is maintained by the Commission. Receipt of inquiries submitted by mail will be acknowledged within 10 days of receipt (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays) unless a response can also be prepared and forwarded to the individual within that time.

§ 501.4 Requests for access—times, places and requirements for identification of individuals.

Requests for access to a system of records pertaining to any individual may be made by that individual by mail addressed to the Privacy Officer, or by submitting a written request in person at the Commission offices located at 1625 I Street, NW., Room 307, Washington, D.C. 20006, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on any working day. Assistance in gaining access under this section, securing an amendment or correction under Section 501.6, or preparing an appeal under §§ 501.5(d) and 501.8 shall be provided by the Privacy Officer on request directed to the Commission office. An individual appearing in person at the Commission offices will be granted immediate access to any records to which that individual is entitled under the Act upon satisfactory proof of identity by means of a document bearing the individual's photograph or signature. For requests made by mail, identification of the individual shall be adequate if established by means of submitting a certificate of a notary public, or equivalent officer empowered to administer oaths, substantially in accord with the following:

City of _____ County of _____:
ss (Name of individual) who affixed (his) (her) signature below in my presence, came before me, a (Title), in the aforesaid County and State, this ____ day of _____, 19__, and established (his) (her) identity to my satisfaction.
My Commission expires _____.

The certificate shall not be required, however, for written requests pertaining to non-sensitive information or to information which would be required to be made available under the Freedom of Information Act. The Privacy Officer shall determine the adequacy of any proof of identity offered by an individual.

§ 501.5 Disclosure of requested information.

(a) Upon request and satisfactory proof of identity, an individual appearing at the Commission offices shall be given immediate access to and permission to review any record, contained in a system of records, pertaining to him or her, shall be allowed to have a person of his/her choosing accompany him/her, and shall be given a copy of all or any portion of the record. The individual to which access is granted shall be required to sign a written statement authorizing the presence of the person who accompanies him or her, and authorizing discussion of his or her record in the presence of the accompanying person.

(b) Requests made by mail to the Privacy Officer at the Commission offices will be acknowledged within 10 days from date of receipt (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays). This acknowledgement shall advise the individual whether access to the record will be granted and, if access is granted, copies of such records shall be enclosed.

(c) If the Privacy Officer initially determines to deny access to all or any portion of a record, notice of denial shall be given to the individual in writing, within 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays) after acknowledgement is given, and shall include the following:

(1) The precise record to which access is being denied;

(2) The reason for denial, including a citation to the appropriate provisions of the Act and of these Rules;

V 42 I 182 SEP 20 77 UMI

(3) A statement that the denial may be appealed to the Director;

(4) A statement of what steps must be taken to perfect an appeal to the Director, and,

(5) A statement that the individual has a right to judicial review under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1) of any final denial issued by the Director.

(d) Administrative appeal of an initial denial, in whole or in part, of any request for access to a record, shall be available. An individual may appeal by submitting to the Director a written request for reconsideration stating therein specific reasons for reversal which address directly the reasons for denial stated in the initial notice of denial. If access is denied on appeal, a final notice of denial shall be sent to the individual within 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays), and shall state with particularity the grounds for rejecting all reasons for reversal submitted by the individual. The denial shall then be deemed final for purposes of obtaining judicial review.

§ 501.6 Requests for correction or amendment of a record.

(a) Any individual may request the correction or amendment of a record pertaining to him or her in writing addressed to the Privacy Officer at the Commission offices. Verification of identity required for such requests shall be the same as that specified in Section 501.4 above with respect to requests for access. Records sought to be amended must be identified with as much specificity as is practicable under the circumstances of the request, and at a minimum, should refer to the system name designated in the Notice of System Records published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the type of record in which the information thought to be improperly maintained or incorrect is contained, and the precise information that is the subject of the request (for example, system name, description of record, paragraph, sentence, line, words). Assistance in identifying a record, and in otherwise preparing a request, may be obtained by contacting the Privacy Officer at the Commission offices.

(b) A request should, in addition to identifying the individual and the record sought to be amended or corrected, include:

(1) The specific wording or other information to be deleted, if any;

(2) The specific wording or other information to be inserted, if any, and the exact place in the record at which it is to be inserted, and,

(3) A statement of the basis for the requested amendment or correction (e.g., that the record is inaccurate, unnecessary, irrelevant, untimely, or incomplete), together with supporting documents, if any, which substantiate the statement.

§ 501.7 Agency review of requests for amendment or correction of a record.

(a) Where possible, each request for amendment or correction shall be reviewed, and a determination on the request made, by the Privacy Officer within 10 days of receipt (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays). Requests shall be acknowledged within that period where insufficient information has been provided to enable action to be taken. An acknowledgement shall inform the individual making the request of the estimated time within which a disposition of the request is expected to be made, and shall prescribe such further information as may be necessary to process the request. The request shall be granted, or an initial decision to deny shall be made, within ten days of receipt of all information specified in the acknowledgement (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays).

(b) Within 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays) after arriving at a decision on a request, the Privacy Officer shall either:

(1) Make the requested amendment or correction, in whole or in part, and advise the individual in writing of such action; or

(2) Advise the individual in writing that the request has been initially denied, in whole or in part, stating, with respect to those portions denied;

(i) The date of the denial;

(ii) The reasons for the denial, including a citation to an appropriate section of the Act and these Rules; and,

(iii) The right of the individual to prosecute an appeal and to obtain judicial review should a final denial result from the appeal.

(c) In reviewing a request for amendment or correction of a record, the Privacy Officer shall consider the following criteria:

(1) The sufficiency of the evidence submitted by the individual;

(2) The factual accuracy of the information sought to be amended or corrected;

(3) The relevance and necessity of the information sought to be amended or corrected in terms of the purposes for which it was collected;

(4) The timeliness and currency of the information sought to be amended or corrected in terms of the purposes for which it was collected;

(5) The completeness of the information sought to be amended or corrected in terms of the purposes for which it was collected;

(6) The degree of possibility that denial of the request could unfairly result in determinations adverse to the individual;

(7) The character of the record sought to be corrected or amended; and,

(8) The propriety and feasibility of complying with the specific means of correction or amendment requested by the individual.

If an amendment or correction is otherwise permissible under the Act and other relevant statutes, a request shall be denied only if the individual has failed to establish, by a preponderance of the evidence, the propriety of the amendment or correction in light of these criteria.

§ 501.8 Appeal of initial denial of a request for amendment or correction.

(a) The initial denial of a request for amendment or correction, may be appealed by submitting to the Director the following appeal papers:

(1) A copy of the original request for amendment or correction,

(2) A copy of the initial denial; and

(3) A precise statement of the reasons for the individual's belief that the denial is in error, referring specifically to the criteria contained in § 501.7(c) (1-8).

The appeal must be signed by the individual. While these papers normally will constitute the entire Record on Appeal, the Director may add additional information, from sources other than the individual, where necessary to facilitate a final determination. Any such additional information added to the record shall promptly be disclosed to the individual to the greatest extent possible, and an opportunity for comment thereon shall be afforded prior to the final determination. Appeals should be submitted to the Director within 90 days after the date of the initial denial.

(b) The Director shall issue a final determination on appeal within thirty days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal public holidays) from the date on which a completed Record on Appeal (including any additional information deemed necessary) is received. Review, and final determination by the Director, shall be based upon the criteria specified in § 501.7(C) (1-8).

(c) If the appeal is resolved favorably to the individual, the final determination shall specify the amendments or corrections to be made. Copies of the final determination shall be transmitted promptly to the individual and to the Privacy Officer. The Privacy Officer shall make the requested amendment or correction and advise the individual in writing of such action.

(d) If the appeal is denied, the final determination shall state, with particularity, the reasons for denial, including a citation to an appropriate section of the Act and of these Rules. The final determination shall be forwarded promptly to the individual, together with a notice which shall inform the individual of his or her right to submit to the Privacy Officer, for inclusion in the record, a concise statement of grounds for disagreement with the final determination. Receipt of any such statement shall be acknowledged by the Privacy Officer, and all subsequent and prior users of the record shall be provided copies of the statement. The notice shall also inform the individual of his or her right, under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1), to obtain judicial review of the final determination.

§ 501.9 Fees.

A fee of $0.10 shall be charged for each copy of each page of a record made, by photocopy or similar process, at the request of an individual. No fee shall be charged for copies made at the initiative of the Commission incident to granting access to a record. A total copying fee of $2.00 or less may be waived by the Privacy Officer, but fees for all requests made contemporaneously by an individual shall be aggregated to determine the total fee.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a(f).

§ 1115.1 Purpose and scope.

This part sets forth the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities' procedures under the Privacy Act of 1974 as required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(f). Internal guidance for Foundation staff and other regulations implementing the Privacy Act are contained or will be contained in Foundation circulars.

§ 1115.2 Definitions.

For purposes of this Part:

(a) "Foundation" means the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities.

(b) "Act" means the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-579).

(c) "Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(d) "Maintain", used with reference to a record means to collect, to use, to disseminate, to have control over and responsibility for such record.

(e) "Record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Foundation and that is retrievable by his or her name or an identifying particular, such as a number, symbol, fingerprint, or photograph of the individual. Information maintained by the Foundation includes, but is not limited to, education, financial transactions, medical history, employment history and criminal history.

(f) "Routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such a record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected. The routine uses of record systems maintained by the Foundation were established pursuant to notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(g) "System of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Foundation from which information about an individual is retrievable by his or her name or by some identifying particular.

§ 1115.3 Procedures for notification of records pertaining to individuals.

(a) The systems of records, as defined in the Privacy Act of 1974, maintained by the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities are listed annually in the FEDERAL REGISTER as required by that Act. Any person who wishes to know whether a system of records contains a record pertaining to him may appear in person at the National Endowment for the Arts, Room 1338, 2401 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20508 or the National Endowment for the Humanities, Room 1000, 806 15th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20506, on work days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. or by writing to the Office of the General Counsel, National Endowment for the Arts or National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C. 20506. It is recommended that requests be made in writing, since in many cases it will take several days to ascertain whether a record exists.

(b) Requests for notification of the existence of a record should specifically identify the system of records involved and should state, if the requestor is other than the individual to whom the record pertains, the relationship of the requestor to that individual. (Note that requests will not be honored by the Foundation pursuant to the Privacy Act unless made (1) by the individual to whom the record pertains, (2) by such individual's parent if the individual is a minor, or (3) by such individual's legal guardian if the individual has been declared to be incompetent due to physical or mental incapacity or age by a court of competent jurisdiction).

(c) The Foundation will attempt to respond to a request as to whether a record exists within 10 working days from the time it receives the request or from the time any required identification is established, whichever is later.

§ 1115.4 Procedures for requests for access to or disclosure of records pertaining to an individual.

(a) Any person may request review of records pertaining to him by appearing at the National Endowment for the Arts, Room 1338, 2401 E Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20506, or the National Endowment for the Humanities, Room 1000, 806 15th Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20506 on work days between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. or by writing to the Office of the General Counsel, National Endowment for the Arts, or National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C. 20506. (See paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section for identification requirements.) The request should specifically identify the systems or records involved. The Foundation will strive either to make the record available within 15 working days of the request or to inform the requestor of the need for additional identification or the tendering of fees (as specified in paragraph (d) of this section) within 15 working days.

(b) In the case of persons making requests by appearing at the Foundation, the amount of personal identification required will of necessity vary with the sensitivity of the record involved. Except as indicated below, reasonable identification such as employment identification cards, drivers licenses, and credit cards will normally be accepted as sufficient evidence of identity in the absence of any indications to the contrary. Records in the following systems of records, however, are considered to contain relatively sensitive and/or detailed personal information—

GRANT APPLICATIONS—NEA.
GRANT APPLICATIONS—NEH.
GRANTS TO INDIVIDUALS—NEA.
GRANTS TO INDIVIDUALS AND INSTITUTIONS—NEH.
EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY CASE FILE—NFAH NEA/NEH.
EMPLOYEE PAYROLL—NFAH.
PERSONNEL RECORDS—NFAH.

Accordingly, with respect to requests for records in these systems the Foundation reserves the rights to require sufficient identification to identify positively the individual making the request. This might involve independent verification by the Foundation as by phone calls to determine whether an individual has made a request, personal identification by Foundation employees who know the individual, or such other means as are considered appropriate under the circumstances.

(c) A written request will be honored only if it contains the following certification before a duly commissioned notary public of any state or territory (or similar official if the request is made outside the United States):

I, ---------- do hereby
certify that I am the individual about whom the record requested in this letter pertains or that I am within the class of persons authorized to act on his behalf in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(h).

Signature

Date

In the County of ---------- State of ---------- On this ---- day of ---- (Name of individual) who is personally known to me, did appear before me and sign the above certificate.

(s) My Commission expires ----.

However, where the record requested is contained in any of the systems of records listed in paragraph (b) of this section, the Foundation reserves the right to require additional identification and/or to independently verify to its satisfaction, the identity of the requestor.

(d) Charges for copies of records will be at the rate of $0.10 per photography of each page. Where records are not susceptible to photo-copying, e.g., punch cards, magnetic tapes or oversize materials, the amount charged will be actual cost as determined on a case-by-case basis. Only one copy of each record requested will be supplied. No charge will be made unless the charge as computed above would exceed $3.00 for each request or related series of requests. If a fee in excess of $25.00 would be required, the requestor shall be notified and the fee must be tendered before the records will be copied.

§ 1115.5 Correction of records.

(a) Any individual is entitled to request amendments of records pertaining to him pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552 a(d)(2). Such a request shall be made in writing and addressed to the Office of the General Counsel, National Endowment for the Arts or National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C. 20506.

(b) The request should specify the record and systems of records involved, and should specify the exact correction desired and state that the request is made pursuant to the Privacy Act. An edited copy of the record showing the desired correction is desirable. Within 10 working days of the receipt of a properly addressed request (or within 10 working days of the time the General Counsel, National Endowment for the Arts or the General Counsel, National Endowment for the Humanities becomes aware that a particular communication not addressed as prescribed above is a request for correction of a record under the Privacy Act), the General Counsel's office shall acknowledge receipt of the request.

(c) The General Counsel's office upon receipt of such a request shall promptly confer with the office within the Foundation responsible for the record. In the event it is felt that correction is not warranted in whole or in part, the matter shall be brought to the attention of the Deputy Chairman of the Endowment involved. If, after review by the Deputy Chairman of the involved Endowment and discussion with the request or, if deemed helpful, it is determined that correction as requested is not warranted, a letter shall be sent by the Deputy Chairman's office to the requestor denying his request and/or explaining what correction might be made if agreeable to the requestor. This letter shall set forth the reasons for the refusal to honor the request for correction. It shall also inform him of his right to appeal this decision and include a description of the appeals procedure set forth in paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) An appeal may be taken from an adverse determination under paragraph (c) of this section to the Assistant Chairman/Management, National Endowment for the Arts or the Chairman, National Endowment for the Humanities. Such appeal must be made in writing and should clearly indicate that it is an appeal. The basis for the appeal should be included, and it should be mailed to the same address as listed in paragraph (a) of this section. A hearing at the Foundation may be requested. Such hearing will be informal, and shall be before the Assistant Chairman/Management, National Endowment for the Arts, the Chairman, National Endowment for the Humanities, or an appointed designee. If no hearing is requested, the request for appeal should include the basis for the appeal. Where no hearing is requested the Assistant Chairman or Chairman before whom the appeal is taken shall render his decision within thirty working days after receipt of the written appeal at the Foundation, unless the Assistant Chairman or Chairman before whom the appeal is taken, for good cause shown, extends the 30-day period and the appellant is advised in writing of such extension. If a hearing is requested, the Foundation will attempt to contact the appellant within five working days and arrange a suitable time for the hearing. In such cases the decision of the Assistant Chairman or Chairman shall be made within 30 working days after the hearing unless the time is extended and the appellant is advised in writing of such extension.

(e) The final decision of the Assistant Chairman or Chairman in an appeal shall be in writing, and, if adverse to the appellant, set forth the reasons for the refusal to amend the record and advise him of this right to appeal the decision under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A). The individual shall also be notified that he has the right to file with the Foundation a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his disagreement with the refusal of the Foundation to amend his record.

§ 1115.6 Disclosure of records to agencies or persons other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

Records subject to the Privacy Act that are requested by any person other than the individual to whom they pertain will not be made available except under the following circumstances:

(a) Records required to be made available by the Freedom of Information Act will be released in response to a request formulated in accordance with Foundation regulations found at 45 CFR Part 1100.

(b) Records not required by the Freedom of Information Act to be released may be released, at the discretion of the Foundation, if the written consent of the individual to whom they pertain has been obtained or if such release would be authorized under 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(1) or (3)-(11).

§ 1115.7 Exemptions.

(a) Fellowships and grants. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(5), the Foundation hereby exempts from the application of section 552 a(d) any materials which would disclose the identity of references for fellowship or grant applicants contained in any of the Foundation's systems of records.

(b) Applicants for employment. Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(5), the Foundation hereby exempts from the application of 5 U.S.C. 552a(d) any materials which would disclose the identity of references of applicants for employment at the Foundation contained in the system of records entitled "Official Personnel Folders".

2102.61 Exemptions.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a (f) and (k)

§ 2102.1 Introduction.

(a) Insofar as the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a) applies to the National Security Council (hereafter NSC), it provides the American public with expanded opportunities to gain access to records maintained by the NSC Staff which may pertain to them as individuals. These regulations are the exclusive means by which individuals may request personally identifiable records and information from the National Security Council.

(b) The NSC Staff, in addition to performing the functions prescribed in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended (50 U.S.C. 401), also serves as the supporting staff to the President in the conduct of foreign affairs. In doing so the NSC Staff is acting not as an agency but as an extension of the White House Office. In that the White House Office is not considered an agency for the purposes of this Act, the materials which are used by NSC Staff personnel in their role as supporting staff to the President are not subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974. A description of these White House Office files is, nevertheless, appended to the NSC notices of systems of files and will be published annually in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) In general, Records in NSC files pertain to individual members of the public only if these individuals have been (1) employed by the NSC, (2) have corresponded on a foreign policy matter with a member of the NSC or its staff, or (3) have, as a U.S Government official, participated in an NSC meeting or in the preparation of foreign policy-related documents for the NSC.

§ 2102.2 Purpose and scope.

(a) The following regulations set forth procedures whereby individuals may seek and gain access to records concerning themselves and will guide the NSC Staff response to requests under the Privacy Act. In addition, they outline the requirements applicable to the personnel maintaining NSC systems of records.

(b) These regulations, published pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974, Public Law 93-579, Section 552a (f) and (k), 5 U.S.C. (hereinafter the Act), advise of procedures whereby an individual can:

(1) Request notification of whether the NSC Staff maintains or has disclosed a record pertaining to him or her in any non-exempt system of records;

(2) Request a copy of such record or an accounting of that disclosure;

(3) Request an amendment to a record; and,

(4) Appeal any initial adverse determination of any request under the Act.

(c) These regulations also specify those systems of records which the NSC has determined to be exempt from certain provisions of the Act and thus not subject to procedures established by this regulation.

§ 2102.3 Definitions.

As used in these regulations:

(a) Individual. A citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence.

(b) Maintain. Includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate. Under the Act it is also used to connote control over, and, therefore, responsibility for, systems of records in support of the NSC statutory function (50 U.S.C. 401, et seq.).

(c) Systems of Records. A grouping of any records maintained by the NSC from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some other identifying particular assigned to the individual.

(d) Determination. Any decision made by the NSC or designated official thereof which affects the individual's rights, opportunities, benefits, etc. and which is based in whole or in part on information contained in that individual's record.

(e) Routine Use. With respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such a record in a manner which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

(f) Disclosure. The granting of access or transfer of a record by any means.

§ 2102.4 Procedures for determining if an individual is the subject of a record.

(a) Individuals desiring to determine if they are the subject of a record or system of records maintained by the NSC Staff should address their inquiries, marking them plainly as a PRIVACY ACT REQUEST, to:

Staff Secretary, National Security Council, Room 374, Old Executive Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20506.

All requests must be made in writing and should contain:

(1) A specific reference to the system of records maintained by the NSC as listed in the NSC Notices of Systems and Records (copies available upon request); or

(2) A description of the record or systems of records in sufficient detail to allow the NSC to determine whether the record does, in fact, exist in an NSC system of records.

(b) All requests must contain the printed or typewritten name of the individual to whom the record pertains, the signature of the individual making the request, and the address to which the reply should be sent. In instances when the identification is insufficient to insure disclosure to the individual to whom the information pertains in view of the sensitivity of the information, NSC reserves the right to solicit from the requestor additional identifying information.

(c) Responses to all requests under the Act will be made by the Staff Secretary, or by another designated member of the NSC Staff authorized to act in the name of the Staff Secretary in responding to a request under this Act. Every effort will be made to inform the requestor if he or she is the subject of a specific record or system of records within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal Federal Holidays) of receipt of the request. Such a response will also contain the procedures to be followed in order to gain access to any record which may exist and a copy of the most recent NSC notice, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, on the system of records in which the record is contained.

(d) Whenever it is not possible to respond in the time period specified above, the NSC Staff Secretary or a designated alternate will, within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal Federal Holidays), inform the requestor of the reasons for the delay (e.g., insufficient requestor information, difficulties in record location, etc.), steps that need to be taken in order to expedite the request, and the date by which a response is anticipated.

§ 2102.13 Requirements for access to a record.

(a) Individuals requesting access to a record or system of records in which there is information concerning them must address a request in writing to the Staff Secretary of the NSC (see Section 1. above). Due to restricted access to NSC offices in the Old Executive Office Building where the files are located, requests cannot be made in person.

(b) All written requests should contain a concise description of the records to which access is requested. In addition, the requestor should include any other information which he or she feels would assist in the timely identification of the record. Verification of the requestor's identity will be determined under the same procedures used in requests for learning of the existence of a record.

(c) To the extent possible, any request for access will be answered by the Staff Secretary or a designated alternate within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays) of the receipt of the request. In the event that a response cannot be made within this time, the requestor will be notified by mail of the reasons for the delay and the date upon which a reply can be expected.

(d) The NSC response will forward a copy of the requested materials unless further identification or clarification of the request is required. In the event access is denied, the requestor shall be informed of the reasons therefore and the name and address of the individual to whom an appeal should be directed.

§ 2102.15 Requirements for requests to amend records.

(a) Individuals wishing to amend a record contained in the NSC systems of records pertaining to them must submit a request in writing to the Staff Secretary of the NSC in accordance with the procedures set forth herein.

(b) All requests for amendment or correction of a record must state concisely the reason for requesting the amendment. Such requests should include a brief statement which describes the information the requestor believes to be inaccurate, incomplete, or unnecessary and the amendment or correction desired.

(c) To the extent possible, every request for amendment of a record will be answered within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays) of the receipt of the request. In the event that a response cannot be made within this time, the requestor will be notified by mail of the reasons for the delay and the date upon which a reply can be expected. A final response to a request for amendment will include the NSC Staff determination on whether to grant or deny the request. If the request is denied, the response will include:

(1) The reasons for the decision;

(2) The name and address of the individual to whom an appeal should be directed;

(3) A description of the process for review of the appeal within the NSC; and

(4) A description of any other procedures which may be required of the individual in order to process the appeal.

§ 2101.21 Procedures for appeal of determination to deny access to or amendment or requested records.

(a) Individuals wishing to appeal an NSC Staff denial of a request for access or to amend a record concerning them must address a letter of appeal to the Staff Secretary of the NSC. The letter must be received within thirty days from the date of the Staff Secretary's notice of denial and, at a minimum, should identify the following:

(1) The records involved;

(2) The dates of the initial request and subsequent NSC determination; and

(3) A brief statement of the reasons supporting the request for reversal of the adverse determination.

(b) Within thirty working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal Federal Holidays) of the date of receipt of the letter of appeal, the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs (hereinafter the "Assistant"), or the Deputy Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs (hereinafter the "Deputy Assistant"), acting in his name, shall issue a determination on the appeal. In the event that a final determination cannot be made within this time period, the requester will be informed of the delay, the reasons therefor and the date on which a final response is expected.

(c) If the original request was for access and the initial determination is reversed, a copy of the records sought will be sent to the individual. If the initial determination is upheld, the requester will be so advised and informed of the right to judicial review pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(g).

(d) If the initial denial of a request to amend a record is reversed, the records will be corrected and a copy of the amended record will be sent to the individual. In the event the original decision is upheld by the Assistant to the President, the requestor will be so advised and informed in writing of his or her right to seek judicial review of the final agency determination, pursuant to Section 552a(g) of Title 5, U.S.C. In addition, the requestor will be advised of his right to have a concise statement of the reasons for disagreeing with the final determination appended to the disputed records. This statement should be mailed to the Staff Secretary within ten working days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal Holidays) of the date of the requestor's receipt of the final determination.

§ 2102.31 Disclosure of a record to persons other than the individual to whom it pertains.

(a) Except as provided by the Privacy Act, 5 U.S.C. 552a(b), the NSC will not disclose a record concerning an individual to another person or agency without the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains.

§ 2102.41 Fees.

(a) Individuals will not be charged for:

(1) The first copy of any record provided in response to a request for access or amendment;

(2) The search for, or review of, records in NSC files;

(3) Any copies reproduced as a necessary part of making a record or portion thereof available to the individual.

(b) After the first copy has been provided, records will be reproduced at the rate of twenty-five cents per page for all copying of four pages or more.

(c) The Staff Secretary may provide copies of a record at no charge if it is determined to be in the interest of the Government.

(d) The Staff Secretary may require that all fees be paid in full prior to the issuance of the requested copies.

(e) Remittances shall be in the form of a personal check or bank draft drawn on a bank in the United States, or a postal money order. Remittances shall be made payable to the "United States Treasury" and mailed to the Staff Secretary, National Security Council, Washington, D.C. 20506.

(f) A receipt for fees paid will be given only upon request. Refund of fees paid for services actually rendered will not be made.

§ 2102.51 Penalties.

Title 18, U.S.C. Section 1001, Crimes and Criminal Procedures, makes it a criminal offense, subject to a maximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both, to knowingly and willfully make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations in any matter within the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States. Section (i)(3) of the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) makes it a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $5,000, to knowingly and willfully request or obtain any record concerning an individual under false pretenses. Sections (i)(1) and (2) of 5 U.S.C. 552a provide penalties for violations by agency employees, of the Privacy Act or regulations established thereunder.

§ 2102.61 Exemptions.

Pursuant to subsection (k) of the Privacy Act, (5 U.S.C. 552a), the Staff Secretary has determined that certain NSC systems of records may be exempt in part from Sections 553 (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4), (G), (H), (I), and (f) of Title 5, and from the provisions of these regulations. These systems of records may contain information which is classified pursuant to Executive Order 11652. To the extent that this occurs, records in the following systems would be exempt under the provision of 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1):

NSC 1.1—Central Research Index,
NSC 1.2—NSC Correspondence Files, and NSC 1.3—NSC Meetings Registry.

Subpart A—Applicability and Policy

§ 802.1 Purpose and scope.

The purpose of this part is to implement the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a with respect to the availability to an individual of records of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) maintained on individuals. NTSB policy encompasses the safeguarding of individual privacy from any misuse of Federal records and the provision of access to individuals to NTSB records concerning them, except where such access is in conflict with the Freedom of Information Act, or other statute.

§ 802.2 Definitions.

In this part:

"Board" means the five Members of the National Transportation Safety Board, or a quorum thereof;

"Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

"National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB)" means the agency set up under the Independent Safety Board Act of 1974;

"Record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained under the control of the NTSB pursuant to Federal law or in connection with the transaction of public business, including, but not limited to, education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history, and that contains a name, or an identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to an individual, such as a finger or voice imprint or photograph;

"Routine use" means the use of such record for a purpose compatible with the purpose for which it was collected, including, but not limited to, referral to law enforcement agencies of violations of the law and for discovery purposes ordered by a court referral to potential employers, and for security clearance;

"Statistical record" means a record in a system of records maintained for statistical research or reporting purposes only and which is not used wholly or partially in any determination concerning an identifiable individual;

"System Manager" means the agency official who is responsible for the policies and practices of his particular system or systems of record, as specified in the NTSB notices of systems or records; and

"System of records" means a group of any records under the control of the NTSB from which information is retrieved by the name of an individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, whether presently in existence or set up in the future.

Subpart B—Initial Procedures and Requirements

§ 802.5 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

The NTSB may not disclose any record to any person or other agency, except pursuant to a written request by, or with the prior written consent of, the individual to whom the record pertains, provided the record under the control of the NTSB is maintained in a system of records from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other particular assigned to such individual. Written consent is not required if the disclosure is:

(a) To officers or employees of the NTSB who require the information in the official performance of their duties;

(b) Required under 5 U.S.C. 552, Freedom of Information Act;

(c) For a routine use compatible with the purpose for which it was collected;

(d) To the Bureau of the Census for uses pursuant to Title 13, U.S. Code;

(e) To a recipient who has provided the NTSB with advance adequate assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical research or reporting record and that it is to be transferred in a form not individually identifiable; or

(f) Pursuant to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 802.6 Types of requests and specification of records.

(a) Types of requests. An individual may make the following request respecting records about himself maintained by NTSB in any system of records subject to the Act:

(1) Whether information concerning himself is contained in any system of records.

(2) Access to a record concerning himself. Such request may include a request to review the record and/or obtain a copy of all or any portion thereof.

(3) Correction or amendment of a record concerning himself.

(4) Accounting of disclosure to any other person or Government agency of any record concerning himself contained in any system of records controlled by NTSB, except (i) disclosures made pursuant to the FOIA; (ii) disclosures made within the NTSB; (iii) disclosures made to another Government agency or instrumentality for an authorized law enforcement activity pursuant to subsection (b)(7) of the Act; and (iv) disclosures expressly exempted by NTSB from the requirements of subsection (c)(3) of the Act, pursuant to subsection (k) thereof.

(b) Specification of records. All requests for access to records must reasonably describe the system of records and the individual's record within the system of records in sufficient detail to permit identification of the requested record. Specific information regarding the system name, the individual's full name, and other information helpful in identifying the record or records shall be included. Requests for correction or amendment of records shall, in addition, specify the particular record involved, state the nature of the correction or amendment sought, and furnish justification for the correction or amendment.

(c) Inadequate identification of record. Requests which do not contain information sufficient to identify the record requested will be returned promptly to the requester, with a notice indicating what information is lacking. Individuals making requests in person will be informed of any deficiency in the specification of the records at the time the request is made. Individuals making requests in writing will be notified of any such deficiency when their request is acknowledged.

§ 802.7 Requests: how, when, and where presented; verification of identity of individuals making requests; accompanying persons; and procedures for acknowledgment of requests.

(a) Requests—general. Requests may be made in person or in writing. Assistance regarding requests or other matters relating to the Act may be obtained by writing to the Director, Bureau of Administration, National Transportation Safety Board, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20594. The Director, Bureau of Administration or his designee, on request, will aid an individual in preparing an amendment to the record or to an appeal following denial of a request to amend the record, pursuant to subsection (f)(4) of the Act.

(b) Written requests. Written requests shall be made to the Director, Bureau of Administration at the address given above," and shall clearly state on the envelope and on the request itself, "Privacy Act Request," "Privacy Act Statement of Disagreement," "Privacy Act Disclosure Accounting Request," "Appeal from Privacy Act Adverse Determination," or "Privacy Act Correction Request," as the case may be. Actual receipt by the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, shall constitute receipt.

(c) Requests made in person. Requests may be made in person during official working hours of the NTSB at the office where the record is located, as listed in the "Notice of Systems of Records" for the system in which the record is contained.

(d) Verification of identity of requester. (1) For written requests, the requester's identity must be verified before the release of any record, unless exempted under the FOIA. This may be accomplished by adequate proof of identity in the form of a driver's license or other acceptable item of the same type.

(2) For requests in person, the requester's identity may be established by a single document bearing a photograph (such as a passport or identification badge) or by two items of identification containing name, address, and signature (such as a driver's license or credit card).

(3) Where a request is made for reproduced records which are to be delivered by mail, the request must include a notarized statement verifying the requester's identity.

(e) Inability to provide requisite documentation of identity. A requester who cannot provide the necessary documentation of identity may provide a notarized statement, swearing or affirming his identity and the fact that he is aware of the penalties for false statement imposed pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 1001, and subsection (i)(3) of the Act. Where requested, the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, will assist the requester in formulating the necessary document.

(f) Accompanying persons. A requester may wish to have a person of his choice accompany him to review the requested record. Prior to the release of the record, the NTSB will require the requester to furnish the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, with a written statement authorizing disclosure of the record in the accompanying person's presence.

(g) Acknowledgment of requests. Written requests to verify the existence of, to obtain access to, or to correct or amend records about the requester maintained by NTSB in any system of records subject to the Act, shall be acknowledged in writing by the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, within 3 working days after the date of actual receipt of the request by the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee. The acknowledgment shall advise the requester of the need for any additional information to process the request. Wherever practicable, the acknowledgment shall notify the individual whether his request has been granted or denied. When a request is made in person, every effort will be made to determine immediately whether the request will be granted. If such decision cannot be made, the request will be processed in the same manner as a written request. Records will be made available for immediate inspection whenever possible.

Subpart C—Initial Determination

§ 802.8 Disclosure of requested information.

(a) The System Manager may initially determine that the request be granted. If so, the individual making the request shall be notified orally, or in writing, and the notice shall include:

(1) A brief description of the information to be made available;

(2) The time and place where the record may be inspected, or alternatively, the procedure for delivery by mail to the requesting party;

(3) The estimated cost for furnishing copies of the record;

(4) The requirements for verification of identity;

(5) The requirements for authorizing discussion of the record in the presence of an accompanying person; and

(6) Any additional requirements needed to grant access to a specific system of records or record.

(b) Within 10 working days after actual receipt of the request by the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, in appropriate cases, the requester will be informed:

(1) That the request does not reasonably describe the system of records or record sought to permit its identification, and shall set forth the additional information needed to clarify the request; or

(2) That the system of records identified does not include a record retrievable by the requester's name or other identifying particulars.

(c) The System Manager shall advise the requester within 10 working days after actual receipt of the request by the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, that the request for access has been denied, and the reason for the denial, or that the determination has been made to grant the request, either in whole or in part, in which case the relevant information will be provided.

Subpart D—Correction or Amending the Record

§ 802.10 Request for correction or amendment to record.

All requests for correcting or amending records shall be made in writing to the Director, Bureau of Administration, National Transportation Safety Board, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20594, and shall be deemed received upon actual receipt by the Director, Bureau of Administration. The request shall clearly be marked on the envelope and in the letter with the legend that it is a "Privacy Act Correction Request." The request must reasonably set forth the portion of the record which the individual contends is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete.

§ 802.11 Agency review of requests for correction or amendment of record.

Within 10 working days after actual receipt of the request by the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, to correct or amend the record, the System Manager shall either make the correction in whole or in part, or inform the individual of the refusal to correct or amend the record as requested, and shall present the reasons for any denials.

§ 802.12 Initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment.

If the System Manager determines that the record should not be corrected or amended in whole or in part, he will forthwith make such finding in writing, after consulting with the General Counsel, or his designee. The requester shall be notified of the refusal to correct or amend the record. The notification shall be in writing, signed by the System Manager, and shall include—

(a) the reason for the denial;

(b) the name and title or position of each person responsible for the denial of the request;

(c) the appeal procedures for the individual for a review of the denial; and

(d) notice that the denial from the System Manager is appealable within 30 days from the receipt thereof by the requester to the Board.

The System Manager is alloted 10 working days (or within such extended period as is provided in the section concerning "unusual circumstances" infra) to respond to the request for review. If the requester does not receive an answer within such time, the delay shall constitute a denial of the request and shall permit the requester immediately to appeal to the Board, or to a district court.

Subpart E—Review of Initial Adverse Determination

§ 802.14 Review procedure and judicial review.

(a) A requester may appeal from any adverse determination within 30 days after actual receipt of a denial from the System Manager. The appeal must be in writing addressed to the Chairman, National Transportation Safety Board, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20594, and shall contain a statement on the envelope and in the appeal: "Appeal from Privacy Act Adverse Determination."

(b) The Board shall make a determination with respect to the appeal within 30 working days after the actual receipt of the appeal by the Chairman, except as provided for in "unusual circumstances" infra.

(c) (1) Review of denial of access. If the appeal upholds the denial of access to records, the Board shall: Notify the requester in writing, explaining the Board's determination; state that the denial is a final agency action and that judicial review is available in a district court of the United States in the district where the requester resides or has his principal place of business, or where the agency records are located, or in the District of Columbia; and request a filing with the Board of a concise statement enumerating the reasons for the requester's disagreement with the denial, pursuant to subsection (g) of the Act.

(2) Review of denial of correction or amendment. If the appeal upholds the denial in whole or in part for correction or amendment of the record, the same notification and judicial review privileges described in paragraph (c)(1) of this section shall apply.

(d) If the denial is reversed on appeal, the Board shall notify the requester in writing of the reversal. The notice shall include a brief statement outlining those portions of the individual's record which were not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete, and corrections of the record which were made, and shall provide the individual with a courtesy copy of the corrected record.

(e) Copies of all appeals and written determinations will be furnished by the System Manager to the Board.

(f) In unusual circumstances, time limits may be extended by not more than 10 working days by written notice to the individual making the request. The notice shall include the reasons for the extension and the date on which a determination is expected to be forthcoming. "Unusual circumstances" as used in this section shall include circumstances where a search and collection of the requested records from field offices or other establishments are required, cases where a voluminous amount of data is involved, and cases where consultations are required with other agencies or with others having a substantial interest in the determination of the request.

(g) Statements of Disagreement. (1) Written Statements of Disagreement may be furnished by the individual within 30 working days of the date of actual receipt of the final adverse determination of the Board. They shall be addressed to the Director, Bureau of Administration, National Transportation Safety Board, 820 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20594, and shall be clearly marked, both on the statement and on the envelope, "Privacy Act Statement of Disagreement."

(2) The Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, shall be responsible for ensuring that:

(i) The Statement of Disagreement is included in the system of records in which the disputed item of information is maintained; and

(ii) The original record is marked to indicate the information disputed, the existence of the Statement of Disagreement, and its location within the relevant system of records.

(3) The Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, may, if he deems it appropriate, prepare a concise Statement of Explanation indicating why the requested amendments or corrections were not made. Such Statement of Explanation shall be included in the system of records in the same manner as the Statement of Disagreement. Courtesy copies of the NTSB Statement of Explanation and the notation of dispute, as marked on the original record, shall be furnished to the individual who requested correction or amendment of the record.

(h) Notices of correction and/or amendment, or dispute. After a record has been corrected or a Statement of Disagreement has been filed, the Director, Bureau of Administration, or his designee, shall within 30 working days thereof, advise all previous recipients of the affected record as to the correction or the filing of the Statement of Disagreement. The identity of such recipients shall be determined pursuant to an accounting of disclosures required by the Act or any other accounting previously made. Any disclosure of disputed-information occurring after a Statement of Disagreement has been filed shall clearly identify the specific information disputed and shall be accompanied by a copy of the Statement of Disagreement and a copy of any NTSB Statement of Explanation.

(i) Disclosure to others of records concerning individuals. Neither the Board nor other NTSB personnel shall disclose any record which is contained in a system of records maintained by NTSB, by any means of communication, including oral communication, to any person, or to another Government agency, except pursuant to a written request by, or with the prior written consent, of the individual to whom the record pertains, unless disclosure of the record is:

(1) To the Board and NTSB personnel who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties;

(2) Required under the FOIA;

(3) For a routine use published in the FEDERAL REGISTER;

(4) To the Bureau of the Census for purposes of planning or carrying out a census or survey, or related activity pursuant to the provisions of Title 13 of the United States Code;

(5) To a recipient who has provided NTSB with adequate advance written assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical research or reporting record and that the record is transferred in a form that is not identifiable with respect to individuals;[1]

(6) To the National Archives of the United States as a record which has sufficient historical or other value to warrant its continued preservation by the U.S. Government, or to the Administrator of the General Services Administration, or his designee, for evaluation to determine whether the record has such value;

(7) To another agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under the control of the United States for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity if the activity is authorized by law, and if the head of the agency or instrumentality has made a written request to NTSB specifying the particular portion of the record desired and the law enforcement activity for which the record is sought;[2]

(8) To any person upon a showing of compelling circumstances affecting the health or safety of any individual;

(9) To either House of Congress or, to the extent of matter within its jurisdiction, to any committee, or subcommittee thereof, or to any joint committee of the Congress, or to any subcommittee of such joint committee;

(10) To the Comptroller General, or any of his authorized representatives, in the course of the performance of the duties of the General Accounting Office; or

(11) Pursuant to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(j) Notices of subpoenas. When records concerning an individual are subpoenaed or otherwise disclosed pursuant to court order, the NTSB officer or employee served with the subpoena shall be responsible for assuring that the individual is notified of the disclosure within 5 days after such subpoena or other order becomes a matter of public record. The notice shall be mailed to the last known address of the individual and shall contain the following information: (1) The date the subpoena is returnable; (2) the court in which it is returnable; (3) the name and number of the case or proceeding; and (4) the nature of the information sought.

(k) Notices of emergency disclosures. When information concerning an individual has been disclosed to any person under compelling circumstances affecting health or safety, the NTSB officer or employee who made or authorized the disclosure shall notify the individual at his last known address within 5 days of the disclosure. The notice shall contain the following information: (1) The nature of the information disclosed; (2) the person or agency to whom the information was disclosed; (3) the date of the disclosure; and (4) the compelling circumstances justifying the disclosure.

Subpart F—Fees

§ 802.15 Fees.

No fees shall be charged for providing the first copy of a record, or any portion thereof, to individuals to whom the record pertains. The fee schedule for other records is the same as that appearing in the Appendix to Part 801 of this chapter, implementing the FOIA, as amended from time to time, except that the cost of any search for and review of the record shall not be included in any fee under this Act, pursuant to subsection (f)(5) of the Act.

[1] The advance written statement of assurance shall state the purpose for which the record is requested and certify that it will be used only for statistical purposes. Prior to release under this paragraph, the record shall be stripped of all personally identifiable information and reviewed to ensure that the identity of any individual cannot reasonably be determined by combining two or more statistical records.

[2] A record may be disclosed to a law enforcement agency at the initiative of NTSB if criminal conduct is suspected, provided that such disclosure has been established as a routine use by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and the instance of misconduct is directly related to the purpose for which the record is maintained.

V 42 182 SEP 20 77 UMI

Subpart G—Penalties

§ 802.18 Penalties.

(a) An individual may bring a civil action against the NTSB to correct or amend the record, or where there is a refusal to comply with an individual request or failure to maintain any record with accuracy, relevance, timeliness and completeness, so as to guarantee fairness, or failure to comply with any other provision of 5 U.S.C. 552a. The court may order the correction or amendment. It may assess against the United States reasonable attorney fees and other costs, or may enjoin the NTSB from withholding the records and order the production to the complainant, and it may assess attorney fees and costs.

(b) Where it is determined that the action was willful or intentional with respect to 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1) (c) or (d), the United States shall be liable for the actual damages sustained, but in no case less than the sum of $1,000 and the costs of the action with attorney fees.

(c) Criminal penalties may be imposed against an officer or employee of the NTSB who fully discloses material which he knows is prohibited from disclosure, or who willfully maintains a system of records without meeting the notice requirements, or who knowingly and willfully requests or obtains any record concerning an individual from an agency under false pretenses. These offenses shall be misdemeanors with a fine not to exceed $5,000.

Subpart H—Specific Exemptions

§ 802.20 Security Records.

Pursuant to, and limited by, 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(5), the NTSB's system of records, which contains the Security Records of NTSB employees, prospective employees, and potential contractors, shall be exempt from disclosure of the material and the NTSB's handling thereof under subsections (d), (e)(1) and (e)(4) (H) and (I) of 5 U.S.C. 552a.

Title 5—Administrative Personnel

CHAPTER III—OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

PART 1302—PRIVACY ACT PROCEDURES

Sec.

1302.1 Rules for determining if an individual is the subject of a record.
1302.2 Requests for access.
1302.3 Access to the accounting of disclosures from records.
1302.4 Requests to amend records.
1302.5 Request for review.
1302.6 Schedule of fees.

AUTHORITY: Pub. L. 93-579, 88 Stat. 1896 (5 USC 553a(f).

§ 1302.1 Rules for determining if an individual is the subject of a record.

(a) Individuals desiring to know if a specific system of records maintained by the Office of Management and Budget contains a record pertaining to them should address their inquiries to the Assistant to the Director for Administration, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503. The written inquiry should contain a specific reference to the system of records maintained by OMB listed in the OMB Notices of Systems of Records or it should describe the type of record in sufficient detail to reasonably identify the system of records. Notice of OMB systems of records subject to the Privacy Act will be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER and copies of the notices will be available upon request to the Assistant to the Director for Administration when so published. A compilation of such notices will also be made and published by the Office of Federal Register, in accordance with section 5 U.S.C. 552a(f).

(b) At a minimum, the request should also contain sufficient information to identify the requester in order to allow OME to determine if there is a record pertaining to that individual in a particular system of records. In instances when the information is insufficient to insure disclosure to the individual to whom the information pertains, in view of the sensitivity of the information, OMB reserves the right to ask the requester for additional identifying information.

(c) Ordinarily the requester will be informed whether the named system of records contains a record pertaining to the requester within 10 days of receipt of such a request (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays). Such a response will also contain or reference the procedures which must be followed by the individual making the request in order to gain access to the record.

(d) Whenever a response cannot be made within the 10 days, the Assistant to the Director for Administration will inform the requester of the reasons for the delay and the date by which a response may be anticipated.

§ 1302.2 Requests for access.

(a) Requirement for written requests. Individuals desiring to gain access to a record pertaining to them in a system of records maintained by OMB must submit their request in writing in accordance with the procedures set forth in paragraph b, below. Due to security measures in effect in both the Old and New Executive Office Buildings, requests made in person (walk-ins) cannot be accepted, except that individuals who are employed by the Office of Management and Budget may make their request on a regularly scheduled workday (Monday through Friday, excluding legal Federal holidays) between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Such requests for access by individuals employed by OMB need not be made in writing.

(b) Procedures. (1) Content of the Request. (i) The request for access to a record in a system of records shall be addressed to the Assistant to the Director for Administration, at the address cited above, and shall name the system of records or contain a description (as concise as possible) of such system of records. The request should state that the request is pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974. In the absence of specifying solely the Privacy Act of 1974 and, if the request may be processed under both the Freedom of Information Act and the Privacy Act and the request specifies both or neither act, the procedures under the Privacy Act of 1974 will be employed. The individual will be advised that the procedures of the Privacy Act will be utilized, of the existence and the general effect of the Freedom of Information Act, and the difference between procedures under the two acts (e.g. fees, time limits, access). The request should contain necessary information to verify the identity of the requester (see § 1302.2(b)(2)(vi), below). In addition, the requester should include any other information which may assist in the rapid identification of the record for which access is being requested (e.g., maiden name, dates of employment, etc.) as well as any other identifying information contained in and required by the OMB Notice of Systems of Records.

(ii) If the request for access follows a prior request under section 1302.1, above, the same identifying information need not be included in the request for access if a reference is made to that prior correspondence, or a copy of the OMB response to that request is attached.

(iii) If the individual specifically desires a copy of the record, the request should so specify.

(2) OMB action on request. A request for access will ordinarily be answered within 10 days, except when the Assistant to the Director for Administration determines that access cannot be afforded in that time, in which case the requester will be informed of the reason for the delay and an estimated date by which the request will be answered. Normally, access will be granted within 30 days from the date the request was received by the Office of Management and Budget. At a minimum, the answer to the request for access shall include the following:

(i) A statement that there is a record as requested or a statement that there is not a record in the system of records maintained by OMB;

(ii) a statement as to whether access will be granted only by providing a copy of the record through the mail; or the address of the location and the date and time at which the record may be examined. In the event the requester is unable to meet the specified date and time, alternative arrangements may be made with the official specified in § 1302.2(b)(1) above;

(iii) a statement, when appropriate, that examination in person will be the sole means of granting access only when the Assistant to the Director for Administration has determined that it would not unduly impede the requester's right of access;

(iv) the amount of fees charged, if any (see § 1302.6 below) (Fees are applicable only to requests for copies.);

(v) the name, title, and telephone number of the OMB official having operational control over the record; and

(vi) the documentation required by OMB to verify the identity of the requester. At a minimum, OMB's verification standards include the following:

(A) Current or former OMB employees. Current or former OMB employees requesting access to a record pertaining to them in a system of records maintained by OMB may, in addition to the other requirements of this section, and at the sole discretion of the official having operational control over the record, have his or her identity verified by visual observation. If the current or former OMB employee cannot be so identified by the official having operational control over the records, identification documentation will be required. Employee identification cards, annuitant identification, driver licenses, or the "employee copy" of any official personnel document in the record are examples of acceptable identification validation.

(B) Other than current or former OMB employees. Individuals other than current or former OMB employees requesting access to a record pertaining to them in a system of records maintained by OMB must produce identification documentation of the type described herein, prior to being granted access. The extent of the identification documentation required will depend on the type of record to be accessed. In most cases, identification verification will be accomplished by the presentation of two forms of identification. Any additional requirements are specified in the system notices published pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (e) (4).

(C) Access granted by mail. For records to be accessed by mail, the Assistant to the Director for Administration shall, to the extent possible, establish identity by a comparison of signatures in situations where the data in the record is not so sensitive that unauthorized access could cause harm or embarrassment to the individual to whom they pertain. No identification documentation will be required for the disclosure to the requester of information required to be made available to the public by 5 U.S.C. 552. When, in the opinion of the Assistant to the Director for Administration, the granting of access through the mail could reasonably be expected to result in harm or embarrassment if disclosed to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains, a notarized statement of identity or some similar assurance of identity will be required.

(D) Unavailability of identification documentation. If an individual is unable to produce adequate identification documentation the individual will be required to sign a statement asserting identity and acknowledging that knowingly or willfully seeking or obtaining access to records about another person under false pretenses may result in a fine of up to $5,000. In addition, depending upon the sensitivity of the records sought to be accessed, the official havin operational control over the records may require such further reasonable assurances as may be considered appropriate; e.g., statements of other individuals who can attest to the identity of the requester. No verification of identity will be required of individuals seeking access to records which are otherwise available to any person under 5 U.S.C. 552, Freedom of Information Act.

(E) Access by the parent of a minor, or legal guardian. A parent of a minor, upon presenting suitable personal identification, may access on behalf of the minor any record pertaining to the minor maintained by OMB in a system of records. A legal guardian may similarly act on behalf of an individual declared to be incompetent due to physical or mental incapacity or age by a court of competent jurisdiction, absent a court order or consent, a parent or legal guardian has no absolute right to have access to a record about a child. Minors are not precluded from exercising on their own behalf rights given to them by the Privacy Act.

(F) Granting access when accompanied by another individual. When an individual requesting access to his or her record in a system of records maintained by OMB wishes to be accompanied by another individual during the course of the examination of the record, the individual making the request shall submit to the official having operational control of the record, a signed statement authorizing that person access to the record.

(G) Denial of access for inadequate identification documentation. If the official having operation control over the records in a system of records maintained by OMB determines that an individual seeking access has not provided sufficient identification documentation to permit access, the official shall consult with the Assistant to the Director for Administration prior to finally denying the individual access.

(H) Review of decision to deny access. Whenever the Assistant to the Director for Administration determines, in accordance with the procedures herein, that access cannot be granted, the response will also include a statement of the procedures to obtain a review of the decision to deny in accordance with section 1302.5 below.

(vii) Exceptions. Nothing in these regulations shall be construed to entitle an individual the right to access to any information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil action or proceedings. The mere fact that records in a system of records are frequently the subject of litigation does not bring those systems of records within the scope of this provision. This provision is not intended to preclude access by an individual to records which are available to that individual under other processes such as the Freedom of Information Act or the rules of civil procedure.

§ 1302.3 Access to the accounting of disclosures from records.

Rules governing the granting of access to the accounting of disclosures are the same as those for granting access to the records (including verification of identity) outlined in § 1302.2, above.

§ 1302.4 Requests to amend records.

(a) Requirement for written requests. Individuals desiring to amend a record that pertain to them in a system of records maintained by OMB, must submit their request in writing in accordance with the procedures set forth herein unless this requirement is waived by the official having responsibility for the system of records. Records not subject to the Privacy Act of 1974 will not be amended in accordance with these provisions. However, individuals who believe that such records are inaccurate may bring this to the attention of OMB.

(b) Procedures. (1) (i) The request to amend a record in a system of records shall be addressed to the Assistant to the Director for Administration. Included in the request shall be the name of the system and a brief description of the record proposed for amendment. In the event the request to amend the record is the result of the individual's having gained access to the record in accordance with the provisions concerning access to records as set forth above, copies of previous correspondence between the requester and OMB will serve in lieu of a separate description of the record.

(ii) When the individual's identity has been previously verified pursuant to § 1302.2(b)(2)(vi) herein, further verification of identity is not required as long as the communication does not suggest that a need for verification is present. If the individual's identity has not been previously verified, OMB may require identification validation as described in § 1302.2(b)(2)(vi). Individuals desiring assistance in the preparation of a request to amend a record should contact the Assistant to the Director for Administration at the address cited above.

(iii) The exact portion of the record the individual seeks to have amended should be clearly indicated. If possible, the proposed alternative language should also be set forth, or at a minimum, the facts which the individual believes are not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete should be set forth with such particularity as to permit OMB not only to understand the individual's basis for the request, but also to make an appropriate amendment to the record.

(iv) The request must also set forth the reasons why the individual believes his record is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete. In order to avoid the retention by OMB of personal information merely to permit verification of records, the burden of persuading OMB to amend a record will be upon the individual. The individual must furnish sufficient facts to persuade the official in charge of the system of the inaccuracy, irrelevancy, timeliness, or incompleteness of the record.

(v) Incomplete or inaccurate requests will not be rejected categorically. The individual will be asked to clarify the request as needed.

(2) OMB action on the request. To the extent possible, a decision upon a request to amend a record will be made within 10 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays. The response reflecting the decision upon a request for amendment will include the following:

(i) The decision of the Office of Management and Budget whether to grant in whole, or deny any part of the request to amend the record.

(ii) The reasons for the determination for any portion of the request which is denied.

(iii) The name and address of the official with whom an appeal of the denial may be lodged.

(iv) The name and address of the official designated to assist, as necessary, and upon request of, the individual making the request in the preparation of the appeal.

(v) A description of the review of the appeal within OMB (see § 1302.5 below).

(vi) A description of any other procedures which may be required of the individual in order to process the appeal.

If the nature of the request or the system of records precludes a decision within 10 days, the individual making the request will be informed within 10 days of the expected date for a decision. Such a decision will be issued as soon as it is reasonably possible, normally within 30 days from the receipt of the request (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays) unless unusual circumstances preclude completing action within that time. If the expected completion date for the decision indicated cannot be met, the individual will be advised of that delay and of a revised date when the decision may be expected to be completed.

§ 1302.5 Request for review.

(a) Individuals wishing to request a review of the decision by OMB with regard to an initial request to access or amend a record in accordance with the provisions of §§ 1302.2 and 1302.4 above, should submit the request for review in writing and, to the extent possible, include the information specified in § 1302.5(b), below. Individuals desiring assistance in the preparation of their request for review should contact the Assistant to the Director for Administration at the address provided herein.

(b) The request for review should contain a brief description of the record involved or in lieu thereof, copies of the correspondence from OMB in which the request to access or to amend was denied and also the reasons why the requester believes that access should be granted or the disputed information amended. The request for review should make reference to the information furnished by the individual in support of his claim and the reasons as required by §§ 1302.2 and 1302.4 above set forth by OMB in its decision denying access or amendment. Appeals filed without a complete statement by the requester setting forth the reasons for the review will, of course, be processed. However, in order to make the appellate process as meaningful as possible, the requester's disagreement should be set forth in an understandable manner. In order to avoid the unnecessary retention of personal information, OMB reserves the right to dispose of the material concerning the request to access or amend a record if no request for review in accordance with this section is received by OMB within 180 days of the mailing by OMB of its decision upon an initial request. A request for review received after the 180 day period may, at the discretion of the Assistant to the Director for Administration, be treated as an initial request to access or amend a record.

(c) The request for review should be addressed to the Assistant to the Director for Administration.

(d) Upon receipt of a request for review, the Assistant to the Director for Administration will convene a review group composed of the Assistant to the Director for Administration, the General Counsel, or their designees, and the official having operational control over the record. This group will review the basis for the requested review and will develop a recommended course of action to the Deputy Director. If at any time additional information is required from the requester, the Assistant to the Director for Administration is authorized to acquire it or authorize its acquisition from the requester.

(e) The Office of Management and Budget has established an internal Committee on Freedom of Information and Privacy (hereinafter referred to as the Committee). The Committee is composed of:

(1) Deputy Director;
(2) Assistant to the Director for Administration;
(3) General Counsel;
(4) Assistant Director for Budget Review;
(5) Assistant Director for Legislative Reference;
(6) Assistant to the Director for Public Affairs;
(7) Deputy Associate Director for Information Systems;
(8) Deputy Associate Director for Statistical Policy;
(9) Deputy Associate Director for National Security;
(10) Budget and Management Officer;
(11) Personnel Officer.

(f) The Committee, when directed by the Assistant to the Director for Administration, will review the Office's administration of the Freedom of Information and Privacy Acts and make recommendations for the improvement thereto. In addition, the Committee, upon the request of the Deputy Director, may evaluate a request for review or appeal and recommend a decision to the Deputy Director, who has the final authority regarding appeals.

(g) The Deputy Director will inform the requester in writing of the decision on the request for review within 20 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Federal holidays) from the date of receipt by OMB of the individual's request for review unless the Deputy Director extends the 20 day period for good cause. The extension and the reasons therefor will be sent by OMB to the requester within the initial 20 day period. Such extensions should not be routine and should not normally exceed an additional thirty days. If the decision does not grant in full the request for amendment, the notice of the decision will provide a description of the steps the individual may take to obtain judicial review of such a decision, a statement that the individual may file a concise statement with OMB setting forth the individual's reasons for his disagreement with the decision and the procedures for filing such a statement of disagreement. The Assistant to the Director for Administration has the authority to determine the "conciseness" of the statement, taking into account the scope of the disagreement and the complexity of the issues. Upon the filing of a proper concise statement by the individual, any subsequent disclosure of the information in dispute will be clearly noted so that the fact that the record is disputed is apparent, a copy of the concise statement furnished and a concise statement by OMB setting forth its reasons for not making the requested changes, if OMB chooses to file such a statement. A notation of a dispute is required to be made only if an individual informs the agency of his disagreement with OMB's determination in accordance with § 1302.5 (a), (b) and (c). A copy of the individual's statement, and if it chooses, OMB's statement will be sent to any prior transferee of the disputed information who is listed on the accounting required by 5 U.S.C. 552a(c). If the reviewing official determines that the record should be amended in accordance with the individual's request, OMB will promptly correct the record, advise the individual, and inform previous recipients if an accounting of the disclosure was made pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552(a)(c). The notification of correction pertains to information actually disclosed.

§ 1302.6 Schedule of fees.

(a) Prohibitions against charging fees. Individuals will not be charged for:

(1) The search and review of the record,
(2) Any copies of the record produced as a necessary part of the process of making the record available for access, or
(3) Any copies of the requested record when it has been determined that access can only be accomplished by providing a copy of the record through the mail.

(b) Waiver. The Assistant to the Director for Administration may at no charge, provide copies of a record if it is determined the production of the copies is in the interest of the Government.

(c) Fee schedule and method of payment. Fees will be charged as provided below except as provided in subsections a and b above.

(1) Duplication of records. Records will be duplicated at a rate of $.10 per page for all copying of 4 pages or more. There is no charge for duplicating 3 or fewer pages.

(2) Where it is anticipated that the fees chargeable under this section will amount to more than $25.00, the requester shall be promptly notified of the amount of the anticipated fee or such portion thereof as can readily be estimated. In instances where the estimated fees will greatly exceed $25.00, an advance deposit may be required. The notice or request for an advance deposit shall extend an offer to the requester to consult with Office personnel in order to reformulate the request in a manner which will reduce the fees, yet still meet the needs of the requester.

(3) Fees should be paid in full prior to issuance of requested copies. In the event the requester is in arrears for previous requests copies will not be provided for any subsequent request until the arrears have been paid in full.

(4) Remittances shall be in the form either of a personal check or bank draft drawn on a bank in the United States, or a postal money order. Remittances shall be made payable to the order of the Treasury of the United States and mailed or delivered to the Assistant to the Director for Administration, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503.

(5) A receipt for fees paid will be given upon request.

707.32 Specific exemptions.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a(f); Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2191).

Subpart A—General

§ 707.11 Purpose.

This Part 707 is adopted pursuant to 5 USC 552a(f) to implement the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 USC 552a. This Part 707 establishes procedures for notifying an individual whether any system of records of the Corporation contains information pertaining to him; the times, places, and procedures to be followed by an individual seeking access to records of the Corporation containing information pertaining to him, procedures to be followed by an individual desiring the amendment of any record of the Corporation containing information pertaining to him; and the fees charged by the Corporation for making copies under this Part 707 of records of the Corporation containing information pertaining to an individual. Pursuant to 5 USC 552a(k), this Part 707 also exempts certain systems of records from some of the provisions of 5 USC 552a.

§ 707.12 Definitions.

As used in this Part 707, the terms "agency", "individual", "maintain", "record", "system of records", "statistical record", and "routine use" shall have the meaning specified for each such term in 5 U.S.C. 552a(a).

Subpart B—Notification; Access to Records; Amendment; Fees

(a) Whenever an individual desires either notification of, access to or copies of records which are maintained by the Corporation and which may contain information pertaining to said individual, he may submit such a request to the Corporation in the form specified in paragraph (b) of this section. Such request shall be addressed to the Director of Personnel and Administration and may either be mailed to the Corporation or be delivered to the receptionist at the office of the Corporation, 1129—20th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20527, between 8:45 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday (excluding legal public holidays). Access to records maintained by the Corporation will be provided only by appointment. No officer or employee of the Corporation shall, pursuant to the provisions of this Part 707, provide any individual with access to any records maintained by the Corporation until the Corporation shall have received from such individual a written request in the form specified in paragraph (b) of this section and verification of the identity of the individual as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) Any request under this Part 707 for notification of, access to or copies of records maintained by the Corporation shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) It shall be in writing, signed by the individual, and, except in the event such requesting individual is an officer or employee of the Corporation, duly acknowledged before a notary public or other authorized public official;

(2) It shall accurately identify the records or information to which access is sought;

(3) It shall specify the date and hour such individual wishes such an appointment; and

(4) It shall specify whether the individual also wishes copies of the information pertaining to him.

(c) Prior to providing any individual either with notification of, access to or copies of any records maintained by the Corporation that contain information pertaining to said individual, the Director of Personnel and Administration shall verify the identity of such individual. In order to verify the identity of any such individual, the Director of Personnel and Administration shall require such individual to provide reasonable proof of his identity, such as, by way of example and not limitation, a valid drivers license, identification card, passport, employee identification card and any other identifying information. The Director of Personnel and Administration shall deny any such request from any individual if he determines, in his sole discretion, that the evidence offered to verify the identity of such individual is insufficient to establish conclusively the identity of such individual. Upon denying any such request under this paragraph (c), the Director of Personnel and Administration shall promptly notify the individual in writing of such determination.

(d) In the event that the Director of Personnel and Administration shall decline any request submitted to the Corporation under paragraph (b) of this section because he determines under paragraph (c) of this section that the individual has not provided adequate evidence to verify his identity, said individual may, within thirty (30) days of the date of the notification thereof by the Director of Personnel and Administration, file a written appeal of such determination with the Executive Vice President of the Corporation. The decision of the Executive Vice President with respect to such appeal shall be final.

(e) Whenever an individual desires copies of any records in addition to personal access thereto, copies will be furnished upon payment of the fees prescribed in § 707.23 of this Part.

(f) The Corporation may require any individual who wishes to be accompanied by any other individual when reviewing any records made available under this Part 707 shall provide the Corporation with a signed, written statement authorizing discussion of the information contained in such records in the presence of such accompanying individual.

(g) Copies of records made available for review to any individual under this Part 707 may be released to a duly authorized representative of any such individual provided that such individual provides the Corporation with a power of attorney to such effect on behalf of said representative, signed by such individual and duly acknowledged before a notary public or other authorized public official. The Corporation shall require any such representative to verify his identity in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section.

(h) Original or record copies of records will not be released from the files of the Corporation. Individuals will not be permitted to disturb any record files or to remove any records from the designated place of examination within the Corporation.

§ 707.22 Amendment of records.

(a) Whenever any individual desires an amendment to any record of the Corporation to correct information in such record pertaining to him that he believes not to be accurate, relevant, timely, or complete, he may submit such a request to the Corporation in the form specified in paragraph (b) of this section. Such request shall be addressed to the Director of Personnel and Administration and may either be mailed to the Corporation or delivered to the receptionist at the office of the Corporation, 1129—20th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20527, between 8:45 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday (excluding legal public holidays). Such request shall be deemed not to have been received by the Corporation until actually delivered to it or, whenever mailed, actually received by the Chief of Personnel and Administration.

(b) Any request submitted to the Corporation under paragraph (a) of this section shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) It shall be in writing, signed by the individual, and, except in the event such requesting individual is an officer or employee of the Corporation, duly acknowledged before a notary public or other authorized public official;

(2) It shall accurately identify the records and information to be amended;

(3) It shall specify the correction requested; and

(4) It shall fully specify the basis for such individual's belief that the records and information are not accurate, relevant, timely or complete; and

(5) It shall be supported by substantial and reliable evidence sufficient to permit the Corporation to determine whether such amendment is in order. Any such request shall be deemed not to have been received by the Corporation and shall be returned without prejudice whenever the Director of Personnel and Administration determines that such request either does not describe records specifically enough to permit the staff of the Corporation to promptly locate such records or does not state the amendment requested or the basis therefor in reasonably specific language.

(c) The Director of Personnel and Administration shall acknowledge in writing the receipt of any such request to correct any records not later than ten (10) days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal public holidays) after the date of the receipt of such request by the Corporation.

(d) Not later than thirty (30) days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and official holidays) after the date of the receipt of such request by the Corporation, the Director of Personnel and Administration shall either:

(1) Make any correction of any portion of such records that he determines not to have been accurate, relevant, timely, or complete and notify the individual in writing of such correction; or

(2) Inform the individual in writing of his decision to deny any portion of such request, the reason for the refusal, and the right of the individual to request a review thereof by the Executive Vice President of the Corporation under paragraph (e) of this section.

(e) In the event the Director of Personnel and Administration shall deny any portion of any individual's request to amend records, such individual may within thirty (30) days of the date of the notification of such denial, file a written appeal of such decision with the Executive Vice President of the Corporation. Such appeal may be supported by any additional written evidence and statements deemed appropriate by the individual.

§ 707.23 Fees.

The fees to be charged by the Corporation for making copies of any records provided to any individual under this Part 707 shall be twenty (20) cents per page.

Subpart C—Exceptions

§ 707.31 Public information.

Nothing in this Part 707 shall be construed as a waiver by the Corporation, either in whole or in part, of the provisions of 5 USC 552(b) or 18 USC 1905. The Corporation, to the maximum extent permitted by law, may delete information from copies of any records furnished to any individual under this Part 707.

§ 707.32 Specific exemptions.

The provisions of 5 USC 552a (c)(3), (d), (e)(1), (e)(4)(G), (H) and (I) and (f) shall not apply to any system of records maintained by the Corporation that is—

(a) Subject to the provisions of 5 USC 552(b)(1);

(b) Investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes other than those specified in 5 USC 552a (j)(2);

(c) Required by statute to be maintained and used solely as statistical records;

(d) Investigatory material compiled solely for the purpose of determining suitability, eligibility or qualifications for Federal civilian employment, military service, Federal contracts or access to classified information, but only to the extent that the Corporation may determine, in its sole discretion, that the disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of the source who, subsequent to September 27, 1975, furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence or, prior to such date, under an implied promise to such effect; and

(e) Testing or examination materials used solely to determine individual qualifications for appointment or promotion in the Federal service and the Corporation determines, in its sole discretion, that disclosure of such materials would compromise the fairness of the testing or examination process.

When used in this part, the following words shall have the meaning ascribed to them as follows:

(a) "Disclose" shall mean an oral or written statement concerning any such record or information.

(b) "Furnish" shall mean providing in substance or verbatim a copy of any such record or information.

(c) "Examine" shall mean a visual inspection and examination of any such record or information at the office of the local board or appeal board as the case may be.

(d) "Information" shall mean all the data in a record or records including those items on standard forms left blank, marked "Not Applicable" or the equivalent § 1608.3 General policy on disclosure of information.

(a) It is the general policy of the Selective Service System to make information available to the public unless the disclosure thereof is prohibited by law.

(b) Technical instructions pertaining to automatic data processing, memoranda, correspondence, opinions, data, staff studies, information received in confidence, and similar documentary material prepared for the purpose of internal communication within the Selective Service System or between the Selective Service System and other organizations or persons generally are not information available to the public.

(c) Lists of registrants may be furnished only in accordance with written instructions from the Director of Selective Service.

§ 1608.4 Available information.

(a) Upon request, current documents specifically identified as being printed for free distribution to the general public will be furnished without charge. Each individual requesting such documents shall be entitled to only one copy of each document.

(b) The Registrants Processing Manual is available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Selective Service Regulations appear in Chapter XVI of title 32, Code of Federal Regulations.

(c) The Registrants Processing Manual may be inspected at the office of any local board, the office of the State Director of Selective Service for any State or at the National Headquarters, Selective System.

(d) Each local board maintains a Classification Record (SSS Form 102) which contains the name, selective service number, and the current and past classifications for each person registered with that board. Information in this record may be inspected at the local board at which it is maintained.

(e) Any compensated employee of the Selective Service System may disclose to the former employer of a registrant who is serving in or who has been discharged from the Armed Forces whether the registrant has or has not been discharged and, if discharged, the date thereof, upon reasonable proof that the registrant left a position in the employ of the person requesting such information in order to serve in the Armed Forces.

(f) The names, position titles, grades, salaries, and duty stations of employees of the Selective Service System are public information.

(g) The names of local board members and the names and addresses of advisors to registrants will be posted in an area available to the public at each board office to which such personnel are assigned.

(h) Personal data concerning board members that relate to their legal qualifications for appointment and/or continuation in office are a matter of official record. Upon request, the executive secretary or clerk of a local board or appeal board will verify that a member of that board was legally qualified for appointment and for continuation in office without disclosing the personal data pertaining to such member without the member's consent.

§ 1608.5 Places where information may be obtained.

(a) Requests for information concerning a registrant should be directed to the local board where he is registered.

(b) Requests for information concerning the national administration of the Military Selective Service Act should be directed to the National Headquarters, Selective Service System, 1724 F Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20435.

(c) Requests for information concerning the administration of the Military Selective Service Act within a particular State should be directed to the State Director of Selective Service of that state.

§ 1608.6 Rules governing the obtaining of information.

(a) A request for information under this part should be made orally or in writing during business hours at the appropriate selective service office. When information to be furnished is not readily available, the employee responsible for obtaining the information shall advise the requester how and where it may be obtained.

(b) Although the time period allowed for inspection of documents must be sufficient to allow hand copying, the activity should not interfere with the daily business activities of the selective service office. Accordingly, the selective service employee handling the request for information or inspection should arrange for inspection of files and documents during specified hours of the business week.

(c) Any person entitled under the provisions of this part to examine any record or information shall be permitted to copy it by hand, to photograph it or to copy it by using portable copying equipment so long as the use of such equipment does not disrupt the normal operations of the office.

§ 1608.7 Identification of information requested.

(a) Any person who requests information under these regulations shall provide a reasonably specific description of the information sought so that it may be located without undue search or inquiry. Information that is not identified by a reasonably specific description is not an identifiable record, and the request for that information may be declined.

(b) If the description is insufficient, the employee processing the request will notify the requester and, to the extent possible, indicate the additional information required. Every reasonable effort shall be made to assist a requester in the identification and location of the record or records sought. Records will not be withheld merely because it is difficult to find them.

(c) When a request is received at an office not having charge of the records, it shall promptly forward the request to the proper office and notify the requester of the action taken.

§ 1608.8 Request for information not authorized to be disclosed.

Whenever an employee receives a request for information or documents the disclosure of which is not clearly authorized by the provisions of this part that request will be immediately reported by telephone to the General Counsel, Selective Service System, for instruction as to its disposition.

§ 1608.9 Review of denials of requests for information.

(a) Complaints concerning possible abuse of discretion granted Selective Service employees under this part or failure to respond to inquiries shall be directed to the state director in the case of state headquarters or local board employees and to the Director in the case of National Headquarters employees.

(b) A requester whose request for information or documents has not been satisfied may appeal to the Director of Selective Service, 1724 F Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20435.

PROTECTION OF PRIVACY

§ 1608.10 Protection of privacy procedure—Purpose and scope.

(a) The purpose of this subpart is to provide that records of the Selective Service System are maintained as required by the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 (P.L. 93–579). The provisions hereof extend to records and systems of records defined in that Act as being subject thereto.

(b) The Selective Service System will not disclose any record in a system of records pertaining to an individual maintained by the Selective Service System except (1) pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 (P.L. 93–579), 5 U.S.C. 552a, and (2) the provisions of this subpart.

§ 1608.11 Procedure for requests pertaining to an individual record in a system.

A request by an individual that he be informed if a system of records named by him contains a record pertaining to him should be directed to the Selective Service System office responsible for maintaining such system of records. If the request is not directed to the proper office, it will be referred by the office which receives such request to the proper office of the Selective Service System. Such office will promptly ascertain if the system of records named by the individual making the request contains a record pertaining to such individual and, thereafter, promptly inform the requester in writing of the existence or nonexistence of such record.

§ 1608.12 Times, place and requirements for identification of individuals making requests.

An individual requesting a record or information pertaining to him must make such request orally or in writing during business hours at the Selective Service System office where such record is maintained. The requester shall submit appropriate evidence to the employee responsible for maintaining such record sufficient to identify the requester as the individual to whom the requested record or information pertains. If the requester is a registrant, he should provide his Selective Service Number or date and place of registration if such number is for some reason unavailable.

§ 1608.13 Disclosure of requested information to individuals.

(a) Information contained in records maintained on a specific individual and the records pertaining to such individual may be disclosed or furnished to or examined, without charge, by the individual concerned, and any person having current written authority dated and signed by the individual concerned.

(b) A copy or copies of such records will be provided to the individuals to whom the records pertain, and to any other requester referred to in (a) above upon payment of the fees prescribed in Section 1608.22 of this part.

§ 1608.14 Special procedure—medical records. [Reserved]

§ 1608.15 Request for correction or amendment to record.

An individual shall be permitted to request amendment of a record pertaining to him and such record shall be amended as hereinafter provided. A request for amendment of a record shall be made in writing to the employee responsible for maintaining such record or information. Receipt of such request will be acknowledged in writing to the requester not later than 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal public holidays) after the date of the receipt of such request. Unless it is determined that the request for amendment should be refused, the responsible employee will promptly accomplish the amendment of the record or information by placing in the file the documentation submitted to support the amendment requested and taking appropriate action for the corresponding amendment of all records derived from such file. The requester will be notified of the action for amendment of his record. Notification of the amendment will be made to any known agency or person who had been furnished information from the record prior to its amendment.

§ 1608.16 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of record.

If for any reason it is determined that a request for amendment of a record or records must be refused, the individual making the request will be notified of the refusal, of the reason for such refusal; and the procedures established for the individual to request a review of the refusal by the officer designated by the Director of Selective Service for such review and the name and business address of that officer.

§ 1608.17 Appeal of initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment.

(a) An initial determination to refuse to amend a local board or state record may be appealed in writing by the individual making the request for amendment to the State Director of Selective Service having supervision over the employee who made such determination. An initial determination to refuse to amend a National Headquarters record may be appealed in writing to the National Headquarters Division Manager having responsibility for supervision of such records.

(b) If after review the State Director or National Headquarters Division Manager concerned also refuses to amend the record, the individual making the request will be permitted to file a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his disagreement with the refusal. After such statement has been filed, the request and all relevant documentation will be forwarded promptly for final review to the Director of Selective Service whose decision will be the final action of the Selective Service System.

§ 1608.18 Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains.

Information contained in records in a registrant's file and records pertaining to a specific individual may be disclosed or furnished to, or examined by, the following:

(a) Any person or other agency upon submission to the employee responsible for the system of records of the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains. The consent authorization must bear a current date and the signature of the individual concerned.

(b) All personnel of the Selective Service System while engaged in carrying out the functions of the Selective Service System who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties.

(c) In the case of registrants, a U.S. Attorney and his duly authorized representatives, including agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, whenever the registrant has been reported to the U.S. Attorney as a violator for prosecution for violating the Military Selective Service Act or the rules, regulations, or directions made pursuant thereto.

(d) Any other agency, official, or employee, or class or group of officials or employees of the United States upon written request in individual cases, but only when and to the extent specifically authorized in writing by the Director of Selective Service.

V 4 2 1 8 2 SEP 20 77 UMI

(e) No information shall be disclosed or furnished to, or examined by, any person under the provisions of this section, until such person has been properly identified as entitled to obtain such information.

§ 1608.19 Waiver of confidential nature of information on registrants files.

The making or filing by or on behalf of a registrant of a claim or action for damages against the Government or any person, based on acts in the performance of which the record of a registrant or any part thereof was compiled, or the institution of any action against the Government, or any representative thereof by or on behalf of a registrant involving his classification, selection, or induction, shall constitute a waiver of the confidential nature of all Selective Service records of such registrant, and, in addition, all such records shall be produced in response to the subpoena or summons of the tribunal in which such claim or action is pending.

§ 1608.20 Subpoena of records.

(a) In the prosecution of a registrant or any other person for a violation of the Military Selective Service Act, the Selective Service Regulations, any orders or directions made pursuant to such act or regulations, or for perjury, all records of the registrant shall be produced in response to the subpoena or summons of the court in which such production or proceeding is pending. Any officer or employee of the Selective Service System who produces the records of a registrant in court shall be considered the custodian of such records for the purpose of this section.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, no officer or employee of the Selective Service System shall produce a registrant's file, or any part thereof, or testify regarding any confidential information contained therein, in response to the subpoena or summons of any court without the consent, in writing, of the registrant concerned or of the Director of Selective Service.

(c) Whenever, under the provisions of this section, a registrant's file, or any part thereof, is produced as evidence in the proceedings of any court, such file shall remain in the personal custody of an official of the Selective Service System, and permission of the court be asked, after tender of the original file, to substitute a copy of the file with the court.

§ 1608.21 Demands of courts or other authorities for records or information protected by these regulations.

No officer or employee of the Selective Service System will comply with a request, demand or order of a court or other authority to produce information the disclosure of which is prohibited or restricted by the provisions of this part without the prior approval of the Director of Selective Service.

§ 1608.22 Fees.

Fees for copies of records are the following:

(a) Search of records is made by compensated employees of the Selective Service System without charge.

(b) The charge for copies of documents and records prepared on Selective Service System equipment is 25 cents per page.

(c) Copies will not be released to any requester until the required fee is paid in full by cash, check or money order. Checks and money orders should be made payable to the Selective Service System.

(d) Documents will be furnished without charge or at a reduced charge where it is determined that the waiver or reduction of the fee is in the public interest because furnishing the information can be considered as primarily benefiting the general public.

(e) Where a registrant has been charged under the Military Selective Service Act and must defend himself in a criminal prosecution, or where a registrant submits to induction and thereafter brings habeas corpus proceedings to test the validity of his induction, the Selective Service System will furnish to him, or to any person he may designate, one copy of his Selective Service file free of charge.

603.3 Policy.
603.4 Requests for determination of existence of records.
603.5 Requests for disclosure to an individual of records pertaining to him.
603.6 Requests for amendment of records.
603.7 Appeals from denials of requests to amend.
603.8 Exemptions.
603.9 New and amended systems of records.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 301; 5 U.S.C. 552a; 5 U.S.C. 553; 22 U.S.C. 2581; and 31 U.S.C. 483a.

§ 603.1 Purpose and scope.

This Part 603 contains the regulations of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency implementing the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93–579), 5 U.S.C. 552a. In addition to containing internal policies and procedures, these regulations set forth procedures whereby an individual can determine if a system of records maintained by the Agency contains records pertaining to him and can request disclosure and amendment of such records. These regulations also set forth the basis for denying amendment requests and the procedures for appealing such denials.

§ 603.2 Definitions.

As used in this part:

(a) "Act" means the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93–579), 5 U.S.C. 552a.

(b) "ACDA" and "Agency" mean the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

(c) "Privacy Act Officer" means the Agency official authorized to receive and act upon inquiries, requests for access and requests for amendment.

(d) "Director" means the Director of the Agency or his duly authorized representative (other than the Privacy Act Officer).

(e) "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(f) "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use, or disseminate;

(g) "record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by an agency, including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history, and criminal or employment history and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph;

(h) "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of any agency from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual;

(i) "statistical record" means a record in a system of records maintained for statistical research or reporting purposes only and not used in whole or in part in making any determination about an identifiable individual, except as provided by section 8 of Title 13; and

(j) "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 603.3 Policy.

(a) It is the policy of the Agency that only such information about an individual as is relevant and necessary to accomplish a purpose of the Agency required to be accomplished by statute or by executive order of the President shall be maintained in an Agency record. No information about the political or religious beliefs and activities of an individual will be maintained within such records unless specifically authorized by statute or by the subject individual, or unless pertinent to and within the scope of a law enforcement activity.

(b) The Agency will not disclose any record which is contained in a system of records to any person or to another agency, except pursuant to a written request by, or with the prior written consent of, the individual to whom the record pertains, unless disclosure of the record is:

(1) to those officers and employees of the Agency who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties;

(2) required under the Freedom of Information Act, as amended (5 U.S.C. 552);

(3) for a routine use, notice of which has been published in accordance with the Act;

(4) to the Bureau of the Census for purposes of planning or carrying out a census or survey or related activity pursuant to the provisions of Title 13 of the United States Code;

(5) to a recipient who has provided the agency with advance adequate written assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical research or reporting record, and the record is to be transferred in a form that is not individually identifiable;

(6) to the National Archives of the United States as a record which has sufficient historical or other value to warrant its continued preservation by the United States Government, or for evaluation by the Administrator of General Services or his designee to determine whether the record has such value;

(7) to another agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under the control of the United States for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity if the activity is authorized by law, and if the head of the agency or instrumentality has made a written request to the agency which maintains the record specifying the particular portion desired and the law enforcement activity for which the record is sought;

(8) to a person pursuant to a showing of compelling circumstances affecting the health or safety of an individual if upon such disclosure notification is transmitted to the last known address of such individual;

(9) To either House of Congress, or, to the extent of matter within its jurisdiction, any committee or subcommittee thereof, any joint committee of Congress or subcommittee of any such joint committee;

(10) To the Comptroller General, or any of his authorized representatives, in the course of the performance of the duties of the General Accounting Office; or

(11) Pursuant to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) Except for disclosures of information to Agency employees having need for the information in the official performance of their duties or required under the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act, an accurate accounting of each disclosure will be made and retained for five years after the disclosure or for the life of the record whichever is longer. The accounting will include the date, nature, and purpose of each disclosure and the name and address of the person or agency to whom the disclosure is made. Each such disclosure, unless made to agencies engaged in law enforcement activities in accordance with paragraph (b)(7) of this section, will be made available to the individual upon request.

(d) To the greatest extent practicable, information which may result in an adverse determination about an individual shall be collected from that individual, and he will be informed of the purposes for which the information will be used and his rights, benefits, and obligations with respect to supplying the data.

(e) The Executive Officer of ACDA and each custodian of a systems of records shall ensure that all records which are used by the Agency to make a determination about any individual are maintained with such accuracy, relevance, timeliness and completeness as is reasonably necessary to assure fairness to the individual. Whenever information about an individual contained in an Agency record is used or disclosed the custodian of the system of records in which the record is located will make every effort to assure that it is accurate, relevant, timely and complete.

(f) The Executive Officer of ACDA shall establish appropriate administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to ensure that records are disclosed only to those who are authorized to have access to them and to protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to their security or integrity which would result in substantial harm, embarrassement, inconvenience, or unfairness to any individual on whom information is maintained.

(g) Agency records pertaining to an individual shall be made available to that individual to the greatest extent possible.

(h) No lists of names and addresses will be rented or sold unless such action is specifically authorized by law, provided that names and addresses otherwise permitted to be made public will not necessarily be withheld when requested.

(i) All requests for information under the Privacy Act received by the Agency will be acted upon as promptly as possible. Whenever practicable a response or an acknowledgment of the request will be sent within ten days.

§ 603.4 Requests for determination of existence of records.

Any individual desiring to know whether any system of records maintained by the Agency contains a record pertaining to him shall either send a written request to the Privacy Act Officer, U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, Room 5725, Department of State Building, 320 21st Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20451, or make an oral request in person during the Agency's normal business hours at the Agency Library located in Room 804, State Annex 6, 1700 North Lynn Street, Rosslyn, Virginia. All requests for determination of the existence of records should include sufficient information to identify the system of records, such as its name or FEDERAL REGISTER identifier number if known, in addition to such identifying information as the individual's name and date of birth.

§ 603.5 Requests for disclosure to an individual of records pertaining to him.

(a) An individual desiring access to or copies of records maintained by the Agency shall either send a written request to the Privacy Act Officer, U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, Room 5725, Department of State Building, 320 21st Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20451, or make an oral request in person during the Agency's normal business hours, at the Agency Library, located in Room 804, State Annex 6, 1700 North Lynn Street, Rosslyn, Virginia. All requests for disclosure to an individual of records pertaining to him should include sufficient information to identify the record or system of records such as its name or FEDERAL REGISTER identifier number if known, in addition to such identifying information as the individual's name and date of birth.

(b)(1) Except as provided in paragraph (b)(2) of this section:

(i) If the individual making a written request is not personally known to the Privacy Act Officer or to other Agency personnel processing the request, the written request must include satisfactory evidence that the requester is in fact the individual to whom the requested records pertain. For this purpose, the Agency normally will be satisfied by the receipt of the requester's oath or attestation stipulating such facts, legally certified. Such requests must also include a statement signed by the requester declaring that he understands that it is a criminal offense to knowingly or willfully seek or obtain access, under false pretenses, to Agency records pertaining to another individual.

(ii) If the individual making a request in person is not personally known to the Privacy Act Officer or to other Agency personnel processing the request, the requester must present two identification documents (at least one of which must bear his picture) containing his signature and other suitable evidence of identity. Examples of acceptable documents are a driver's license, passport, employee identification card, or military identification card.

(2) Evidence that the requester is in fact the individual to whom the requested records pertain is not required for information which would be required to be made available to a third party under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552).

(c)(1) Access to or copies of records requested pursuant to this section shall be furnished except as provided in paragraph (c)(3) of this section.

(i) To an individual making a request in person, upon verification of personal identity as required in paragraph (b) of this section, to that individual, and if the individual is accompanied by any other person, upon his request, to that person, except that the Agency may require the individual to furnish a written statement authorizing disclosure of the individual's record in the presence of the accompanying person.

(ii) To an authorized representative or designee of an individual, if the individual has provided verification of personal identity as required in paragraph (b) of this section, and submits a signed, notarized statement authorizing and consenting to access or disclosure to the representative or designee.

(iii) To a physician authorized by a signed, notarized statement made by the individual making the request, in the event that the records requested are medical records of such a nature that the Privacy Act Officer has determined that the release of such medical information directly to the requester could have an adverse effect on the requester. The individual making the request must also provide verification of personal identity as required in paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) Access to records or copies of records requested shall be furnished as promptly as possible; however:

(i) Any individual making a request in person is advised that not all records are stored at the Agency Library and that there may be a delay of more than one day before requested records are assembled and access or copies can be provided.

(ii) any individual making a request by mail is advised that while an initial acknowledgment of the request will be made in ten working days and in normal circumstances a full reply will be provided in ten working days, in unusual circumstances the full reply may take a longer period.

(3) Access to or copies of records requested pursuant to this section shall not be granted if:

(i) The individual making the request does not comply with the requirements for verification of personal identity as required in paragraph (b) of this section.

(ii) The records are exempt from disclosure pursuant to § 603.8.

(iii) Payment of fees, computed at a rate which permits recovery by the Agency of the costs incurred in making such copies, has not been received by the Agency before the copies are furnished. Unless otherwise provided by statutory or regulatory authority, the fee required by this paragraph shall be computed at a rate of $0.10 per copied page. A fee of $1.00 shall be charged for certification of a record as a true copy. No copying fee will be charged if the Agency provides a copy in lieu of granting access to the record to an individual making a request in person, and no fees will be charged for search for and review of a record. Fees of less than one dollar shall be waived, but copying fees for contemporaneous requests by the same individual shall be aggregated. Remittances may be in the form of cash, a personal check or bank draft drawn on a bank in the United States, or a postal money order. Remittances shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States and mailed or delivered to the Privacy Act Officer, U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, Room 5725, Department of State Building, 320 21st Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20451.

§ 603.6 Requests for amendment of records.

(a) An individual may request amendment of a record pertaining to him by sending a written request to the Privacy Act Officer, U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, Room 5725, Department of State Building, 320 21st Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20451. The request should identify the record sought to be amended, specify the precise nature of the requested amendment, and state why the requester believes that the record is not accurate, relevant, timely or complete.

(b) Not later than 10 days after receipt of such request (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays), the Privacy Act Officer will acknowledge such receipt and promptly:

(1) Make any correction of any portion of the record pertaining to the individual which the Agency considers appropriate; and

(2) Inform the requester in writing of the action taken by the Agency, of the reason for refusing to comply with any portion of the request, and of the procedures established by the Agency to consider requests for review of such refusals.

(c) The Privacy Act Officer shall refuse to amend a record if the information therein is deemed by the Agency:

(1) To be relevant and necessary to accomplish a purpose of the Agency required to be accomplished by statute or by executive order of the President; and

(2) To be maintained with such accuracy, relevance, timeliness and completeness as is reasonably necessary to assure fairness to the individual in making any determination about him; and

(3) Not to describe how the individual exercises rights guaranteed by the First Amendment unless expressly authorized by statute or by the individual about whom the record is maintained.

(d) When the Privacy Act Officer agrees to amend a record, written notice that the record has been amended and the substance of the amendment will be sent to the last known address of all previous recipients of that record shown in the Agency's Privacy Act Requests File.

§ 603.7 Appeals from denials of requests to amend.

(a) An individual who disagrees with the refusal of the Privacy Act Officer to amend his record may request a review of such refusal within 30 days of receipt of notice of the refusal. Such request should be addressed to the Director, U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, Room 5930, Department of State Building, 320 21st Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20451, and should include a copy of the written request which was refused, a copy of the denial complained of, and reasons for appeal from the denial.

(b) Review shall be made on the submitted record. No personal appearance, oral argument, or hearing shall be permitted.

(c) Review shall be completed and a final determination made not later than 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays) from the date on which the request for such review is received. This 30-day limitation may be extended, at the discretion of the Director, for kood cause shown. The requester shall be notified in writing of the Director's final determination.

(d) If, after completion of his review, the Director also refuses to amend the record as requested, the notice to the individual shall advise him of his right to file with the Agency a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his disagreement with this refusal and of his right to judicial review pursuant to the Act.

(e) When an individual has filed with the Agency a statement of disagreement following a refusal of the Director to amend the record as requested, the Agency will clearly note that portion of the record which is disputed and will send copies of the statement of disagreement to the last known address of all previous recipients of the disputed record shown in the Agency's Privacy Act Requests File.

§ 603.8 Exemptions.

(a) As authorized by the Act, the following categories of records are hereby exempted from the requirements of sections (c)(3), (d), (e)(4)(G), (H) and (I), and (f) of 5 U.S.C. 552a, and will not be disclosed to the individuals to which they pertain:

(1) System of Records of ACDA-4—Statements by Principals during the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, Mutual Balanced Force Reduction negotiations, and the Standing Consultative Committee. This system contains information classified pursuant to Executive Order 11652 which is exempt from disclosure by the Act (5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(1)) in that disclosure could disrupt foreign relations affecting national security.

(2) System of Records ACDA-3—Security Records. This system contains investigatory material compiled for law enforcement purposes which is exempted from disclosures by the Act (5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(2)); Provided, however, That if any individual is denied any right, privilege, or benefit that he would otherwise be entitled by Federal law, or for which he would otherwise be eligible, as a result of the maintenance of such material, such material shall be provided to such individual, except to the extent that the disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of a source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence, or, if furnished to the Government prior to September 27, 1975, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence.

(3) Systems of Records ACDA-3—Security Records. This system contains investigatory materials compiled solely for the purpose of determining suitability, eligibility, or qualifications for Federal civilian employment, military service, Federal contracts, or access to classified information which is exempt from disclosure by the Act (5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(5)), but only to the extent that this disclosure of such material would reveal the identity of a source who furnished information to the Government under an express promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence, or, if furnished to the Government prior to September 27, 1975, under an implied promise that the identity of the source would be held in confidence.

(b) Nothing in these regulations shall be construed to allow an individual access to:

(1) Any information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil action or proceeding; or

(2) Testing or examination material used solely to determine individual qualification for appointment or promotion in the Federal Service, the disclosure of which would compromise the objectivity or fairness of the testing or examination process.

§ 603.9 New and amended systems of records.

(a) The Agency shall provide adequate advance notice to Congress and to the Office of Management and Budget of any proposal to establish or alter any system of records. Such notice shall be in a form consistent with guidance on content, format and timing issued by the Office of Management and Budget.

(b) The Agency shall publish by August 31 of each year in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice of the existence and character of each system of records maintained by the Agency. Such notice shall be consistent with guidance on format contained in the Act and issued by the General Services Administration. At least 30 days before any new or changed routine use of records contained within a system of records can be made, the Agency shall publish notice of such new or changed use in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

CHAPTER II—U.S. RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

PART 200—PROCEDURES AND FORMS

§ 200.4 Protection of privacy of records maintained on individuals.

(a) Purpose and scope. The purpose of this section is to establish specific procedures necessary for compliance with the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. Law 93-579). These regulations apply to all record systems containing information of a personal or private nature maintained by the Railroad Retirement Board that are indexed and retrieved by personal identifier.

(b) Definitions—(1) Individual. The term "individual" pertains to a natural person who is a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence and not to a company or corporation.

(2) System of records. For the purposes of this section, the term "system of records" pertains to only those records that can be retrieved by an individual identifier.

(3) Railroad Retirement Board. For purposes of this section, the term "Railroad Retirement Board" refers to the United States Railroad Retirement Board, an independent agency in the executive branch of the United States Government.

(4) Board. For purposes of this section the term "Board" refers to the three member governing body of the United States Railroad Retirement Board.

(c) Procedure for requesting the existence of personally identifiable records in a record system. An individual can determine if a particular record system maintained by the Railroad Retirement Board contains any record pertaining to him by submitting a written request for such information to the system manager of that record system as described in the annual notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A current copy of the system notices, published in accordance with paragraph (i) of this section, is available for inspection at all regional and district offices of the Board. If necessary, Board personnel will aid requesters in determining what system(s) of records they wish to review and will forward any requests for information to the appropriate system manager. Also, requests for personal information may be submitted either by mail or in person to the system manager at the headquarters of the Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611. Prior to responding to a request for information under this subsection, the system manager shall require the individual requesting such information to provide identifying data, such as his full name, date of birth, and social security number. The system manager shall respond to a request under this subsection within a reasonable time by stating that a record on the individual either is or is not contained in the system.

(d) Disclosure of requested information to individuals. (1) Upon request, an individual shall be granted access to records pertaining to himself, other than medical records and records compiled in anticipation of a civil or criminal action or proceeding against him, which are indexed by individual identifier in a particular system of records. Requests for access must be in writing and should be addressed to the system manager of that record system as described in the annual notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Requests under this subsection may be submitted either by mail or in person at the headquarters offices of the Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

(2) The system manager shall, within ten working days following the date on which the request is received in his office, render a decision either granting or denying access and shall promptly notify the individual of his decision. If the request is denied, the notification shall inform the individual of his right to appeal the denial to the Board. An individual whose request for access under this subsection has been denied by the system manager may appeal that determination to the Board by filing a written appeal with the Secretary of the Board, Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611 within twenty working days following receipt of the notice of denial. The Board shall render a decision on an appeal within thirty working days following the date on which the appeal is received in the office of the Secretary of the Board. The individual shall promptly be notified of the Board's decision.

(3) In cases where an individual has been granted access to his records, the system manager shall, prior to releasing such records, require the individual to produce identifying data such as his name, date of birth, and social security number.

(4) Disclosure to an individual of his record may be made by providing him, upon written request therefor, a copy of the record or portion thereof which he reasonably describes in his request.

(5) An individual, and if such individual so desires, one other person of his choosing, may review and have a copy made of his record (in a form comprehensible to him) during regular business hours at the location described as the repository of the record system containing such records in the annual notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER or at such other location convenient to the individual as specified by the system manager. If an individual is accompanied by another person, the system manager may require written authorizations for disclosure in the presence of the other person from the individual before any record or portion thereof is released.

(e) Special procedures—medical records. (1) Upon receipt of a request made by an individual for access to medical records pertaining to him maintained by the Railroad Retirement Board, the system manager of the system of records containing the medical records in question shall, within ten working days following the date on which the request is received in his office, respond to such request as follows:

(i) If the system manager has received a written authorization from the physician or practitioner who supplied a particular medical record permitting the individual access to that record, the system manager shall grant the individual access to such record as provided under paragraph (d) of this section; or

(ii) If the system manager has not received a written authorization from the physician or practitioner who supplied a particular medical record permitting the individual access to that record, the system manager shall notify the individual that access to the record cannot be granted without such consent, and he shall further inform the individual of the name and address of the physician or practitioner who supplied the record.

(2) If the physician or practitioner who supplied a particular medical record should need to examine the record in order to determine whether disclosure of the record might be harmful to the individual, the system manager shall inform the individual that the physician or practitioner has requested the record and shall furnish the record or a copy thereof to the physician or practitioner.

(3) If the physician or practitioner who supplied a particular medical record is unavailable to give his authorization for access to that record, the system manager shall inform the individual who requested access that the record may be made available to a physician named by the individual for the purpose of making a determination as to whether disclosure of the record to the individual might be harmful to the individual and as to whether access to the record should be denied for that reason.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph and of paragraph (d) of this section, if a determination made with respect to an individual's claim for benefits under the Railroad Retirement Act or the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act is based in whole or in part on medical records, disclosure of or access to such medical records shall be granted to such individual when such records are requested for the purpose of contesting such determination either administratively or judicially.

(5) The procedures for access to medical records set forth in this paragraph shall not apply with respect to requests for access to an individual's disability decision sheet or similar adjudicatory documents, access to which is governed solely by paragraph (d) of this section.

(f) Request for amendment of a record. (1) An individual may request that a record pertaining to himself be amended by submitting a written request for such amendment to the system manager as described in the annual notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Requests under this subsection may be made either by mail or in person at the headquarters offices of the Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611. Such a request should include a statement of the information in the record which the individual believes is incorrect, a statement of any information not in the record which the individual believes would correct the record, if included, and a statement of any evidence which substantiates the individual's belief concerning the inaccuracy of the information presently contained in the record.

(2) Prior to rendering a determination in response to a request under this subsection, the system manager shall require that the individual provide identifying data such as his name, date of birth, and social security number.

(3) The system manager responsible for the system of records which contains the challenged record shall acknowledge receipt of the request in writing within ten working days following the date on which the request for amendment was received in his office and shall promptly render a decision either granting or denying the request.

(i) If the system manager grants the individual's request to amend his record, the system manager shall amend the record accordingly, advise the individual in writing that the requested amendment has been made and where an accounting of disclosures has been made, advise all previous recipients of the record to whom disclosure of such record was made and accounted for of the fact that the amendment was made and the substance of the amendment.

(ii) If the system manager denies the individual's request to amend his record, the system manager shall inform the individual that the request has been denied in whole or in part, the reason for the denial and the procedure regarding the individual's right to appeal the denial to the Board.

(g) Appeal of initial adverse determination on amendment. (1) An individual, whose request for amendment of a record pertaining to him is denied, may appeal that determination to the Board by filing a written appeal with the Secretary of the Board, Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Illinois 60611. The written notice of appeal should include a statement of the information in the record which the individual believes is correct, a statement of any information not in the record which the individual believes would correct the record, if included, and a statement of any evidence which substantiates the individual's belief concerning the inaccuracy of the information presently contained in the record.

(2) The Board shall consider the appeal and render a final decision thereon within thirty working days following the date on which the appeal is received in the office of the Secretary of the Board. An extension of the thirty day response period is permitted for a good cause upon notification of such to the requester.

(3) If, upon consideration of the appeal, the Board upholds the denial, the appellant shall be so informed in writing. The appellant shall be advised that he may file a concise statement with the Board setting forth his reasons for disagreeing with the Board's decision and the procedures to be followed in filing such a statement of disagreement. The individual shall also be informed of his right to judicial review as provided under section 552a(g)(1)(A) of Title 5 of the United States Code. If disclosure has or will be made of a record containing information about which an individual has filed a statement of disagreement, that contested information will be annotated and a copy of the statement of disagreement will be provided to past and future recipients of the information along with which the Board may include a statement of its reasons for not amending the record in question.

(4) If, upon consideration of the appeal, the Board reverses the denial, the Board shall amend the record, advise the appellant in writing that such amendment has been made, and where an accounting of disclosures has been made, advise all previous recipients of the record to whom disclosure of such was made and accounted for, of the fact that the amendment was made and the substance of the amendment.

(h) Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains. (1) Records collected and maintained by the Railroad Retirement Board in the administration of the Railroad Retirement Act and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act which contain information of a personal or private nature shall not be disclosed to any person or to another agency without the express written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains. Such written consent shall not be required if the disclosure is not otherwise prohibited by law or regulation and is:

(i) To officers or employees of the Railroad Retirement Board who, in the performance of their official duties, have a need for the record;

(ii) Required under section 552 of Title 5 of the United States Code;

(iii) For a routine use of such record as published in the annual notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER;

(iv) To the Bureau of the Census for uses pursuant to the provisions of Title 13 of the United States Code;

(v) To a recipient who has provided the Board with advance written assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical or research record, and the record is to be transferred in a form that is not individually identifiable;

(vi) To the National Archives of the United States as a record which has sufficient historical or other value to warrant its continued preservation by the United States Government or for evaluation by the Administrator of General Services or his designee to determine whether the record has such value;

(vii) To another agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under the control of the United States for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity if the activity is authorized by law, and if the head of the agency or instrumentality has made a written request to the agency which maintains the record specifying the particular portion desired and the law enforcement activity for which the record is sought;

(viii) To a person pursuant to a showing of compelling circumstances affecting the health or safety of an individual if, upon such disclosure, notification is transmitted to the last known address of such individual;

(ix) To either House of Congress, or, to the extent of matter within its jurisdiction, any committee or subcommittee thereof, any joint committee of Congress or subcommittee of any such joint committee;

(x) To the Comptroller General, or any of his authorized representatives, in the course of the performance of the duties of the General Accounting Office; or

(xi) Pursuant to the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) The Railroad Retirement Board shall maintain an accounting of all disclosures of records made under paragraph (h)(1) of this section, except those made under paragraphs (h)(1)(i) and (ii) of this section. This accounting will include:

(i) Date of disclosure;

(ii) Specific subject matter of disclosure;

(iii) Purpose of disclosure; and

(iv) Name and address of the person or agency to whom the information has been released.

The Railroad Retirement Board shall maintain the accounting for five years or the life of the system of records, whichever is longer, and make such accounting, with the exception of disclosures made under paragraph (h)(1)(vii) of this section, available to the individual to whom the record pertains upon his request. If, subsequent to disclosure of a record for which disclosure an accounting has been made pursuant to this subsection, an amendment is made to that record or an individual has filed a statement of disagreement concerning that record, the person or agency to whom such disclosure was made shall be notified of the amendment or statement of disagreement.

(i) Annual notice of systems of records. The Railroad Retirement Board shall publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER on an annual basis a listing of the various systems of records which it maintains by individual identifier. That notice shall provide the following for each system:

(1) The name and location of the system;

(2) The categories of individuals on whom records are maintained in the system;

(3) The routine uses of the system;

(4) The methods of storage, disposal, retention, access controls and retrievability of the system;

(5) The title and business address of the individual who is responsible for the system;

(6) The procedure whereby an individual can be notified at his request whether or not the system contains a record pertaining to him;

V42182 SEP 20 77 UMI

(7) The procedure whereby the individual can be notified at his request how he can gain access to any record pertaining to him which is contained in the system;

(8) How the individual can contest the contents of such a record; and

(9) The categories of sources of records in the system.

(j) Collection of information and maintenance of records. With respect to each system of records indexed by individual identifier which is maintained by the Railroad Retirement Board, the Railroad Retirement Board shall:

(1) Maintain in each system only such information about an individual as is relevant and necessary in accomplishing the purposes for which the system is kept;

(2) To the greatest extent practicable, collect information directly from the individual when that information may result in an adverse determination about such individual's rights, benefits or privileges under programs administered by the Railroad Retirement Board;

(3) Inform each individual who is asked to supply information:

(i) The authority under which the solicitation of such information is carried out;

(ii) Whether disclosure of the requested information is mandatory or voluntary and any penalties for failure to furnish such information;

(iii) The principal purposes for which the information will be used;

(iv) The routine uses and transfers of such information; and

(v) The possible effects on such individual if he fails to provide the requested information.

(4) Maintain all records which are used by the Railroad Retirement Board in making any determination about any individual with such accuracy, relevance, timeliness and completeness as is reasonably necessary to assure fairness to the individual in the determination;

(5) Prior to disseminating any record about an individual to any person other than an agency, unless the dissemination is made pursuant to paragraph (h)(1)(ii) of this section, make reasonable efforts to assure that such records are accurate, complete, timely and relevant for purposes of the administration of the Railroad Retirement Act and the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act;

(6) Maintain no record describing how any individual exercises rights guaranteed by the First Amendment unless expressly authorized by statute or by the individual to whom the record pertains or unless pertinent to and within the scope of an authorized law enforcement activity;

(7) Make reasonable efforts to serve notice on an individual when any record on such individual is made available to any person under compulsory legal process when such process becomes a matter of public record; and

(8) At least thirty days prior to publication of information under paragraph (i) of this section, publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER notice of any new use or intended use of the information in the system and provide an opportunity for interested persons to submit written data, views or arguments to the Railroad Retirement Board.

(k) Fees. The Railroad Retirement Board may assess a fee for copies of any records furnished to an individual under paragraph (d) of this section. The fees for copies shall be $.10 per copy per page, not to exceed the actual cost of reproduction, and should be paid to the Director of Budget and Fiscal Operations for deposit to the Railroad Retirement Account. If payment is made by check, the check should be payable to the order of the Railroad Retirement Board. Any fee of less than $10 may be waived by the system manager if he determines that it is in the public interest to do so.

(l) Government contractors. When the Railroad Retirement Board provides by a contract or by a subcontract subject to its approval for the operation by or on behalf of the Railroad Retirement Board of a system of records to accomplish an agency function, the Railroad Retirement Board shall, consistent with its authority, cause the requirements of § 552a of Title 5 of the United States Code to be applied to such system. In each such contract or subcontract for the operation of a system of records, entered into on or after September 27, 1975, the Railroad Retirement Board shall cause to be included a provision stating that the contractors or subcontractors and their employees shall be considered employees of the Railroad Retirement Board for purposes of the civil and criminal penalties provided in sections (g) and (i) of the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a (g) and (i)).

(m) Mailing lists. The Railroad Retirement Board shall neither sell nor rent information containing any individual's name or address, unless authorized by statute.

(n) Disclosure of social security account numbers. Whenever an individual is requested by the Railroad Retirement Board to disclose his social security account number he shall be informed as to whether such disclosure is mandatory or voluntary. If disclosure of the individual's social security account number is mandatory, he shall be informed of the statutory authority requiring such disclosure.

Subpart E—Protection of Privacy

§ 701.300 Purpose and scope.

(a) The purpose of this subpart is to set forth rules to inform the public about information maintained by the U.S. Water Resources Council relating to identifiable individuals and to inform those individuals how they may gain access to and correct or amend information about themselves.

(b) The regulations in this subpart implement the requirements of the Privacy Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93–579; 88 Stat. 1896 (5 U.S.C. 552a)).

(c) The regulations in this subpart apply only to records disclosed or requested under the Privacy Act of 1974, and not requests for information made pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, as amended (5 U.S.C. 552, as amended by Pub. L. 93–502).

§ 701.301 Definitions.

For the purposes of this subpart, unless otherwise required by the context:

(a) "Council" means the U.S. Water Resources Council;

(b) "Individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;

(c) "Maintain" means maintain, collect, use or disseminate;

(d) "Record" means any item, collection, or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Council, including, but not limited to, his education, financial transactions, medical history and criminal or employment history, and that contains his name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as a finger or voice print or a photograph;

(e) "Adverse determination" means a decision by the proper Council official to deny, in whole or in part, a request from an individual for a correction or amendment of a record concerning the individual and maintained by the Council; and,

(f) "Record system" means "system of records" as defined in the Act, i.e., a group of any records under the control of the Council from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying particular assigned to the individual.

§ 701.302 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

(a) The systems of records, as defined in the Privacy Act of 1974, maintained by the Council are listed annually in the FEDERAL REGISTER as required by that Act. Any individual may request the Council to inform him or her whether a particular record system named by the individual contains a record pertaining to him or her. The request may be made in person during business hours or in writing at the location and to the person specified in the notice describing that record system.

(b) An individual who believes that the Council maintains records pertaining to him or her but who cannot determine which records system contains those records, may request assistance by mail or in person at the Division of Program Coordination and Management, 2120 L Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20037, during business hours (8:00 a.m. through 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding legal holidays).

(c) The Council will attempt to respond to a request as to whether a record exists within 10 working days from the time it receives the request or to inform the requestor of the need for additional time or additional information within 10 working days. If a request is complied with within 10 working days, no separate acknowledgment will be made.

§ 701.303 Conditions of disclosure.

(a) Subject to the conditions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the Council will not disclose any record which is contained in a system of records, by any means of communication to any person who is not an individual to whom the record pertains.

(b) Upon written request or with prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains, the Council may disclose any such record to any person or other agency.

(c) In the absence of a written consent from the individual to whom the record pertains, the Council may disclose any such record provided such disclosure is:

(1) To those officers and employees of the Council who have a need for the record in the performance of their duties;

(2) Required under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552);

(3) For a routine use compatible with the purpose for which it was collected;

(4) To the Bureau of Census for purposes of planning or carrying out a census or survey or related activity under the provisions of Title 13 of the United States Code;

(5) To a recipient who has provided the Council with adequate advance written assurance that the record will be used solely as a statistical research or reporting record, and the record is to be transferred in a form that is not individually identifiable;

(6) To the National Archives of the United States as a record which has sufficient historical or other value to warrant its continued preservation by the United States government, or for evaluation by the Administrator of General Services or his designee to determine whether the record has such value;

(7) To another agency or to an instrumentality of any governmental jurisdiction within or under the control of the United States for a civil or criminal law enforcement activity authorized by law: Provided, The head of the agency or instrumentality has made a prior written request to the Assistant Director Program Coordination and Management specifying the particular record and the law enforcement activity for which it is sought;

(8) To a person pursuant to a showing of compelling circumstance affecting the health or safety of an individual: Provided, That upon such disclosure notification is transmitted to the last known address of such individual (and see § 701.306);

(9) To either House of Congress, and to the extent of a matter within its jurisdiction, any committee or subcommittee, or joint committee of Congress;

(10) To the Comptroller General, or any of his authorized representatives in the course of the performance of the duties of the GAO; or

(11) Under an order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

§ 701.304 Procedures for identification of individuals making requests.

(a) Each individual requesting the disclosure of a record or copy of a record will furnish the following information with his or her request: (1) The name of the record system containing the record; (2) proof as described in paragraph (b) of this section that he or she is the individual to whom the requested record relates; and (3) any other information required by the notice describing the record system.

(b) Proof of identity as required by paragraph (a)(2) of this section will be provided as described in paragraph (b)(1) and (2) of this section. Requests made by an agent, parent, or guardian will include the authorization described in § 701.310 (a) and (b).

(1) Requests made in writing will include a statement, signed by the individual and properly notarized, that he or she appeared before a notary public and submitted proof of identification in the form of a drivers license, birth certificate,

V 42 182
UMI

passport or other identification acceptable to the notary public. In any case in which, because of the extreme sensitivity of the record sought to be seen or copied, the agency determines that the identification is not adequate, it may request the individual to submit additional proof of identification.

(2) If the request is made in person, the requester will submit proof of identification similar to that described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section, acceptable to the Council.

§ 701.305 Procedures for requests for access to or disclosure of records pertaining to individuals.

(a) After being informed by the Council that a system of records contains a record pertaining to him or her, an individual may request the Council for access to or disclosure of that record to him or her in the manner described in this section. Each such request of a record or a copy of it will be made at the place specified in the notice describing that system of records, either in writing or in person. Requests may be made by agents, parents, or guardians of individuals as described in § 701.310 (a) and (b).

(b) The request for access to or disclosure of a record should specifically identify the systems of records involved.

(c) The Council will attempt to affirm or deny a request within 10 working days from the time it receives the request or to inform the requester of the need for additional time, additional information, identification, or the tendering of fees (as specified in § 701.312), within 10 working days; except that if the request for access was not preceded by a notification request as provided in § 701.302, then the 10-day period will not begin until after such time as it has been determined that the record exists. If a request is complied with within 10 working days, no separate acknowledgement will be made.

§ 701.306 Special procedure: Medical records.

(a) An individual requesting disclosure of a record which contains medical or psychological information may name a medical doctor or other person to act as his agent as described in § 701.310 (a). Records containing medical or psychological information may be disclosed to that agent rather than to the individual at the individual's request.

(b) If the individual has not named a medical doctor as agent, the Council may determine, after consultation with a medical doctor, that disclosure of the information would have an adverse effect on the requester. The Council may then disclose that information to a medical doctor specified by the individual, rather than to that individual, either in person or by mail.

§ 701.307 Request for correction or amendment to record.

(a) Any individual who has reviewed a record pertaining to him that was furnished to him under this subpart, may request the agency to correct or amend all or any part of that record.

(b) Each individual requesting a correction or amendment will send the request to the agency official who furnished the record to him.

(c) Each request for a correction or amendment of a record will contain the following information:

(1) The name of the individual requesting the correction or amendment;

(2) The name of the system of records in which the record sought to be corrected or amended is maintained;

(3) The location of that record in the system of records;

(4) A copy of the record sought to be corrected or amended or a description of that record;

(5) A statement of the material in the record requested to be corrected or amended;

(6) A statement of the specific wording of the correction or amendment sought; and

(7) A statement of the basis for the requested correction or amendment, including any material that the individual can furnish to substantiate the reasons for the correction or amendment sought.

§ 701.308 Council review of request for correction or amendment of record.

(a) Not later than 10 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) after the receipt of the request for the correction or amendment of a record under § 701.307, the Council will acknowledge receipt of the request and inform the individual whether further information is required before the correction or amendment can be considered.

(b) The Council will promptly review the request and either make the requested correction or amendment or notify the individual of the initial adverse determination, including in the notification the reasons for the adverse determination and the appeal procedure provided by § 701.309.

(c) The Assistant Director, Program Coordination and Management, or his designee, will, after consulting with the General Counsel, or his designee, have the primary authority to make an initial adverse determination.

(d) The Council will make each requested correction or amendment to a record if that correction or amendment will correct anything that is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete, within the record.

(e) If the requested correction or amendment to a record is agreed to by the Council, the Council will, within 30 working days: (1) Advise the individual; (2) correct the record accordingly; and (3) where an accounting of disclosures had been made (as provided in § 701.311), advise all previous recipients (including the individual) of the record of the fact that the correction was made and the substance of the correction.

§ 701.309 Appeal of initial adverse determination.

(a) Any individual whose request for a correction or amendment, requested by him, to a record has been denied, in whole or in part, may appeal that decision to the Director of the Council.

(b) The appeal will be in writing and will:

(1) Name the individual making the appeal;

(2) Identify the record sought to be amended;

(3) Name the record system in which that record is contained;

(4) Contain a short statement describing the amendment sought; and

(5) State the name and location of the Council official who made the initial adverse determination.

(c) Not later than 30 days (excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays) after the date on which the Council received the appeal, the Director will complete his review of the appeal and make a final decision thereon. However, for good cause shown, the Director may extend that 30 day period by not more than an additional 30 working days. If the Director so extends the period, he will promptly notify the individual requesting the review that the extension has been made and the reasons therefor.

(d) After review of an appeal request, the agency will send a written notice to the requester containing the following information:

(1) The decision and, if the denial is upheld, the reasons for the decision; and

(2) The specific civil remedies available to the requester as per section 2(g) of Pub. L. 93-579, as well as notice that additional remedies may be appropriate and available to enable the full exercise of the requester's rights at law.

(3) The right to file with the Council a concise statement setting forth the requester's reasons for disagreement with the Council's refusal to correct or amend the record.

§ 701.310 Disclosure of record to person other than the individual to whom it pertains.

(a) Any individual who desires to have a record covered by this subpart disclosed to or mailed to a person other than that individual may authorize that person to act as his agent for that specific purpose. The authorization will be in writing, signed by the individual, and will be notarized. The agent will submit with the authorization proof of the individual's identity as required by § 701.304 (b).

(b) The parent of any minor individual or the legal guardian of any individual who has been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction to be incompetent due to physical or mental incapacity or age, may act on behalf of that individual in any matter covered by this subpart. A parent or guardian who desires to act on behalf of such an individual will present suitable evidence of parentage or guardianship, by birth certificate, certified copy of a court order, or similar documents, and proof of the individual's identity in a form that complies with § 701.304(b).

(c) An individual to whom a record is to be disclosed in person pursuant to this subpart, may have a person of his own choosing accompany the individual when the record is disclosed.

701.311 Accounting for disclosures.

(a) Maintenance of an accounting. (1) Where a record is disclosed to any person, or to another agency, under any of the provisions of § 701.303 except §§ 701.303(c) (1) and (2), an accounting will be made. (2) The accounting will record (1) the date, nature, and purpose of each disclosure of a record to any person or to another agency and (ii) the name and address of the person or agency to whom the disclosure was made. (3) Accountings prepared under this section will be maintained for at least five years or the life of the record, whichever is longer, after the disclosure for which the accounting is made.

(b) Access to accounting. (1) Except for accountings of disclosures made under §§ 701.303(c) (1) and (2), accountings of all disclosures of a record will be made available to the individual to whom the record relates at his or her request. (2) An individual desiring access to accountings of disclosures of a record pertaining to him or her will submit his request by following the procedures of § 701.305.

(c) Notification of disclosure. When a record is disclosed pursuant to § 701.303 (c)(11) as the result of the order of a court of competent jurisdiction, reasonable efforts will be made to notify the individual to whom the record pertains as soon as the order becomes a matter of public record.

§ 701.312 Fees.

(a) The Council will not charge an individual for the costs of making a search for a record or the costs of reviewing the record. When the Council makes a copy of a record as a necessary part of the process of disclosing the record to an individual, the Council will not charge the individual for the cost of making that copy.

(b) If an individual requests the Council to furnish him with a copy of the record (when a copy has not otherwise been made as a necessary part of the process of disclosing the record to the individual), the Council will charge a maximum fee of $0.25 per page (maximum per page dimension of 8 x 14 inches) to the extent that the request exceeds $5.00 in cost to the Council. Requests not exceeding $5.00 in cost to the Council will be met without cost to the requester.

§ 701.313 Penalties.

Title 18 U.S.C. Sec. 1001, Crimes and Criminal Procedures, makes it a criminal offense, subject to a maximum fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than 5 years or both, to knowingly and willfully make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations in any matter within the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States. Section 552a(i)(3) of the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a(i)(3)) makes it a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $5,000, to knowingly and willfully request or obtain any record concerning an individual under false pretenses. Section 552a(i) (1) and (2) of the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a(i) (1) and (2) provide penalties for violations by agency employees of the Privacy Act or regulations established thereunder.

§ 701.314 Exemptions.

No Council records system or systems are exempted from the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552a as permitted under certain conditions by 5 U.S.C. 552a(j) and (k).

100 MILLIMETERS

INSTRUCTIONS Resolution is expressed in terms of the lines per millimeter recorded by a particular film under specified conditions. Numerals in chart indicate the number of lines per millimeter in adjacent "T-shaped" groupings.

In microfilming, it is necessary to determine the reduction ratio and multiply the number of lines in the chart by this value to find the number of lines recorded by the film. As an aid in determining the reduction ratio, the line above is 100 millimeters in length. Measuring this line in the film image and dividing the length into 100 gives the reduction ratio. Example: the line is 20 mm. long in the film image, and 100 20 = 5.

Examine "T-shaped" line groupings in the film with microscope, and note the number adjacent to finest lines recorded sharply and distinctly. Multiply this number by the reduction factor to obtain resolving power in lines per millimeter. Example: 7.9 group of lines is clearly recorded while lines in the 10.0 group are not distinctly separated. Reduction ratio is 5, and 7.9 x 5 = 39.5 lines per millimeter recorded satisfactorily. 10.0 x 5 = 50 lines per millimeter which are not recorded satisfactorily. Under the particular conditions, maximum resolution is between 39.5 and 50 lines per millimeter.

Resolution, as measured on the film, is a test of the entire photographic system, including lens, exposure, processing, and other factors. These rarely utilize maximum resolution of the film. Vibrations during exposure, lack of critical focus, and exposures yielding very dense negatives are to be avoided.
